innovation system development in the context of small catching up economies Smallness path dependency and latecomer status of such economies create some inherent limitations for their innovation systems but these special characteristics can offer advantages as well For example smallness is often related with increased flexibility and shorter reaction times while latecomers can benefit from earlier experiences of their more advanced neighbors Path dependency highlights the fact that the innovation system development processes are considerably influenced by the past experience of a particular country or region By incorporating these features into an integrated analysis the authors address such questions as What special features characterize the innovation system development in small catching up economies What are the causes for innovation success or failure How do organizational capabilities and internationalization tendencies relate to company level innovations What is the role of human capital and social factors in the innovation process How can various policies support innovation in an integrated manner Drawing from research about Europe Asia and Latin America the authors provide readers with a systemic view of the innovation system development in small catching up economies They discuss the unique features of this development and contribute to an in depth understanding of various determinants and their impacts on the innovation process The policy implications will offer a set of normative guidelines for enhancing innovation system development

Trusting Teachers with School Success Kim Farris-Berg,Edward J. Dirkswager,Amy Junge,2013 Lately our nation s strategy for improving our schools is mostly limited to getting tough with teachers Blaming teachers for poor outcomes we spend almost all of our energy trying to control teachers behavior and school operations But what if all of this is exactly the opposite of what is needed What if teachers are the answer and not the problem What if trusting teachers and not controlling them is the key to school success Examining the experiences of teachers who are already trusted to call the shots this book answers What would teachers do if they had the autonomy not just to make classroom decisions but to collectively with their colleagues make the decisions influencing whole school success Decisions such as school curriculum how to allocate the school budget and whom to hire Teachers with decision making authority create the schools that many of us profess to want They individualize learning Their students are active not passive learners who gain academic and life skills The teachers create school cultures that are the same as those in high performing organizations They accept accountability and innovate and make efficient use of resources These promising results suggest it s time to trust teachers   ICT Systems and Sustainability Milan Tuba,Shyam Akashe,Amit Joshi,2023-10-31 This book proposes new technologies and discusses future solutions for ICT design infrastructures as reflected in high quality papers presented at the 8th International Conference on ICT for Sustainable Development ICT4SD 2023 held in Goa India on 3 4 August 2023 The book covers the topics such as big data and data mining data fusion IoT programming toolkits and frameworks green communication systems and network use of ICT in smart cities sensor networks and embedded system network and information security wireless and optical networks security trust and privacy routing and control protocols cognitive radio and networks and natural language processing

Bringing together experts from different countries the book explores a range of central issues from an international perspective   The Virtual Hospital Paul Grant,2024-09-30 This book describes the current picture of healthcare and how medicine can develop in the 21st century to provide traditional hospital services differently with the use of clinical digital transformation Technological and social developments are enabling doctors patients tech developers entrepreneurs and policy makers to recognise that care delivery can be achieved in novel and interesting ways far from the classic bricks and mortar approach There are multiple triggers for change including the ageing population limitations of existing clinical capacity and the COVID pandemic accelerating the use of remote technologies along with patient demands and expectations being higher than ever With the speed of development of so many new technologies it is hard to keep track of them plus there is a need to scrutinize their claims and true potential for significant improvements in care delivery The increasing global emphasis on the use of virtual wards a way of remotely monitoring patients in their own homes and freeing up hospital beds raises questions about the use of such systems of care and how they may be prone to safety failures and higher costs The rush to use them needs to be balanced with the right level of evaluation and assurance The Virtual Hospital explores the many approaches by which traditional medical practice is changing and the potential for new technologies everything from biohacking to AI to disrupt the existing paradigm The goal is to assess and challenge whether the claims for such developments are robust and beneficial rather than merely praising how shiny and clever the future looks Consequently this book is of enormous value to all involved in the provision of care from physicians nurses and healthcare planners to data scientists and healthcare leaders in all clinical settings   Sports Innovation Management Vanessa Ratten,2017-08-23 This book introduces readers to emerging issues of sport innovation The book focuses on the role of innovation in the sports context and how we can leverage opportunities that arise from networks and optimize resources by identifying where they are most effective It helps to identify the conditions and procedures that emergent business ventures need to be formed The book is a useful reference for sports organizations athletes and government organizations promoting the use of innovation to generate competitive advantage in the global marketplace   Concepts, Policy Elements, and Regional Strategies for the Development of Institutional Innovation ,   Innovations in Practice and Service Delivery Across the Lifespan David E. Biegel,Arthur Blum,1999 This text will introduce practitioners and students to recent strategies and innovations to effectively deal with a range of problems across the lifespan such as homelessness alcohol and drug abuse teen violence and mental illness   Fostering Innovation in the Public Sector OECD,2017-04-25 Public sector innovation does not happen by itself problems need to be identified and ideas translated into projects that can be tested implemented and shared This report looks at how governments can create an environment that fosters innovation   Leadership, Management, and Adoption Techniques for Digital Service Innovation Sandhu, Kamaljeet,2019-12-27 There are many advantages to incorporating digital services in business including improved data management higher transparency personalized customer service and cost reduction Innovation is a key driver to how digital services are formed developed delivered and used by consumers employees and employers The largest differentiator comes from having a digitally empowered workforce Companies increasingly need digital workers to establish greater digital skills to bear on every activity Business leaders especially need to steer digital priorities drive innovation and develop digital platforms Leadership Management and Adoption Techniques for Digital Service Innovation is an essential reference source that discusses the adoption of digital services in multiple industries and presents digital technologies to address and further advance innovation to drive successful solutions Featuring research on topics such as cloud computing digital business and value creation this book is ideally designed for managers leaders executives directors IT consultants academicians researchers industry professionals students and practitioners
