Revitalising Leadership Suze Wilson, Stephen Cummings, Brad Jackson, Sarah Proctor-Thomson, 2017-07-20 Revitalising leadership connects leadership theory and practice with context It argues that the universal prescriptions favoured by most leadership scholars ignore the reality that context always matters in leadership practice and so it should matter in leadership theorizing too Addressing this gap the book offers a novel framework that enables the development of context sensitive leadership theory and practice This framework directs theoretical and practical attention to the key challenges for leadership in different organizational contexts It involves developing a specific purpose for leadership in a given context as well as formulating the values norms and domains of action which should guide leadership efforts in that context Determining these various matters then informs the role responsibilities rights behaviours and attributes relevant to leaders and followers for that context and the focus purpose and boundaries of the leader follower relationship Deploying this framework six in depth illustrative theorisations are provided showing how leadership practice might best take shape in the contexts of supervisory management HR management innovation and entrepreneurship strategy governance and leadership studies itself Revitalising leadership will appeal to diverse audiences due to its theoretical novelty its diversity of illustrative examples its practice focussed orientation and its clear engaging style These include leadership scholars concerned with the lack of attention being paid to context in leadership theorizing organizational scholars wanting to learn how leadership thinking can be brought to bear on the different management functions the book explores practitioners seeking leadership ideas that are tailored to the context they lead and follow in and those involved in MBA or leadership development programmes who are looking to combine the personal reflection sought by such programmes with a thoughtful analysis of the context in which their leadership practice takes place Managing for World Class Safety James Melville Stewart, 2012-11-28 Despite the extensive literature on safety few tools have been available to help managers quantitatively assess the level of safety management and the quality of the safety practices in organizations In his consulting practice Dr Jim Stewart a former executive at DuPont developed such a method crafting a safety survey centering on a comprehensive questionnaire for employees at all levels that reveals the true level of corporate commitment to safety Managing for World Class Safety first describes the model of safety management that underpins the questionnaire and then demonstrates how this innovative procedure illuminates critical intangibles like management commitment the enforcement of rules worker involvement and injury investigation The central part of this book is the description of research at the University of Toronto that applies the questionnaire in comprehensive research at five of the world's safest companies and five with very poor safety The questionnaire polled 700 people in the ten companies measuring the level of more than twenty key elements such as The workers perception of the priority given to safety The belief that all injuries can be prevented The extent to which line management takes responsibility accountability for safety How well safety rules are followed and enforced The frequency and quality of safety meetings The level of recognition to reinforce safety excellence In every element the contrast between the responses from the very safe companies and those from the companies with poor safety was dramatic clearly depicting where the former succeed and the latter fail By developing quantitative benchmark data Stewart reasons that it will be easier to convince reluctant management to undertake the fundamental change necessary for a step change in their company performance Managing for World Class Safety promises a revolutionary new approach to workplace safety improvement for corporate leaders safety professionals and regulators
