Moving Imagination Helena De Preester, 2013-05-29 This volume brings together contributions by philosophers, art historians and artists who discuss, interpret and analyse the moving and gesturing body in the arts. Broadly inspired by phenomenology and taking into account insights from cognitive science, the contribution of the motor body in watching a film, attending a dance or theatre performance, looking at paintings or drawings and listening to music is explored from a diversity of perspectives. This volume is intended for both the specialist and non-specialist in the fields of art, philosophy and cognitive science and testifies to the burgeoning interest for the moving and gesturing body not only in the creation but also in the perception of works of art. Imagination is tied to our capacity to silently resonate with the way a work of art has been or is created

Madness, Language, Literature Michel Foucault, 2023-04-18 Newly published lectures by Foucault on madness, literature and structuralism. Perceiving an enigmatic relationship between madness, language and literature. French philosopher Michel Foucault developed ideas during the 1960s that are less explicit in his later, more well-known writings. Collected here, these previously unpublished texts reveal a Foucault who undertakes an analysis of language and experience detached from their historical constraints. Three issues predominate: the experience of madness across societies; madness and language in Artaud, Roussel and Baroque theater; and structuralist literary criticism. Not only do these texts pursue concepts unique to this period, such as the extra-linguistic, but they also reveal a far more complex relationship between structuralism and Foucault than has typically been acknowledged

Deleuze and the Unconscious Christian Kerslake, 2007-05-08 An original and provocative contribution to the literature on Deleuze, arguably the biggest name in Continental philosophy

Posthumorism Frances McDonald, 2022-01-27 Examining the multiple non-humorous meanings of laughter, this book explores a unique strain of laughter in modernism that is without humor, without humans and without humanism. Providing a bold new theory of modernism's affects, Posthumorism chronicles the scattered emergence of a particular strain of humorless laughter in twentieth-century literature, film and philosophy. From William James's trippy experiments with laughing gas to the wide-open suicide shriek of Major Kong in Stanley Kubrick's Dr Strangelove, modernity is strewn with examples of such laughter defined by its ability to crack up and destroy whilst opening new horizons of perception. Examining the creative operation of posthumorist laughter, this book explores how various stylists of the form, from Nathanael West and Kurt Vonnegut to Georges Bataille and Hélène Cixous, use it as a tool to unsettle, reconfigure the individual human and shape different forms of humanist discourse

Understanding Deleuze, Understanding Modernism S. E. Gontarski, Paul Ardoin, Laci Mattison, 2014-08-28 Explores the multi-faceted and formative impact of Gilles Deleuze on the development and our understanding of modernist thought in its philosophical, literary and more broadly cultural manifestations
