The Gift Of Creation:

The Gift of Creation Matyas Szalay, 2024-11-07 What does it mean to consider creation as a divine gift In the post Laudato Si era it has become more important than ever to rediscover and further develop a Catholic philosophy and theology of creation To that end a diversity of scholars has produced this collection of essays that examine our relationship with the Creator and the created world through a variety of lenses The authors of these chapters engage timeless visionaries such as St Augustine and St Hildegard of Bingen as well as more contemporary voices like Edith Stein St Teresa Benedicta of the Cross and Ferdinand Ulrich as they endeavor to deepen our understanding of Catholic teaching on creation and the nature of being Featuring contributions from internationally recognized philosophers and theologians including Rocco Buttiglione William Cavanaugh Salvador Antuñano and Alea and others this volume seeks to challenge the reader in an examination of what it means to receive the gift of creation The Gift of Creation Norman Wirzba, 2009 If Creation Is a Gift Mark Manolopoulos, 2009-02-13 What if our world were considered a gift Extending postmodern gift theory to ecological and ecotheological concerns Mark Manolopoulos explores how creation the what is can be seen as a gift Creation when viewed in a radically egalitarian way is the matrix of all material things human otherwise than human or humanly manufactured Utilizing and critiquing the work of Jacques Derrida and Jean Luc Marion Manolopoulos argues that the gift is an irresolvable paradox marked by the contradictory elements of excess gratuity linearity and exchange gratitude return Philosophical and theological reflections on the gift become entangled in its paradoxical tension but ultimately both aspects must be respected and reflected When it comes to the creation gift we should vacillate between responses like letting be enjoyment utility and return Elegantly written and thought provoking If Creation Is a Gift both contributes to the ongoing debate on the gift and provides a fresh philosophical and theological consideration of the environmental crisis Creation: A Guide for the Perplexed Simon Oliver, 2017-06-29 This addition to our popular Guides for the Perplexed series tackles a subject that is enjoying renewed debate Christianity along with Judaism and Islam claims that the universe is not a brute fact It is created But what do we mean by creation Do we mean that the universe is designed Is it the product of an evolutionary process How are creatures related to God and does God act within creation Simon Oliver begins with the background to the Christian theology of creation in Greek philosophy and the Old Testament This provides a route into understanding the claim that we are part of a created order that is also the theatre of God's providential action He examines different understandings of creation including creation out of nothing and the analogy of being with close reference to the work of patristic and medieval theologians such as Augustine and Thomas Aquinas This leads to an historical overview of the relationship between theological philosophical and scientific approaches to creation in the modern period Some of the ethical issues concerning humanity's place within and treatment of creation and our environment are also examined A distinctive yet traditional theology of creation is proposed focused on the concepts of gift and participation as ways of understanding more fully the meaning and implications of the claim that the universe is created Creation and Religious Pluralism David Cheetham, 2020 In the well worn debates about religious pluralism and the theology of religions there have been many different rubrics used to account for comprehend or engage with the religious other This book is chiefly a work of Christian theology and seeks to bring the doctrine of creation and the theology of religions into dialogue and in so doing it comes at things from a different direction than other works It contains an extensive exploration of the doctrine of creation and asks how it might intervene distinctively in these discourses to produce a new conceptual and practical topography It will consider inter religious engagement from the perspective of the doctrine of I creatio ex nihilo I that forms the dominant view in the Jewish Christian and Islamic traditions The book pays close consideration to anthropology i e creaturehood the quotidian and wisdom the idea of sabbath human action and work and vivifying the immanent through a consideration of some representative phenomenologists The book will develop these ideas in a more practical direction by considering sacraments and rituals in the public sphere as well as attempting to describe the kind of creational politics that might bring traditions into dialogue Whilst these themes challenge more conventional ways of considering relations between religions such themes because they are different from concerns commonly found in the literature can