The Making Of The Industrial Landscape:

The Making of the Industrial Landscape Barrie Stuart Trinder, 1982 Biography of an Industrial Landscape Svava Riesto, 2025-10-01 Biography of an Industrial Landscape tells the story of one of the most significant urban redevelopment projects in northern Europe at the turn of the century Examining the reinvention of the Carlsberg brewery site in Copenhagen as a city district Svava Riesto unpacks the deeper assumptions about value that lie behind contemporary design spatial planning and heritage practices In particular Riesto examines ways of valuing a vital yet seldom explicitly discussed feature of industrial landscapes open space Carlsberg s industrial open spaces were largely disregarded during the redevelopment which was founded on canonical heritage thinking and ideas about urban space that were poorly equipped to include the characteristics of these spaces in the design s considerations As a response this account reappraises industrial open spaces Drawing on Henri Lefebvre and biographical approaches to landscape research the Carlsberg site s open spaces are presented anew as an interplay of materials practices and the imagination shaped and reshaped by water yeast industrial working routines and conflicting ideas about the future city The Making of the American Landscape Michael P. Conzen, 2014-06-03 The only compact yet comprehensive survey of environmental and cultural forces that have shaped the visual character and geographical diversity of the settled American landscape The book examines the large scale historical influences that have molded the varied human adaptation of the continent s physical topography to its needs over more than 500 years It presents a synoptic view of myriad historical processes working together or in conflict and illustrates them through their survival in or disappearance from the everyday landscapes of today Copperopolis: Landscapes of the Early Industrial Period in Swansea Stephen Hughes, 2008-12-18 Dadansoddiad darluniadol o dirlun diwydiannol ardal Abertawe yn adlewyrchu dylanwad hanes a datblygiad y diwydiant copr ar fywyd cymdeithasol ac economaidd addysgol a chrefyddol y fro yn ystod y 18fed a r 19eg ganrif Dros 300 o luniau du a gwyn Cyngor Llyfrau Cymru The Making of the West Yorkshire Landscape Anthony Silson, 2003-11-01 The Making of the West Yorkshire Landscape is part of the new established Making of series by Wharnccliffe Books The book holds fascinating and beautiful illustrations that show the West Yorkshire landscape in its entirety West Yorkshire is a land of great contrast and sudden change Lonely upland moors rapidly pass into busy valley towns such as Bradford and Halifax Serene farmland lies close to Huddersfield Leeds and Wakefield The cereal lands of the low gently sloping eastern area contrasts sharply with the grasslands of the higher Pennines The Making of the West Yorkshire Landscape is the story of how West Yorkshire s landscape has changed since the area emerged from under a sea some seventy million years ago It reveals how from prehistoric times onwards people changed an initially wooded landscape into its contemporary pattern of moors farms villages and towns Have a transitional journey through the landscape from prehistoric times to the present day as you read The Making of the West Yorkshire landscape The Post-Industrial Landscape as Site for Creative Practice Gwen Heeney, 2018-06-11 This book brings together experts in the fields of art history visual arts music cultural geography curatorial practice and landscape architecture to explore the role of material memory in the post industrial landscape and the ways in which that landscape can act as a site for many forms of creative practice It examines the role of material memory in the siting of public artworks and politically inspired installation art within the socio economic post industrial landscape The post industrial ruin as a place for innovation in the curatorial process is also investigated as are social memory and the complexities of inscribing memory into places A number of chapters focus on photography and its important role in recording memory as transformation abandonment and erosion Artists and musicians present personal case studies examining the siting of permanent and temporary artworks which can invoke memory of both culture and place The land itself and its associated histories of post industry are explored in artistic terms investigating dislocation wasted spaces and extinction Landscape architects and cultural geographers explore the aesthetic of the urban ruin its natural and human ecologies and the re wilding of urban spaces The volume provokes discussion by a group of diverse experts on a very contemporary subject

