The Labour Debate An Investigation Into The Theory And Reality Of Capitalist Work:

The Labour Debate Ana C. Dinerstein, Mike Neary, 2002 Through a radical reinterpretation of Marx's social theory the contributors to this unique book revitalize the concept and reality of labour as the fundamental constitutive principle of the social world This refocus is inspired by the real changes in the forms of identity organization and struggle taking place in response to the global restructuring of capitalist work

The Labour Debate Michael Neary, 2017-12-15 This title was first published in 2002 In a world dominated by capitalist work labour working for a wage is the central unavoidable reality of modern social life and yet the category of labour remains underdeveloped in social sciences While waged labour in all its forms including unemployment and mass poverty has now invaded all aspects of social life labour appears to have disappeared as a practice that constitutes modern society This book revitalises labour as the fundamental constitutive principle of the social world through a radical reinterpretation of Marx's social theory Each chapter develops a central Marxist theme the continuing centrality of work class and classification commodity fetishism and primitive accumulation labour movements and the way in which labour moves unemployment subjectivity and class consciousness and the new forms of resistance developed in Europe Latin America and East Asia In conclusion the editors give an account of what they consider to be the main critical and practical problems and possibilities confronting the concept and reality of labour in the 21st century

The Future Is Now: An Introduction to Prefigurative Politics Lara Monticelli, 2024-02-13 The gloomy prospect of climate change and ecosystems collapse calls for an urgent rethinking of all aspects of our life how we work produce eat spend take care of each other relate to nature and organize our societies Prefigurative initiatives are attracting a growing amount of attention from scholars and activists precisely because they are envisioning alternative futures by embodying radically different ways of living in the present Thanks to the contribution of leading researchers The Future is Now represents the go to book for anyone seeking a comprehensive state of the art and thought provoking introduction to the thriving field of prefigurative politics

Critiquing Capitalism Today Frederick Harry Pitts, 2017-10-17 This book critically introduces two compelling contemporary schools of Marxian thought the New Reading of Marx of Michael Heinrich and Werner Bonefeld and the postoperaismo of Antonio Negri Each stake novel claims on Marx's value theory the first revisiting key categories of the critique of political economy through Frankfurt School critical theory the second calling the law of value into crisis with reference to Marx's rediscovered Fragment on Machines Today postcapitalist conceptualisations of a changing workplace excite interest in postoperaist projections of a crisis of measurability sparked by so called immaterial labour Using the New Reading of Marx to question this prospectus Critiquing Capitalism Today clarifies complex debates for newcomers to these cutting edge currents of critical thought looking anew at value money labour class and crisis

A World Beyond Work? Ana Cecilia Dinerstein, Frederick Harry Pitts, 2021-01-15 This book mounts a forceful critique of fashionable thinking on the possibility of a post work post capitalist society achieved through automation a basic income and the reduction of working hours to zero suggesting this popular utopia is nothing of the sort

The Challenge of Labour in China Chris King-chi Chan, 2012 China's economic success has been founded partly on relatively cheap labour. In recent years however there has been growing concern about wages and labour standards in China. This book examines how wages are bargained, fought over and determined in China, exploring how the pattern of labour conflict has changed over time.

Autonomy David Eden, 2016-04-08 Autonomy: Capital, Class and Politics explores and critiques one of the most dynamic terrains of political theory sometimes referred to as Autonomist Marxism or post-Operaismo. This theory shot to prominence with the publication of Empire by Hardt and Negri and has been associated with cutting edge developments in political and cultural practice yet there exists no work that critically examines it in its contemporary breadth. Taking three divergent manifestations of Autonomist Marxism found in the works of Antonio Negri and Paolo Virno, the Midnight Notes Collective and John Holloway, David Eden examines how each approach questions the nature of class and contemporary capitalism and how they extrapolate politics. Not only is such juxtaposition both fruitful and unprecedented but Eden then constructs critiques of each approach and draws out deeper common concerns. Suggesting a novel rethinking of emancipatory praxis, this book provides a much needed insight into the current tensions and clashes within society and politics.

Hegemony and the Politics of Labour Simon Tunderman, 2023-12-01 Hegemony and the Politics of Labour takes up a question that goes to the heart of the debate about politics, capitalism and discourse: how can labour relations and value production be understood as discursive processes? When they launched their poststructuralist discourse theory almost 40 years ago, Ernesto Laclau and Chantal Mouffe positioned the contingency of discourse and politics in sharp contrast to the deterministic tendencies of the Marxist critique of capitalism. Moving beyond Marxism as an essentialist, other discourse theory has since remained notoriously silent on questions related to the core workings of capitalism. This book is the first to bring the central categories of discourse theory into conversation with Marx's critique of political economy. Reintegrating both traditions, it argues that the social relations of labour in capitalism emerge as a hegemonic formation. Its contribution is to extend the reach of discourse theory to the capitalist economy, exploring how a post-Marxist account of labour, value and class connects to the contingent politics of populism. Hegemony and the Politics of Labour is an original and important contribution to the fields of discourse theory and critique of political economy.

Social Sciences for an Other Politics Ana Cecilia Dinerstein, 2017-01-20 This book opens up a unique intellectual space where eleven female scholar activists explore alternative forms of theorising social reality. These Women on the Verge demonstrate that a new radical subject, one that is plural, prefigurative, decolonial, ethical, ecological, communal and democratic, is in the making but is unrecognisable with old analytical tools. Of central concern to the book is the resistance of some social scientists, many of them critical theorists, to learning about this radical subject and to interrogating the concepts, methodologies and epistemologies used to grasp it. Echoing the experiential critique of capitalist colonial society that is taking place at the grassroots, the authors examine how to create hope decolonise critique and denaturalise society They also address the various dimensions of the social re production of life including women in development the commons and nature Finally they discuss the dynamics of prefiguration by social movements critiquing social movement theory in the process This thought provoking edited collection will appeal to students and scholars of gender studies social Marxist and Feminist theory postcolonial studies and politics
