The Man Whom Women Loved The Life Of Bror Blixen:

The Man Whom Women Loved Ulf Aschan, 1987 Bror Blixen's godson a Kenya hunter presents an in depth portrait of his godfather the renowned safari hunter whose mythic passions for women and adventure attracted Isak Dinesen and Beryl Markham and inspired Ernest Hemingway

Baron Blixen Ulf Aschan, 1986

The Ghosts of Happy Valley Juliet Barnes, 2013-07-04 Happy Valley was the name given to the Wanjohi Valley in the Kenya Highlands where a small community of affluent hedonistic white expatriates settled between the wars While Kenya's early colonial days have been immortalised by farming pioneers like Lord Delamere and Karen Blixen and the pioneering aviator Beryl Markham Happy Valley became infamous under the influence of troubled socialite Lady Idina Sackville whose life was told in Frances Osborne's bestselling The Bolter The era culminated with the notorious murder of the Earl of Erroll in 1941 the investigation of which laid bare the Happy Valley set's decadence and irresponsibility chronicled in another bestseller James Fox's White Mischief But what is left now In a remarkable and indefatigable archaeological quest Juliet Barnes who has lived in Kenya all her life and whose grandparents knew some of the Happy Valley characters has set out to explore Happy Valley to find the former homes and haunts of this extraordinary and transient set of people With the help of a remarkable African guide and further assisted by the memories of elderly former settlers she finds the remains of grand residences tucked away beneath the mountains and speaks to local elders who share first hand memories of these bygone times Nowadays these old homes she discovers have become tumbledown dwellings for many African families school buildings or their ruins have almost disappeared without trace a revelation of the state of modern Africa that makes the gilded era of the Happy Valley set even more fantastic A book to set alongside such singular evocations of Africa's strange colonial history as The Africa House The Ghosts of Happy Valley is a mesmerising blend of travel narrative social history and personal quest

A Natural History of Love Diane Ackerman, 2011-06-01 The bestselling author of A Natural History of the Senses now explores the allure of adultery the appeal of aphrodisiacs and the cult of the kiss Enchantingly written and stunningly informed this audaciously brilliant romp through the world of romantic love Washington Post Book World is the next best thing to love itself

Wahoga Lucia Adams, 2019-05-21 This is a book about a Swedish baron who lived in Africa between 1912 and 1938 and who after his coffee farm and marriage to the author Karen Blixen failed became a white hunter leading safaris for the international social elite in East Africa He organized every detail of opulent safaris for the Prince of Wales the Vanderbilts and the wealthiest Americans and titled British between the wars This contributed to the decimation of wildlife in East Africa in the face of the growing conservation movement He was also a market hunter of ivory in Kenya Tanganyika and the Congo

