The Land Called Holy Palestine In Christian History And Thought:

The Land Called Holy Robert Louis Wilken, 1992-01-01 Drawing on both primary texts and archaeology Wilken traces the Christian conception of a Holy Land from its origins in the Hebrew Bible to the Muslim conquest of Jerusalem in the seventh century The Rowman & Littlefield Handbook of Christianity in the Middle East Mitri Raheb, Mark A.

Lampton, 2020-12-15 This work represents the current and most relevant content on the studies of how Christianity has fared in the ancient home of its founder and birth Much has been written about Christianity and how it has survived since its migration out of its homeland but this comprehensive reference work reassesses the geographic and demographic impact of the dramatic changes in this perennially combustible world region The Rowman Littlefield Handbook of Christianity in the Middle East also spans the historical socio political and contemporary settings of the region and importantly describes the interactions that Christianity has had with other major minor religions in the region The Oxford Handbook of Medieval Christianity John Arnold, 2014 The Oxford Handbook of Medieval Christianity takes as its subject the beliefs practices and institutions of the Christian Church between 400 and 1500AD It addresses topics ranging from early medieval monasticism to late medieval mysticism from the material wealth of the Church to the spiritual exercises through which certain believers might attempt to improve their souls Each chapter tells a story but seeks also to ask how and why Christianity took particular forms at particular moments in history paying attention to both the spiritual and otherworldly aspects of religion and the material and political contexts in which they were often embedded This Handbook is a landmark academic collection that presents cutting edge interpretive perspectives on medieval religion for a wide academic audience drawing together thirty key scholars in the field from the United States the UK and Europe Notably the Handbook is arranged thematically and focusses on an analytical rather than narrative approach seeking to demonstrate the variety change and complexity of religion throughout this long period and the numerous different ways in which modern scholarship can approach it While providing a very wide ranging view of the subject it also offers an important agenda for further study in the field

Religious Conversion Ira Katznelson, Miri Rubin, 2016-04-08 Religious conversion a shift in membership from one community of faith to another can take diverse forms in radically different circumstances As the essays in this volume demonstrate conversion can be protracted or sudden voluntary or coerced small scale or large It may be the result of active missionary efforts instrumental decisions or intellectual or spiritual attraction to a different doctrine and practices In order to investigate these multiple meanings and how they may differ across time and space this collection ranges far and wide across medieval and early modern Europe and beyond From early Christian pilgrims to fifteenth century Ethiopia from the Islamisation of the eastern Mediterranean to Reformation Germany the volume highlights salient features and key concepts that define religious conversion particular the Jewish Muslim and Christian experiences By probing similarities and variations continuities and fissures the volume also extends the range of conversion to focus on matters less commonly examined such as competition for the meaning of sacred space changes to bodies patterns of gender and the ways conversion has been understood and narrated by actors and observers In so doing it promotes a layered approach that deepens inquiry by identifying and suggesting constellations of elements that both compose particular instances of conversion and help make systematic comparisons possible by indicating how to ask comparable questions of often vastly different situations From Nicaea to Chalcedon Frances M. Young, 2013-01-26 Created as a companion guide to a Patristics textbook From Nicaea to Chalcedon surveys a variety of writings to have occurred during one of the most significant periods in the formation of the Church from 265-466 It does not aim to cover the subject as a textbook would but aims to delve deeper into some of the characters who were involved with the Church or the Councils during this period Beginning with Eusebius of Caesarea and the first council of the Church at Nicaea and ending with Theodoret of Cyrrhus who is thought to have changed his view of Christology after the watershed Council of Chalcedon this unique text surveys some of the most influential characters to have shaped Church history and the formation of doctrine Surveying a mixture of significant literary figures laymen bishops and heretics this book presents biographical literary critical and theological information about each They are chosen either because they are important to the history of doctrine or because new material about them has thrown light upon their work or because they will broaden the reader's understanding of the culture and history of the period or of live issues in the church at the time Structured in five parts each part deals with a period of time and a sequence of characters so the book is easily followed in chronological order Added to this is the double bibliography which in this edition is fully updated Bibliography A details those texts in English of the original texts of antiquity whilst Bibliography B provides details of publications in English French and German which have appeared since 1960 2004 on or about the characters discussed in the body of the text The Saint's Saints Susan Weingarten, 2018-12-10 The Saint's Saints presents Jerome's world picture as seen through his saints Lives It analyses both his rhetoric and his descriptions of realia and the way he combines classical Christian and Jewish sources to re-write the biblical Holy Land as a new and Christian world for his readers Susan Weingarten looks at how Jerome dovetails his literary sources with his experience of the material world of the fourth century to write the Lives of the saints Paul Hilarion Malchus and Paula effectively using them to write the Life of Saint Jerome This is the first full length study of Jerome's saints Lives It widens the on going debate about mutual influences in Jewish and Christian literature in the fourth century and revises our picture of the historical geography of Palestine City of Gods: The New Jerusalem of John's Revelation in Early Christianity Nathan Betz, 2025-02-03 This is the story of the great and final city of John's Revelation Plumbing the first three centuries of Christian literature this careful narrative highlights the early significance of one of the most influential evocative and controversial images in Christian scripture Chronicling how dozens of early writers from Justin and Irenaeus to Origen and Methodius and from the Montanists to Tertullian Victorinus and Lactantius imagined and applied the coming New Jerusalem the study demonstrates how the city regardless of its myriad and often competing interpretations always pointed to the highest possible union of God and humanity both here and now and in the age to come

