Factors Affecting Graft Survival After Renal Transplant: Prevention of Failure and Follow up Strategies

Laila-Yasmin Mani, Sing-Chung Li, 2025-03-05 Renal transplantation considerably increases patient life expectancy and quality of life compared to dialysis it is regarded as the gold therapeutic strategy for patients with end stage renal disease In addition to the survival rate in transplant patients allograft failure is a significant source of worry since graft loss raises mortality and can add pressure to a community healthcare system Age race gender and immunologic compatibility of the recipient and donor are preoperative variables that affect function of graft and its survival Additionally a number of post operative factors including post operative immunosuppressive therapy and the duration of cold and warm ischemia have an impact on graft function and rejection However in contrast to short term survival rates long term graft survival has not met recovery expectations despite successful kidney transplant surgery But following transplantation post transplant patients typically experience post transplant cardiovascular and cardiovascular related mortality
