

Why do we need to talk about supervising sex offenders in the community?

- ⌘ Most end up released into the community.
- ⌘ Most are not under correctional supervision.
- ⌘ Some can be safely managed in the community.
- ⌘ Communities can help sex offenders reintegrate and thus prevent future victimization.
- ⌘ Helping sex offenders reintegrate into society helps the families (including possible victims) both financially and emotionally.

Supervising Offenders In The Community:

Environmental Corrections Lacey Schaefer, Francis T. Cullen, John E. Eck, 2016 A new paradigm for supervising offenders in the community Environmental Corrections is an innovative guide filled with rich insights and strategies for probation and parole officers to effectively integrate offenders back into the community and reduce recidivism Authors Lacey Schaefer Francis T Cullen and John E Eck move beyond traditional models for interventions and build directly on the applied focus of environmental criminology theories Using this approach the authors answer the question of what officers can do to decrease opportunities for an offender to commit a crime Readers will learn how to recognize and assess specific criminal opportunities in an offender's past and gain the tools and strategies they need to design an individualized supervision plan that channels offenders away from these criminogenic situations Managing Persistent and Serious Offenders in the Community Robin Moore, Emily Gray, Colin Roberts, Emily Taylor, Simon Merrington, 2013-06-17 Expectations of the ISSP Intensive Supervision and Surveillance Programme and the ICCP Intensive Control and Change Programme have been high but the evidence relating to their effectiveness is mixed This book seeks to address these issues providing a review of the literature and presents findings of a national evaluation of ISSP

Supervising Offenders in the Community Maurice Vanstone, 2004 This work provides an authoritative and original account of the history of probation and presents an original context for thinking about current policy and practice While the study is essentially UK focused it also provides a comparative perspective by exploring the history of probation in the USA The work is based in part upon original documents and interviews with retired and serving officers

Offender Supervision Fergus McNeill, Peter Raynor, Chris Trotter, 2012-08-06 This major new book brings together leading researchers in the field in order to describe and analyse internationally significant theoretical and empirical work on offender supervision and to address the policy and practice implications of this work within and across jurisdictions Arising out of the work of the international Collaboration of Researchers for the Effective Development of Offender Supervision CREDOS this book examines questions and issues that have arisen both within effectiveness research and from research on desistance from offending The book draws out the lessons that can be learned not just about what works but about how and why particular practices support desistance in specific jurisdictional cultural and local contexts Key themes addressed in this book include New directions in theory and paradigms for practice Staff skills and effective offender supervision Different issues and challenges in improving offender supervision The role of families significant others and social networks Understanding and supporting compliance within supervision Exploring the social political organisational and historical contexts of offender supervision Offender Supervision will be essential reading for academics undergraduate and postgraduate students policy makers managers and practitioners interested in offender supervision

Essentials of Community Corrections Robert D. Hanser, 2018-01-03 Essentials of Community Corrections offers students a concise and practical perspective on community corrections while emphasizing successful offender reentry through strong community partnerships Author Robert D Hanser draws on his expertise with offender treatment planning special needs populations and the comparative criminal justice fields to present a complete introduction to community corrections today A variety of practical pedagogical tools offer students insights into the daily lives of those working in the field encouraging students to start thinking like practitioners Key Features What Would You Do assignments give students the chance to apply what they have learned by analyzing real world scenarios to determine the best course of action for common challenges in community supervision Applied Theory inserts throughout the book provide a focused application of a specific theory to particular issues in community corrections Cross National Perspective boxes demonstrate common themes in community corrections around the world as well as different approaches used in other countries Applied Exercises encourage students to reflect on their understanding of each chapter s content and to demonstrate their competence in using the information techniques and processes that they have learned Food for Thought features at the end of each chapter guide students through a recent research study related to community corrections and include follow up questions to help students think critically Sharing Your Opinion questions at the end of each chapter empower students to express their own views on the issues covered in the text The free open access Student Study site features carefully selected video links access to SAGE journal articles and more Instructors

National standards for the supervision of offenders in the community ,2002 The Enforcement of Offender Supervision in Europe Miranda Boone,Niamh Maguire,2017-11-09 This book provides a comparative analysis of the process of breach across ten different European jurisdictions by identifying and elaborating a number of key analytical themes through which the different systems can be compared and evaluated It is informed by and hopes to advance the research activities of the COST Action IS1106 on Offender Supervision in Europe particularly the Action s work on developing new comparative methodologies to examine the process of decision making involved in the breaching of offenders for non compliance This volume consists of country chapters and thematic chapters Analyses are based on exhaustive reviews of the literature available in each jurisdiction as well as the results of an empirical pilot study to provide a unique and valuable insight into current practice as well as enhancing our understanding of the contingencies and vagaries of the processes of breach as they exist in both civil and common law European jurisdictions The key themes and emerging concerns that are explored include the roles and responsibilities of the different actors involved in the breach process the degree and nature of discretion exercised by decision makers and legitimacy due process and procedural requirements of breach processes both from a pan European and from a comparative perspective This book will be of interest to criminal lawyers and criminologists policy makers criminal justice practitioners probation workers and students of criminal justice studies across Europe Comparative insight into the decision making processes of breach across Europe will also be of interest to American Canadian and Australian audiences seeking comparisons with their own systems
