Money, Trade and Economic Growth Harry Gordon Johnson, 1962 The Family in Business Bernard Liebowitz, 2011-09-30 Family businesses are a breed unto themselves Though they share many features in common with other business models they possess unique traits that clearly differentiate them Similarly though consultation to family businesses is in many respects what other businesses experience when seeking assistance those features that set family business consultation apart are so distinctive that failure to honor and understand them can and does too often lead to disaster The needs of those family members seeking consultation share a portrait in some ways similar to those in non FOBs but in a majority of situations are so distinctive and potentially explosive that disaster lurks on the edges ready to appear if not respected The audience of this book are both consultants to family businesses and family members who are looking for such assistance Both require knowledge of each other's spheres of experience and perspective for effective consultation to occur for the consultant an awareness of family dynamics as intertwined with family business for family members a clarification of what can be expected and delivered In addition to the interface between family dynamics and the family's business we will explore the key tasks in family business consultation succession planning selection of the successor conflict resolution defining the role of family members in the business how to involve the management team in succession planning determining what happens after succession and building a board of advisors
