The Marian Paintings of Jan Van Eyck Carol J. Purtle,1976 The Marian Paintings of Jan Van Eyck Carol Jean Purtle,1981 The Marian Paintings of Jan Van Eyck Carol J. Purtle,1981 The Marian Paintings of Jan Van Eyck Carol J. Purtle,1981 Jan van Eyck within His Art Alfred Acres,2023-09-11 A new assessment of the inventive and influential artist Jan van Eyck Jan van Eyck 1390 1441 was one of the most inventive and influential artists in the entire European tradition The realism of his paintings continues to astound observers more than six centuries on even though our world is saturated by high resolution images However viewers today are as like to be absorbed by Van Eyck s personality as his realism While he sometimes directly painted himself into his works he also suggested his presence through an array of inscriptions signatures and even a personal motto Incorporating a wealth of new research and recent discoveries within a fresh exploration of the paintings themselves this book reveals how profoundly Jan van Eyck transformed the very idea of what an artist could be Jan van Eyck Craig Harbison,2012-01-01 The surviving work of Flemish painter Jan van Eyck c 1395 1441 consists of a series of painstakingly detailed oil paintings of astonishing verisimilitude Most explanations of the meanings behind these paintings have been grounded in a disguised religious symbolism that critics have insisted is foremost But in Jan van Eyck Craig Harbison sets aside these explanations and turns instead to the neglected human dimension he finds clearly present in these works Harbison investigates the personal histories of the true models and participants who sat for such masterpieces as the Virgin and Child and the Arnolfini Double Portrait This revised and expanded edition includes many illustrations and reveals how van Eyck presented his contemporaries with a more subtle and complex view of the value of appearances as a route to understanding the meaning of life Jan van Eyck and Portugal's 'Illustrious Generation' Barbara von Barghahn,2013-12-31 This book investigates Jan Van Eyck s patronage by the Crown of Portugal and his role as diplomat painter for the Duchy of Burgundy following his first voyage to Lisbon in 1428 1429 when he painted two portraits of Infanta Isabella who became the third wife of Philip the Good in 1430 New portrait identifications are provided for the Ghent Altarpiece 1432 and its iconographical prototype the lost Fountain of Life These altarpieces are analysed with regard to King Joao I s conquest of Ceuta achieved by his sons who were hailed as an illustrious generation Strong family ties between the dynastic houses of Avis and Lancaster explain Lusitania s sustained fascination with Arthurian lore and the Grail quest Several chapters of this book are overlaid with a chivalric veneer A second secret mission to Portugal in 1437 by Jan van Eyck is postulated and this diplomatic visit is related to Prince Henry the Navigator s expedition to Tangier and King Duarte s attempts to forge an alliance with Alfonso V of Aragon Late Eyckian commissions are reviewed in the light of this ill fated crusade and additional new portraits are identified The most significant artist of Renaissance Flanders appears to have been patronized as much by the House of Avis as by the Duchy of Burgundy Barbara von Barghahn is Professor of Art History at George Washington University and a specialist in the art history of Portugal Spain and their colonial dominions as well as

Flanders In 1993 she was conferred O Grao Comendador in the Portuguese Order of Prince Henry the Navigator She has spent nearly a decade completing research about Jan van Eyck s diplomatic visits to the Iberian Peninsula The New Art of the Fifteenth Century: Faith and Art in Florance and The Netherlands Shirley Neilsen Blum,2013-09-03 A fresh look at the early Renaissance considering Florentine and Netherlandish art as a single phenomenon at once deeply spiritual and entirely new Adam and Eve are driven from the Garden of Eden into a rocky landscape their naked bodies lit by a cold sun their gestures and expressions a study in shame and anguish A serious man well attired kneels in prayer before the Virgin and Child close enough to touch them almost his furrowed brow setting off the saintly perfection of their features In fifteenth century Florence and Flanders painters were using an arsenal of new techniques including perspective anatomy and the accurate treatment of light and shade to present traditional religious subjects with an unprecedented immediacy and emotional power Their art was the product of a shared Christian culture and their patrons included not only nobles and churchmen but also the middle classes of these thriving commercial centers Shirley Neilsen Blum offers a new synthesis of this remarkable period in Western art between the refinements of the Gothic and the classicism of the High Renaissance when the mystical was made to seem real In the first part of her text Blum traces the emergence of a new naturalism in the sculpture of Claus Sluter and Donatello and then in the painting of Van Eyck and Masaccio In the second part she compares scenes from the Infancy and Passion of Christ as rendered by artists from North and South Exploring both the images themselves and the theological concepts that lie