The souls of white folk Brett Shadle, 2015-05-01 Kenya's white settlers have been alternately celebrated and condemned painted as romantic pioneers or hedonistic bed hoppers or crude racists The souls of white folk examines settlers not as caricatures but as people inhabiting a unique historical moment It takes seriously though not uncritically what settlers said how they viewed themselves and their world It argues that the settler soul was composed of a series of interlaced ideas settlers equated civilisation with a hard to define whiteness they were emotionally enriched through claims to paternalism and trusteeship over Africans they felt themselves constantly threatened by Africans by the state and by the moral failures of other settlers and they daily enacted their claims to supremacy through rituals of prestige deference humiliation and violence The souls of white folk will appeal to those interested in the histories of Africa colonialism and race and can be appreciated by scholars and students alike Hemingway's Guns Silvio Calabi, Steve Helsley, Roger Sanger, 2016-03-01 Ernest Hemingway is a mythic writer and alpha male As a hunter and conservationist he drew greatly from the strong example of Theodore Roosevelt and he much enjoyed teaching newcomers to shoot and hunt Including short excerpts from Hemingway's works these stories of his guns and rifles tell us as much about him as a lifelong expert hunter and shooter and as a man Isak Dinesen and the Engendering of Narrative Susan Hardy Aiken, 1990-04-24 Although Isak Dinesen has been widely acclaimed as a popular writer her work has received little sustained critical attention In this revisionist study Susan Hardy Aiken takes up the complex relations of gender sexuality and representation in Dinesen's narratives Drawing on feminist psychoanalytic and post structuralist theories Aiken shows how the form and meaning of Dinesen's texts are affected by her doubled situations as a Dane who wrote in English a European who lived for many years in Africa and a woman who wrote under a male pseudonym within a male centered literary tradition In a series of readings that range across Dinesen's career Aiken demonstrates that Dinesen persistently asserted the inseparability of gender and the engendering of narrative She argues that Dinesen's texts anticipate in remarkable ways some of the most radical insights of contemporary literary theories particularly those of French feminist criticism Aiken also offers a major rereading of Out of Africa that both addresses its distinctiveness as a colonialist text and places it within Dinesen's larger oeuvre In Aiken's account Dinesen's work emerges as a compelling inquiry into sexual difference and the ways it informs culture subjectivity and the language that is their medium This important book will at last give Isak Dinesen's work the prominence it deserves in literary studies Elspeth Huxley C.S. Nicholls, 2003-07-28 A portrait of the conservationist and chronicler of colonial Kenya describes her childhood in east Africa and wartime Britain marriage to Thomas Huxley roles as a farmer writer and government advisor Where the Tigers Were Don Meredith, 2001 Very well then he would travel Not all that far not quite to where the tigers were This quote from Thomas Mann's Death in Venice might describe Meredith except that he has traveled far indeed from the United States to Wales the Middle East India Africa and finally to Lamu Island Kenya A Comprehensive Companion to Hemingway's A Moveable Feast Gerry Brenner, 2000 African Kaiser Robert Gaudi, 2017-01-31 The incredible true account of World War I in Africa and General Paul von Lettow Vorbeck the last undefeated German commander Let me say straight out that if all military histories were as thrilling and well written as Robert Gaudi's African Kaiser I might give up reading fiction and literary biography Gaudi writes with the flair of a latter day Macaulay He sets his scenes carefully and describes naval and military action like a novelist Michael Dirda The Washington Post As World War I ravaged the European continent a completely different theater of war was being contested in Africa And from this very different kind of war there emerged a very different kind of military leader At the beginning of the twentieth century the continent of Africa was a hotbed of international trade colonialism and political gamesmanship So when World War I broke out the European powers were forced to contend with one another not just in the bloody trenches but in the treacherous jungle And it was in that unforgiving land that General Paul von Lettow Vorbeck would make history With the now legendary Schutztruppe Defensive Force von Lettow Vorbeck and a small cadre of hardened German officers fought alongside their fanatically devoted native African allies as equals creating the first truly integrated army of the modern age African Kaiser is the fascinating story of a forgotten guerrilla campaign in a remote corner of Equatorial Africa in World War I of a small army of ultraloyal African troops led by a smaller cadre of rugged German officers of white men and black who fought side by side But mostly it is the story of von Lettow Vorbeck the only undefeated German commander in the field during World War I and the last to surrender his arms

Brad Faught, 2011-11-30 In the long history of the British Empire there are few stories as singular as that of Margery Perham From the moment she first set foot on African soil in 1921 to her death over sixty years later Perham was focused on the ways and means of Britain's administration of its African empire She acquired an unrivalled expertise in all aspects of this branch of empire its systems of governance and those who administered them its economic impact its geo strategic implications and its effect on Africans including their sense of nationalism and attitudes towards the end of empire From the 1930s until the 1960s it is unlikely that anyone in the administrative apparatus of the British Empire and almost assuredly anyone in the world of academia had as nuanced an understanding of how Britain's African empire actually worked as did Margery Perham Her road into Africa led from British Somaliland in 1921 where she went to visit her sister the wife of a local British district commissioner From such beginnings was spawned a career at the centre of British governance of empire In 1928 as a Fellow of St Hugh s College Oxford she was awarded a travelling fellowship which she used to study colonial administration So long and thorough was her tour that she had to sacrifice her teaching post but so expert did she become in the subject that in 1935 Oxford appointed her research lecturer in the field and a few years later she was appointed the first official and only female Fellow of Nuffield College For the next 30 years Perham delved deeply into every aspect of British Africa She was an adviser to the Colonial Office and became director of Oxford s Institute of Commonwealth Studies She wrote extensively and prolifically and publicly debated the future of Africa in the press As the era of African independence and decolonization began she advised newly independent governments about post colonial governance and corresponded with leading African nationalists Appointed DCMG in 1965 Dame Margery Perham died in 1982 Her life provides a unique window into the workings of the British Empire in Africa for most of the time it was fully operational In this new biography the first of its kind and based primarily on Perham s extensive private papers C Brad Faught tells her life story in all its richness while throwing fresh light on Britain s twentieth century imperial experience
