The Boy Who Skipped Jeff Adkins,2011

Television, Aesthetics and Reality Anthony Barker,2009-03-26 This new collection of essays seeks to focus on three areas where television has recently been in an intriguing state of flux Taking as our background the emergence of multimedia conglomerates and cash rich cable channels we look at the way old national terrestrial channels and the brash new internationally commercialized ones have innovated in the domain of television programming In all there are fourteen original essays an introduction to the book s theme by the editor and a foreword by Professor Annette Hill Section one Realizing the Real looks at contemporary patterns of television consumption and the presentational styles which package the real in news current affairs and other live television formats Essays on rhetorical strategies in the news coverage of the war in Iraq on national and international inflections of Sky News in Europe and coverage of the recent EURO2004 football tournament as well the multi channel reporting of a prominent paedophilia scandal are presented in this section They all analyse the extent to which the grounded and the local are threatened and distorted by hegemonic forces in media today The findings of a comprehensive new study of Portuguese social practices and viewing habits are also featured in this section Section Two Realizing Performance addresses the way new trends in reality programming and other documentary practices have impacted on fiction and entertainment television There are essays on the recent wave of British television comedy heavily influenced by TV newsmagazine and fly on the wall documentary styles and two pieces on new American series 24 and CSI which have revolutionized the narrative parameters and evidential base for thrillers and cop shows respectively coming up with new ways to perform space time and science Finally there is an essay on Nigel Kneale s The Year of the Sex Olympics 1968 a survivor from the era of the single play who seems to anticipate the future of television in reality based gameshow style entertainment Each of these essays shows that the success of these programmes is dependent on a fresh restylization of the conventions and formulas which govern mainstream television programming They therefore see the representation of the real in fiction as primarily an aesthetic reappraisal Section Three Performing the Real looks at the explosion in reality television programming itself It focuses on the coming to pass of 70s and 80s theorists visions of both a passive voyeuristic society and one increasingly at peace with the notion of surveillance We have been progressively acculturated to watching and being watched Orwellian anxiety has given way to Baudrillardian acceptance of the message and the medium fused in a new order of mediated reality or hyperreality Essays refer specifically to the globalization of shows and formats and their local inflections and to coverage of reality shows in print media and on the net There are essays on The Bachelor and gender stereotyping Joe Millionaire and the conventions of melodrama and two on Big Brother one on the problems of communication within a sealed environment and another on its reception in Portugal Concerns about the self and its authenticity are consistency raised in all the essays of this section

Dad and Mom's Country Wisdom Jim Geyer, 2012-05-04 Author Jim Geyer says he has two blessings in life The first blessing was godly parents who daily instilled in him biblical and moral values by both word and example The second blessing was being raised on a farm where he was taught informed by God s marvelous creation Travel with Jim Geyer to a time when a man s word was his bond when a handshake was all that was needed to consummate an agreement a time when doors were seldom locked and windows were often open to catch the warm evening summer breeze A time when growing up was a fun carefree time Consider today s culture and you immediately see a marked decline in the strength of families who each evening gather around the supper table There is an observable decrease in honesty integrity and accountability Dad Mom s Country Wisdom offers pleasant memories of your parents childhood This book will bless you with many Scriptures that have and still do relate to our daily experiences and challenges you in your personal family and business life Playing with the Grown-ups Sophie Dahl,2009-02-10 Kitty loves living at the isolated Hay House with her doting grandparents but it cannot provide the adventure and excitement that her restless bohemian mother Marina craves When a guru sees Marina s future in New York Kitty is torn from her home and bounced from place to place first a colorless boarding school then an American ashram and finally back to an unfamiliar England But soon no god man or martini can staunch Marina s hunger for a happiness that proves all too elusive And Kitty turning fifteen must choose whether to play dangerous games with the grown ups or put herself first With this witty and poignant debut novel Sophie Dahl ably carries on the literary legacy of her grandfather the beloved children s book author Roald Dahl