behind them she re creates as far as possible the experience of the contemporary fifteenth century viewer Abundantly illustrated with color plates of masterworks by Fra Angelico Botticelli Rogier van der Weyden and others this thought provoking volume will appeal equally to general readers and students of art history Painting in Bruges at the Close of the Middle Ages Jean C. Wilson,2010-11-01 Gardens of Love and the Limits of Morality in Early Netherlandish Art Andrea Pearson,2019-02-26 In Gardens of Love and the Limits of Morality in Early Netherlandish Art Andrea Pearson charts the moralization of human bodies in late medieval and early modern visual culture through paintings by Jan van Eyck and Hieronymus Bosch devotional prints and illustrated books and the celebrated enclosed gardens of Mechelen among other works Drawing on new archival evidence and innovative visual analysis to reframe familiar religious discourses she demonstrates that depicted topographies advanced and sometimes resisted bodily critiques expressed in scripture conduct literature and even legislation Governing many of these redemptive greenscapes were the figures of Christ and the Virgin Mary archetypes of purity whose spiritual authority was impossible to ignore yet whose mysteries posed innumerable moral challenges The study reveals that bodily status was the fundamental problem of human salvation in which artists patrons and viewers alike had an interpretive stake Early Netherlandish Painting National Gallery of Art (U.S.),John Oliver Hand,Martha Wolff,1986 The volume contains entries for paintings in the National gallery that were produced in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries by artists from the Netherlands The entries are arranged alphabetically by artist a short biography and bibliography for each artist is followed by individual entries on the paintings each in order of acquisition The authors address traditional questions of attributes and iconography in addition they examine the social economic and religious context in which the individual work of art functioned The volume is also probable the first museum catalogue to include the results of examination by infrared reflectography and dendrochronological analysis The Artful Mind Mark Turner,2006-10-26 All normal human beings alive in the last fifty thousand years appear to have possessed in Mark Turner s phrase irrepressibly artful minds Cognitively modern minds produced a staggering list of behavioral singularities science religion mathematics language advanced tool use decorative dress dance culture art that seems to indicate a mysterious and unexplained discontinuity between us and all other living things This brute fact gives rise to some tantalizing questions How did the artful mind emerge What are the basic mental operations that make art possible for us now and how do they operate These are the questions that occupy the distinguished contributors to this volume which emerged from a year long Getty funded research project hosted by the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Stanford These scholars bring to bear a range of disciplinary and cross disciplinary perspectives on the relationship between art broadly conceived the mind and the brain Together they hope to provide directions for a new field of research that can play a significant role in answering the great riddle of human singularity On Display: Visual Politics, Material Culture, and Education Karin Priem,Kerstin te Heesen,2016 This book focuses on one of the most successful photography exhibitions in history The Family of Man With The Family of Man as its reference point this collection of essays takes a closer look at visual and material objects It examines their relevance for educational issues and exhibition designs We understand these issues in their broadest sense to encompass processes of citizenship and identity formation and the adoption and or preservation of ethical and political values with effects that range from the micro to the macro from the national to the international level The overall hypothesis of this volume is that images objects and designs were created and employed as performers and performances that interacted with and attracted mass audiences This book not only looks at how the presentational representational and social power of images objects and designs was deliberately used by political and cultural stakeholders during the mid 1950s but also how these technologies of display travelled through time and space and as historical objects interacted and continue to interact with new contexts and audiences Early Netherlandish

Paintings Bernhard Ridderbos,Anne van Buren,Henk Th. van Veen,2005 Any contemporary understanding of early Netherlandish paintings must take into account not only that historical data about them is fragmentary but also that art historians have used a variety of premises from which to study the works This book therefore explores how the paintings of the period and the factual knowledge surrounding them have been assembled analyzed and interpreted from their rediscovery in the early nineteenth century to the present day Assembling these multiple perspectives in one volume the editors underscore the common ground shared by their colleagues and intend thereby to advance the scholarly dialogue
