Robert J. Downing, Ramesh Ramankutty, Jitendra J. Shah, 1997-01-01 Asia's rapid economic growth has fueled a growing appetite for commercial energy which is satisfied by fossil fuels that emit pollutants. These pollutants are oxidized and transported into the atmosphere creating acidic depositions known as acid rain that can damage foliage, soils and surface waters. At current energy consumption growth rates by the year 2000 sulfur dioxide emissions from Asia will surpass the emissions of North America and Europe combined. RAINS ASIA is an assessment tool developed by the World Bank, the Asian Development Bank and donors to study the implications of alternative energy development strategies for air pollution and acid rain and to help identify cost effective abatement methods. This report provides an overview of the model and some results of analyses that have been conducted as part of the RAINS ASIA program. Advances in Economics and Econometrics: Theory and Applications Econometric Society. World Congress, 1997-02-20 These books comprise papers examining the latest developments in economic theory, applied economics and econometrics presented at the Seventh World Congress of the Econometric Society in Tokyo in August 1995. The topics were carefully selected to represent the most active fields in the discipline over the past five years. Written by the leading authorities in their fields, each paper provides a unique survey of the current state of knowledge in economics. Designed to make the material accessible to a general audience of economists, these volumes should be helpful to anyone with a good undergraduate training in economics who wishes to follow new ideas and tendencies in the subject. Deep Crises and Reform Michael Bruno, 1996-01-01 This paper was first presented as my address as president to the 1995 Congress of the International Economic Association in Tunis. Class Action Joy Miller Del Rosso, Tonia Marek, 1996-01-01 Content Description Includes bibliographical references p. Are Financial Sector Weaknesses Undermining the East Asian Miracle? Stijn Claessens, Thomas C. Glaessner, 1997 IFC Technical Paper No. 3 Inflation plagues many of the developing countries in which the International Finance Corporation (IFC) operates. To date, however, little is known about the impact of inflation on the financial statements of firms in developing countries. The authors of this study have developed a simple algorithm based on the method of inflation accounting used in Brazil and have applied it to the accounts of listed companies in Turkey for the period 1982-90. The paper documents an inflation-induced bias in financial statements and introduces a methodology for adjusting corporate financial statements for inflation effects. World Bank Publications Update World Bank, 1987 Decentralization of Education Cathy Gaynor, 1998-01-01 This book is based on a review of the literature on decentralization and teacher management. The focus is on basic formal education, mainly the primary and junior secondary levels of schooling, and on presenting a rationale for decentralizing teacher management. The book presents three models of decentralized teacher management, explores the different functions of teacher management and how these functions are handled in centralized and decentralized systems, examines the design of decentralization reforms in various countries and discusses the political feasibility and legal implications of decentralizing teacher management. Since reliable data on decentralizing teacher management are limited, the changes that are described changes that will affect the quality of teaching or learning are tentative Although recommendations for planners and policymakers are included the book emphasizes the viability of the approaches taken so far and the available evidence regarding their efficacy Contains 70 references RJM      Environmental and Resource Economics in the World of the Poor Partha Dasgupta,1997 Addresses the issue of the relationship between economic development and the protection of environmental and natural resources Looks at the global dimensions of environmental problems and their implications for developing countries      Decentralization of Education Ketleen Florestal,Robb Cooper,1997-01-01 In practice most education systems have both centralized and decentralized elements Planners involved in a decentralizing reform must identify which components of the system are more appropriately managed at the central level and which at the local level This book is intended to inform education policymakers planners and practitioners about international experience in the legal aspects of decentralizing basic education It also provides a basic understanding of how laws and regulations can be used for education reform For purposes of the discussion decentralization is used to describe efforts to transfer decision making power in basic education from the administrative center of a country to authorities closer to users The term is also used in a more technical sense to describe one of the many forms this type of reform can take and in this sense it is contrasted with deconcentration and devolution as educational reforms The first section examines the general legal aspects of decentralization and the second looks more closely at decentralization laws and regulations The third section is in effect a checklist of items that should be included in decentralization laws and the fourth section provides a road map to help the planner prepare and implement the laws required for reform Although an effort has been made to keep the discussion general enough for use in many countries the analysis is based on the legal systems of the Western world or those that they inspired Contains 35 references SLD      Handbook of Environmental Economics Karl-Goran Maler,Jeffrey R. Vincent,2003-05-20 The Handbook of Environmental Economics focuses on the economics of environmental externalities and environmental public goods Volume I examines environmental degradation and policy responses from a microeconomic institutional standpoint Its perspective is dynamic including a consideration of the dynamics of natural systems and global with attention paid to issues in both rich and poor nations In addition to chapters on well established topics such as the theory and practice of pollution regulation it includes chapters on new areas of environmental economics research related to common property management regimes population and poverty mechanism design political economy of regulation experimental evaluations of policy instruments and technological change      Rural Development Abstracts ,1995      African Studies Review ,1996
