The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1985 Self-directed Learning Oriented Assessments in the Asia-Pacific Magdalena Mo Ching Mok, 2012-10-08 The Asia Pacific region needs to maximize the benefits of education to enable it to compete in an economic future dominated by innovation in which assessing student progress must be an empowering rather than delimiting factor This detailed exposition of the theoretical basis and application tools of self directed learning oriented assessment SLOA

reflects the very latest research championed by the Assessment Research Centre at The Hong Kong Institute of Education. Featuring a range of relevant case studies it explores the varied theoretical issues related to SLOA and offers an integrated view of the system fully in line with the constructivist paradigm of learning which advocates formative rather than summative assessment. Many of the initiatives outlined here are firsts in the region. SLOA is already being applied in many schools with links to the ARC. It is an approach to assessment that acknowledges the centrality of self-directed learning and which positions assessment as a tool to enable and enhance self-directed learning. It draws on several theories of learning and assessment including the constructivist notion that learning is best achieved when students take ownership of their educational process, setting their own goals and monitoring their own progress towards those goals. SLOA has been the research and service approach of the ARC since 2005. In the intervening years the centre has developed a number of tools to facilitate SLOA learning and assessment including vertical ability scales, teacher-friendly computer software and packages for self-directed learning.

Islāmīc Counselling and Psychotherapy G. Hussein Rassool, 2024-10-08
Islāmīc Counselling and Psychotherapy: An Introduction to Theory and Practice provides foundation level knowledge of and perspective on the fundamental principles and practices of counselling and psychotherapy from an Islāmīc perspective. This groundbreaking practical framework incorporates Islāmīc spirituality, religion, and cultural contexts into the therapeutic process. It makes the case that authentic Islāmīc spirituality based on submission to God forms the cornerstone of good mental health. The book's foundation focuses on the therapist's role and ethical considerations specific to Islāmīc psychotherapy. It explores the integration of Qur'ānic teachings and ḥadīths and delves into dream interpretation and the clinical applications of the Siraat Al Islāmīc psychotherapy practice model. This thoroughly revised new edition also highlights advances and developments in scholarship and evidence-based practices and introduces postmodern psychotherapy approaches like narrative and hope therapy. This text provides a clear understanding of the nature, scope, and process of Islāmīc psychotherapy for Islāmīc practitioners or clinicians working with Muslim clients.
Medical Decisions, Estrogen and Aging Jay Schulkin, 2007-12-20. If you are a woman between the ages of 45 and 75 and are trying to decide whether to try or stick with hormone therapy (HT) or if you are a physician with patients fitting this description, this book is for you unless you are looking for a simple answer. If you are looking for a simple answer, you can go to the web site of one of the companies that manufactures hormones or makes money by administering hormone therapy, e.g., AntiAgingGroup.com or you can go to the website of an organization that advocates natural aging, e.g., the International Organization to Reclaim Menopause (Inorm.org). Any impartial advisor, however, is going to admit that the answer isn't at all clear-cut. Jay Schulkin believes the reader will find is such an impartial advisor and he is going to take you several steps beyond simply acknowledging the ambiguity he is going to educate you about the biology history sociology business and ethics of hormone replacement therapy As a prominent scientist doing research on hormones a medical researcher an expert on decision making he is the ideal guide to the intricacies of the topic You might think that all of this sounds superfluous for making an informed decision Just the facts please
