The Man With The Shattered World:

The Man with a Shattered World A. R. Luria, 1987-04-30 Luria presents a compelling portrait of a man's heroic struggle to regain his mental faculties. A soldier named Zasetzky, wounded in the head at the battle of Smolensk in 1943, found himself unable to recall his recent past or speak, read or write without difficulty. Woven throughout his first person account are interpolations by Luria himself.

The Man with a Shattered World Aleksandr Romanovič Lurija, 1972 The Man with a Shattered World Aleksandr Romanovich Lurii[a], 1976-09-01 A young soldier suffered a severe brain injury resulting in impaired vision, loss of memory and loss of the ability to speak, read and write. As though he were a child, he has to relearn. Professor Luria worked with him for over twenty years together building a life for him.

The man with a shattered world Aleksandr R. Lurija, 1972 An Analysis of Oliver Sacks's The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat and Other Clinical Tales Dario Krpan, Alexander O' Connor, 2017-07-05 In The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat, neurologist Oliver Sacks looked at the cutting edge work taking place in his field and decided that much of it was not fit for purpose. Sacks found it hard to understand why most doctors adopted a mechanical and impersonal approach to their patients and opened his mind to new ways to treat people with neurological disorders. He explored the question of deciding what such new ways might be by deploying his formidable creative thinking skills. Sacks felt the issues at the heart of patient care needed redefining because the way they were being dealt with hurt not only patients but practitioners too. They limited a physician's capacity to understand and then treat a patient's condition. To highlight the issue, Sacks wrote the stories of 24 patients and their neurological clinical conditions. In the process, he rebelled against traditional methodology by focusing on his patients' subjective experiences. Sacks did not only write about his patients in original ways; he attempted to come up with creative ways of treating them as well. At root, his method was to try to help each person individually with the core aim of finding meaning and a sense of identity despite or even thanks to the patient's condition. Sacks thus redefined the issue of neurological work in a new way, and his ideas were so influential that they heralded the arrival of a broader movement: narrative medicine, that placed stronger emphasis on listening to and incorporating patients' experiences and insights into their care.

The Man with a Shattered World Aleksandr Romanovitch Louriâ, 1981 The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat Oliver Sacks, 2021-09-14 THE INSPIRATION FOR THE NBC SERIES BRILLIANT MINDS In his most extraordinary book, the bestselling author of Awakenings and poet laureate of medicine, The New York Times recounts the case histories of patients inhabiting the compelling world of neurological disorders, from those who are no longer able to recognize common objects to those who gain extraordinary new skills. Oliver Sacks has become the world's best known neurologist. His case studies of broken minds offer brilliant insight into the mysteries of consciousness. The Guardian Featuring a new preface, Oliver Sacks's The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat tells the stories of individuals afflicted with perceptual and intellectual disorders, patients who have lost their memories and with them the greater part of their pasts, who are no longer able to recognize people and common objects whose limbs seem alien to them who lack some skills yet are gifted with uncanny artistic or mathematical talents In Dr Sacks s splendid and sympathetic telling his patients are deeply human and his tales are studies of struggles against incredible adversity A great healer Sacks never loses sight of medicine s ultimate responsibility the suffering afflicted fighting human subject

The Seventy Prepositions Carol Snow, 2004-04-19 Carol Snow s award winning poetry has been admired and celebrated as work of difficult beauty Robert Hass ever restless ever re framing the frame of reference Boston Review teaching us how brutally self transforming a verbal action can be when undertaken in good faith Jorie Graham In this her third volume Snow continues to mine the language to its most mysterious depths and to explore the possibilities its meanings and mechanics hold for definition transformation and emotional truth These poems place us before and in language as we stand before and in the world The Seventy Prepositions comprises three suites of poems The first Vocabulary Sentences reflects on words and reality by taking as a formal motif the sort of sentences used to test vocabulary skills in elementary school The poems of the second suite Vantage gather loosely around questions of perspective and perception The closing suite finds its inspiration in the Japanese dry landscape gardens known as karesansui such as the famous rock garden at Ryoan ji Temple in Kyoto Here the poet approaches composition as one faces a miniature Zen garden choosing and positioning words rather than stones formally precisely evocatively Pride and a Daily Marathon Jonathan Cole,Ian Waterman,1995-07-11 At the age of 19 Ian Waterman was suddenly struck down at work by a rare neurological illness that deprived him of all sensation below the neck He fell on the floor in a heap unable to stand or control his limbs having lost the sense of joint position and proprioception of that sixth sense of his body in space which we all take for granted After months in a neurological ward he was judged incurable and condemned to a life of wheelchair dependence This is the first U S publication of a remarkable book by his physician Jonathan Cole It tells the compelling story including a clear clinical description of a rare condition of how Waterman reclaimed a life of full mobility against all expectations by mental effort and sheer courage Cole describes how Waterman gradually adapted to his strange condition As the doctors had predicted there was no neurological recovery He had to monitor every movement by sight to work out where his limbs were since he had no feedback from his peripheral nerves But with astonishing persistence Waterman developed elaborate tricks and strategies to control his movements enabling him to cope not only with the day to day problems of living but even with the challenges of work love and marriage Self-Knowledge and the Self David A Jopling,2002-09-11 In this clear and reasoned discussion of self knowledge and the self the author asks whether it is really possible to know ourselves as we really are He illuminates issues about the nature of self identity which are of fundamental importance in moral psychology epistemology and literary criticism Jopling focuses on the accounts of Stuart Hampshire Jean Paul Sartre and Richard Rorty and dialogical philosophical psychology and illustrates his argument with examples from literature drama and psychology The Psychology of Autobiographical Memory Igor Sotgiu,2021-04-12 This book provides an overview of the key theoretical and empirical issues relating to autobiographical memory the extraordinarily complex psychological activity that enables us to retrieve relive and reappraise our pasts The first part of the book retraces the genesis and historical development of the psychology of autobiographical memory from the pioneering contributions of Francis Galton Victor Henri and Sigmund Freud to the most recent research in the fields of cognitivism cognitive science and neuroscience The author then moves on to two key topics in the contemporary panorama the content and organisation of autobiographical memory what we remember from our lives and how we link together specific segments of our personal pasts and the functions of autobiographical memory why we remember our pasts This book will provide a valuable scholarly overview for cognitive psychologists and an authoritative critical introduction to the field for students and scholars from across psychology philosophy literary criticism sociology and law The Woman Who Changed Her Brain Barbara Arrowsmith-Young,2013-09-17 Previously published in hardcover New York Free Press 2012 A Man Without Words Susan Schaller,2014-05-15 For more than a quarter of a century Ildefonso a Mexican Indian lived in total isolation set apart from the rest of the world He wasn't a political prisoner or a social recluse he was simply born deaf and had never been taught even the most basic language Susan Schaller then a twenty four year old graduate student encountered him in a class for the deaf where she had been sent as an interpreter and where he sat isolated since he knew no sign language She found him obviously intelligent and sharply observant but unable to communicate and she felt compelled to bring him to a comprehension of words The book vividly conveys the challenge the frustrations and the exhilaration of opening the mind of a congenitally deaf person to the concept of language This second edition includes a new chapter and afterword Book Review Index ,1965 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation autobiography But in the field of curriculum studies autobiographies pathographies of sickness are few and far between This book is meant to fill that gap in the educational literature This pathography is a study that explores the mysteries of suffering storytelling memory and poesis Compassion woundedness vulnerability testimony and authenticity are all issues Morris raises here Teachers scholars depth psychologists and medical educators might be particularly interested in this intensely felt narrative about what it is like for teachers to teach while suffering from chronic illness
