Western Illuminated Manuscripts Paul Binski, Patrick Zutshi, 2011-03-31 Cambridge University Library's collection of illuminated manuscripts is of international significance. It originates in the medieval university and stands alongside the holdings of the colleges and the Fitzwilliam Museum. The University Library contains major European examples of medieval illumination from the ninth to the sixteenth centuries with acknowledged masterpieces of Romanesque Gothic and Renaissance book art as well as illuminated literary texts including the first complete Chaucer manuscript. This catalogue provides scholars and researchers easy access to the University Library's illuminated manuscripts evaluating the importance of many of them for the very first time. It contains descriptions of famous manuscripts for example the Life of Edward the Confessor attributed to Matthew Paris as well as hundreds of lesser known items. Beautifully illustrated throughout the catalogue contains descriptions of individual manuscripts with up to date assessments of their style origins and importance together with bibliographical references. An Environmental History of the Middle Ages is a unique and unprecedented cultural survey of attitudes towards the environment during this period. Humankind's relationship with the environment shifted gradually over time from a predominantly adversarial approach to something more overtly collaborative until a series of ecological crises in the late Middle Ages. With the advent of shattering events such as the Great Famine and the Black Death considered efflorescences of the climate downturn known as the Little Ice Age that is comparable to our present global warming predicament medieval people began to think of and relate to their natural environment in new and more nuanced ways. They now were made to be acutely aware of the consequences of human impacts upon the environment anticipating the cyclical new ecology approach of the modern world. Exploring the entire medieval period from 500 to 1500 and ranging across the whole of Europe from England and Spain to the Baltic and Eastern Europe John Aberth focuses his study on three key areas.

the natural elements of air water and earth the forest and wild and domestic animals Through this multi faceted lens An Environmental History of the Middle Ages sheds fascinating new light on the medieval environmental mindset It will be essential reading for students scholars and all those interested in the Middle Ages Debrett's Genealogical Peerage of Great Britain and Ireland John Debrett, 1844