From Martyr to Mystic Ra'anana S. Boustany, 2005 This study provides a critical analysis of Nurcholish Madjid's attempt to interpret Islam within the framework of modern Indonesia. Special attention is paid to his ideas and activities during the years leading to the 1998 downfall of President Soeharto and the development towards democracy that followed. Although many of these ideas have been embraced by significant sectors of official Indonesia, they have also received harsh criticism from the representatives of more conservative interpretations of Islam and more recently from secular Muslims as well.

BOOK JACKET Conversion in Late Antiquity: Christianity, Islam, and Beyond Arietta Papaconstantinou, Daniel L. Schwartz, 2016-03-03 The papers in this volume were presented at a Mellon Sawyer Seminar held at the University of Oxford in 2009-2010 which sought to investigate side by side the two important movements of conversion that frame late antiquity to Christianity at its start and to Islam at the other end. Challenging the opposition between the two stereotypes of Islamic conversion as an intrinsically violent process and Christian conversion as a fundamentally spiritual one, the papers seek to isolate the behaviours and circumstances that made conversion both such a common and such a contested phenomenon. The spread of Buddhism in Asia in broadly the same period serves as an external comparator that was not caught in the net of the Abrahamic religions. The volume is organised around several themes reflecting the concerns of the initial project with the articulation between norm and practice, the role of authorities and institutions and the social and individual fluidity on the ground. Debates, discussions and the expression of norms and principles about conversion. Conversion are not rare in societies experiencing religious change and the first section of the book examines some of the main issues brought up by surviving sources. This is followed by three sections examining different aspects of how those principles were or were not put into practice: how conversion was handled by the state, how it was continuously redefined by individual ambivalence and cultural fluidity, and how it was enshrined through different forms of institutionalization. Finally, a topographical coda examines the effects of religious change on the iconic holy city of Jerusalem.

This Holy Place Steven Fine, 2016-10-17 Steven Fine's This Holy Place is a comprehensive treatment of the synagogue as a place of sanctity in Late Antiquity. This book is essential for an understanding of how the synagogue became the central Jewish communal institution and how it served as a substitute for the destroyed Jerusalem Temple during the long period of Jewish exile from the Land of Israel. Fine's mastery of both archaeological evidence and a wide variety of literary sources makes this a major contribution to the field. Lawrence H. Schiffman, New York University. Fine has mastered an unusually wide range of disciplines: rabbinical sources, archaeology, art and epigraphy. His book is thoroughly researched, well written and engagingly presented. It should be required reading for anyone interested in how this most central institution of Jewish life was perceived and presented. Lee I. Levine, Hebrew University of Jerusalem. I read This Holy Place with the greatest profit and enjoyment. It is an important contribution to the entire nature of late antique civilization and not only to Jewish studies. Peter Brown, Princeton University.

Steven Fine is the Dean Pinkhos Churgin Professor of Jewish History at Yeshiva University
