The Lurking Evil Racial And Ethnic Conflict On The College Campus:

The Lurking Evil Robert Hively, 1990 This publication represents the views of a group of university presidents who met on the White House grounds and at the National Capital to survey the rise in violence in all American universities and to assist in appraising and solving the pressing problems that arise from racial and ethnic tensions on the country's campuses. Titles and authors of individual papers include Spirit of a Campus Anthony Ceddia Washington Forum on Campus Violence Some Points of View Robert Hess The College as a Racial Model for Society Jimmy Jenkins The Identification and Elimination of Subtle Forms of Discrimination on the College Campus John LaTourette Extinguishing at the Flashpoint Craig Willis A Case Study of the President's Role in Creating a Healthy Racial Ethnic Climate Kenneth Shaw Recruitment of Underrepresented Faculty and Administrators James Rosser A Case Study Campus Action and Video Film Still Burning Michael Hooker A Design for Diversity Proactive Planning to Reduce Ethnic Tensions and to Enhance Human Resources Eugene Hughes Preventive Planning at the System Level Bruce Johnstone A Model A University's Strategies and Actions from Sit In to Resolution Donald Gerth Strategies to Accommodate Change John Welty Ethnically and Racially Diverse Faculty A Response to Change Dale Nitzschke et al Suppression and Controls on American College Campuses David Tatel The First Amendment and Racial Harassment on Campus A Selective Bibliography David Tatel et al and Now Liberals Are Censors George Will JDD

Campus Violence Leighton Whitaker, Jeffrey Pollard, 2014-02-04 This timely book shows how the rapidly increasing phenomenon of violence in the U S is invading college and university campuses. Campus Violence shows what colleges, universities, and other schools can do to deconstruct the violence culture and begin to educate for a better society. The chapters assist educators in determining the nature of both external and internal violence and what to do about it. Readers will benefit from the experiences of many institutions of higher learning as communicated by various outstanding contributors to this book. By becoming sharply aware of the issues and solutions, administrators may engage in better, more realistic long range planning as well as get help for the myriad daily questions and problems inherent to running today's campuses. As a whole, the book is devoted to highlighting important kinds, causes, and cures of violence destructive to living and learning opportunities. The contributors address the full range of issues from conceptualization to practical ways of handling violent behaviors. Section I Addresses the broadest, most far reaching views of campus violence: the conceptualization of campus violence, administration perspectives, the destructive concoction of alcohol and other drugs, and morbidity and the commercial promotion of mindless violence. Section II Addresses specific kinds of violence. Section III Focuses on the most frequent immediate perpetrators: male college students and how their behavior can be dealt with and improved. Section IV Focuses very specifically on how the college counselor or psychotherapist can be a consultant to staff and faculty in regard to disruptive students. Campus Violence depicts the need to nurture and develop atmospheres for learning, respect, and constructive action, arguably the most pressing topic in education today. Counselors, therapists, security officers deans and presidents can begin to counter the rapidly increasing phenomenon of violence in American colleges and universities and cultivate a positive leadership atmosphere The implications of the contributing authors reach to the primary and secondary schools in our nation the training grounds for college life and education and provoke some questions which begin to create a better learning environment

Racism in Contemporary America Meyer Weinberg, 1996-05-23

Racism in Contemporary America is the largest and most up to date bibliography available on current research on the topic It has been compiled by award winning researcher Meyer Weinberg who has spent many years writing and researching contemporary and historical aspects of racism Almost 15 000 entries to books articles dissertations and other materials are organized under 87 subject headings In addition there are author and ethnic racial indexes Several aids help the researcher access the materials included In addition to the subject organization of the bibliography entries are annotated whenever the title is not self explanatory An author index is followed by an ethnic racial index which makes it convenient to follow a single group through any or all the subject headings This is a source book for the serious study of America s most enduring problem as such it will be of value to students and researchers at all levels and in most disciplines

An excellent book Takagi takes a very complex and sensitive subject racial politics and shows through a careful analysis that changes in the discourse about Asian American admissions have facilitated a retreat from race in the area of affirmative action This book will appeal to an audience significantly wider than a typical academic one David Karen Bryn Mawr College Charges by Asian Americans that the top universities in the United States used quotas to limit the enrollment of Asian American students developed into one of the most controversial public controversies in higher education since the Bakke case In Retreat from Race Dana Takagi follows the debates over Asian American admissions at Berkeley UCLA Brown Stanford Harvard and Princeton She explains important developments in the politics of race changes in ethnic coalitions reconstruction of the debate over affirmative action and the conservative challenge to the civil rights agenda of the 1960s Takagi examines the history and significance of the Asian American admissions controversy on American race relations both inside and outside higher education Takagi s central argument is that the Asian American admissions controversy facilitated a subtle but important shift in affirmative action policy away from racial preferences toward class preferences She calls this development a retreat from race Takagi suggests that the retreat signals not only an actual policy shift but also the increasing reluctance on the part of intellectuals politicians and policy analysts to identify and address social problems as explicitly racial problems Moving beyond the university setting Takagi explores the political significance of the retreat from race by linking Asian American admissions to other controversies in higher education and in American politics including the debates over political correctness and multiculturalism In her assessment the retreat from race is likely to fail at its promise of easing racial tension and promoting racial equality

Resources in Education, 1990-10 Recruitment and Retention of Race Group Students in American Higher Education C. Dwayne Wilson, Bernard Lubin, Barbara Below, 2008-01-30 Challenges to American college and university affirmative action and racial and ethnic diversity initiatives were resolved by the Supreme Court in its 2003 decisions in the University of Michigan case Those decisions affirmed as a compelling interest the attainment of racially diverse student bodies in higher education The Court's decisions and the predicted increases over the next decade in the numbers of race and ethnic group high school graduates have reinforced and in some cases strengthened the resolve of college and university officials that the positive returns from affirmative action and racial diversity are real and worth pursuing The purpose of this annotated bibliography is to provide a record of the research scholarship and programs for recruitment and retention of African American Alaskan Native American Indian Asian American Latino and Pacific Islander students at the college and university levels It is structured to facilitate access by college and university administrators professionals consultants researchers and students who require information on recruitment and retention to aid in their decision making about strategy related issues and scientific and creative processes in the area This bibliography covers more than forty years of literature and contains 969 citations organized into five chapters Youth Violence I. M. Rachia, 1999 This bibliography comprises a selection of Library of Congress catalog records for some 1 500 books periodicals and websites related to youth violence Anyone wanting such a bibliography could probably compile it from the Library of Congress web site and the deficiencies in conception and design of this product defy understanding A brief preface sounds an alarm no one should be surprised that youth violence lurks behind every school house door but sets forth no criteria for selection of citations no indication of time frame purpose or audience Entries are arranged alphabetically by title within chapters on school violence guns and youth gangs campus violence dating and violence and periodicals and Web sites Unforgivably primitive alphabetic sorting puts all titles beginning with The together the same with other articles and in addition those titles are indexed together Though the title indicates the presence of abstracts there are none except the summaries supplied by Library of Congress for juvenile titles of which there are many Cross referencing and indexing except by title are absent The compiler's credentials motivation and orientation are not cited Furthermore with better design the contents would have consumed half the number of pages and a few typeface variations would have eased scanning