also be profitably engaged with across the spectrum of opinion i e exclusivist or pluralist etc Thus whilst the position adopted in this work is I creatio ex nihilo I part of the motivation is to review the ways in which this focus helps to broaden rather than limit the discussion Kingdom Come Jason Byassee, Jeremy Kidwell, Jonathan Wilson-Hartgrove, Leah Wilson-Hartgrove, 2022-09-19 For four decades the Rev Dr Jonathan R Wilson has cultivated an imagination for kingdom realism as a pastor teacher theologian and friend To celebrate his seventieth birthday Kingdom Come has gathered reflections from fellow theologians popular authors poets and practitioners to mark both the range of Wilson s influence on the Christian church and the consistency of his prayer and work for God s kingdom to come here on earth as it is in heaven With contributions from Isaac Villegas Reggie Williams Willie Jennings Stanley Hauerwas Greg Jones Tim Dickau Chandra Mallampalli Reinhard Hutter Axel Schoeber John Berkman Phil Kenneson AKM Adam Margaret Adam Craig Smith Jen Harvey Jeff Greenman Loren Wilkinson Marilyn McEntyre Anna Robbins Terry Smith Munyamasoko Gato Corneil Mike Pears James Purves Danny Zacharias Mike Swalm Susan Phillips Ross Lockhart Ross Hastings Matt Humphrey Peter Harris Anthony Brown Phil Rolnick Andrew Shepherd Chris Hall Joy Banks Christopher Johnston Soohwan Park The Gift of Creation Virginia Vrobesky, 1992 What is a believer s responsibility toward the earth and what isn t How does God view the natural world In eight sessions designed for lively group discussions around Biblical text Vrobesky provides information about common secular and Christian positions and invites groups to discover for themselves how they should view and treat the environment Knowing Creation Zondervan, 2018-05-08 It is hard to think of an area of Christian theology that provides more scope for interdisciplinary conversation than the doctrine of creation This doctrine not only invites reflection on an intellectual concept it calls for contemplation of the endlessly complex dynamic and fascinating world that human being inhabit But the possibilities for wide ranging discussion are such that scholars sometimes end up talking past one another Productive conversation requires mutual understanding of insights across disciplinary boundaries Knowing Creation offers an essential resource for helping scholars from a range of fields to appreciate one another s concerns and perspectives In so doing it offers an important step forward in establishing a mutually enriching dialogue that addresses amongst others the following key questions Who is the God who creates Why does God create What is creation What does it mean to recognize that a theology of creation speaks of a natural world that is subject to the observation of the natural sciences What does it mean to talk about both a natural order and a created order What are the major tensions that have arisen between the natural sciences and Christian thinking historically and why How can we move beyond such tensions to a positive and constructive conversation while also avoiding facile notions such as a god of the gaps Is it feasible for a natural scientist to maintain a belief in God s continuing creative activity In what ways might a naturalistic understanding of the natural world be said to be limited How can biblical studies theology philosophy history and science talk better together about these questions At a time when the doctrine of creation and even a mention of creation has been disparaged due to its supposed associations with anti scientific dogma and theological offerings sometimes risk appearing a little more than reactionary exercises in naive apologetics ill informed by science or distinctly wary of engagement with it it is more important than ever to offer a cross disciplinary resource that can voice a positive account of a Christian theology of creation and do so as a genuinely broad ranging conversation about science and faith Contributors to Knowing Creation include Marilyn McCord Adams Denis Alexander Susan Eastman C Stephen Evans Peter van Inwagen Christoph Schwobel John H Walton Francis Watson and more X CREATION AND COSMOLOGY Rudolf B. Brun,2009 A collection of essays that except one were published either in Zygon or in Communio The Theology of Louis-Marie Chauvet Glenn Ambrose,2016-02-24 The Theology of Louis Marie Chauvet provides a much needed accessible introduction to the philosophical and theological foundations of Chauvet s sacramental theology Particular attention is given to his appropriation of Heidegger and use of the Social Sciences to elucidate the nature of the symbolic exchange that lies at the heart of the sacramental tradition This book highlights the prophetic deconstructive and even iconoclastic message for contemporary society and the church implicit in the Eucharistic liturgy Common conceptions of God s presence and sacrifice are critically analyzed and the connection between sacramental worship and ethics is emphasized