Making Industrial Pittsburgh Modern Edward K. Muller,Joel A. Tarr,2019-10-22 Pittsburgh s explosive industrial and population growth between the mid nineteenth century and the Great Depression required constant attention to city building Private profit oriented firms often with government involvement provided necessary transportation energy resources and suitable industrial and residential sites Meeting these requirements in the region s challenging hilly topographical and riverine environment resulted in the dramatic reshaping of the natural landscape At the same time the Pittsburgh region s free market private enterprise emphasis created socio economic imbalances and badly polluted the air water and land Industrial stagnation temporarily interrupted by wars and then followed deindustrialization inspired the formation of powerful public private partnerships to address the region's mounting infrastructural economic and social problems The sixteen essays in Making Industrial Pittsburgh Modern examine important aspects of the modernizing efforts to make Pittsburgh and Southwestern Pennsylvania a successful metropolitan region The city building experiences continue to influence the region's economic transformation spatial structure and life experience

The Early History of Railway Tunnels Hubert Pragnell, 2024-08-30 To the early railway traveller the prospect of travelling to places in hours rather than days hitherto was an inviting prospect however a journey was not without its fears as well as excitement To some the prospect of travelling through a tunnel without carriage lighting with smoke permeating the compartment and the confined noise was a horror of the new age What might happen if we broke down or crashed into another train in the darkness To others it was exciting with the light from the footplate flickering against the tunnel walls or spotting the occasional glimpses of light from a ventilation shaft To the directors of early railway companies planning a route was governed by expense and the most direct way Avoiding hills could add miles but tunnelling through them could involve vast expense as the Great Western Railway found at Box and the London and Birmingham at Kilsby Creating a cutting as an alternative was also costly not only in labour and time but also in compensation for landowners who opposed railways on visual and social grounds having seen their land divided by canals Construction involved millions of bricks or blocks of stone for sufficiently thick walls to withstand collapse However the entrance barely seen from the carriage window might be an impressive Italianate arch as at Primrose Hill or a castellated portal worthy of the Middle Ages as at Bramhope This book sets out to tell the story of tunnelling in Britain up to about 1870 when it was a question of burrowing through earth and rock with spade and explosive powder with the constant danger of collapse or flooding leading to injury and death It uses contemporary accounts from the dangers of railway travel by Dickens to the excitement of being drawn through the Liverpool Wapping Tunnel by the young composer Mendelssohn It includes descriptions from early railway company guide books newspapers and diaries It also includes numerous photographs and colored architectural elevations from railway archives

The Industrial Heritage Judith Alfrey, Tim Putnam, 2003-09-02 The Industrial Heritage is the first integrated approach to the assessment conservation interpretation financing and management of the complex heritage of industrial cultures It breaks new ground as the authors both active workers in the field suggest that concepts of heritage defined to deal with pre industrial cultures must be modified to deal with the very different demands presented by industrial objects and the societies which produced them The essence of this book is practicality offering examples of the real issues which confront those concerned with preserving and managing the industrial heritage

The British Industrial Canal Jodie Matthews, 2023-06-15 Thousands of literary popular non fiction and archival texts since the eighteenth century document the human experience of the British industrial canal This book traces networks of literary canal texts across four centuries to understand our relationships with water with place and with the past In our era of climate crisis this reading calls for a rethinking of the waterways of literature not simply as an antique transport system but as a coal fired energy system with implications for the present This book demonstrates how waterways literature has always been profoundly interested in the things we dig out of the ground and the uses to which they are put The industrial canal never just connected parts of Britain via its literature we read the ways in which we are in touch with previous centuries and epochs how canals linked inland Britain to Empire how they connected forms of labour and people to water

Business and Family in the North of England During the Early Industrial Revolution Hannah Barker, David Hughes, 2020-07-23 This volume of annotated primary sources focuses on the lives of tradesmen and women in the northern industrial and commercial towns of Leeds Sheffield Manchester and Liverpool from 1788 to 1832 Insights are offered into their domestic familial personal and spiritual lives their business dealings and links with their wider communities

Locating the Industrial Revolution Eric L. Jones, 2010 The familiar industrialisation of northern England and less familiar de industrialisation of the south are shown to have depended on a common process Neither rise nor decline resulted from differences in natural resource endowments since they began before the use of coal and steam in manufacturing Instead political certainty competitive ideology and Enlightenment optimism encouraged investment in transport and communications This integrated the national market intensifying competition between regions and altering economic distributions Despite a dysfunctional landed system agricultural innovation meant that the south's comparative advantage shifted towards the farm sector Meanwhile its manufactures slowly declined Once industry clustered in the less benign northern environment technological changes in manufacturing accumulated there This book portrays the Industrial Revolution as deriving from economic competition within unique political arrangements
