The Italic Notebook:

Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks, Volume 7 Søren Kierkegaard, 2014-10-05 For over a century the Danish thinker Søren Kierkegaard 1813-55 has been at the center of a number of important discussions concerning not only philosophy and theology but also more recently fields such as social thought psychology and contemporary aesthetics especially literary theory Despite his relatively short life Kierkegaard was an extraordinarily prolific writer as attested to by the 26 volume Princeton University Press edition of all of his published writings But Kierkegaard left behind nearly as much unpublished writing most of which consists of what are called his journals and notebooks Kierkegaard has long been recognized as one of history's great journal keepers but only rather small portions of his journals and notebooks are what we usually understand by the term diaries By far the greater part of Kierkegaard's journals and notebooks consists of reflections on a myriad of subjects philosophical religious political personal Studying his journals and notebooks takes us into his workshop where we can see his entire universe of thought We can witness the genesis of his published works to be sure but we can also see whole galaxies of concepts new insights and fragments large and small of partially or almost entirely completed but unpublished works Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks enables us to see the thinker in dialogue with his times and with himself Volume 7 of this 11 volume series includes six of Kierkegaard's important NB journals Journals NB15 through NB20 covering the months from early January 1850 to mid September of that year By this time it had become clear that popular sovereignty ushered in by the revolution of 1848 and ratified by the Danish constitution of 1849 had come to stay and Kierkegaard now intensified his criticism of the notion that everything even matters involving the human soul could be decided by balloting He also continued to direct his barbs at the established Danish Church and its clergy particularly Bishop J. P. Mynster and Professor H. L. Martensen at the press and at the attempt by modern philosophy to comprehend the incomprehensibility of faith Kierkegaard's reading notes include entries on Augustine the Stoics German mystics Luther pietist authors and Rousseau while his autobiographical reflections circle around the question of which if any of several essays explaining his life and works he ought to publish Perhaps unsurprisingly Kierkegaard's more personal reflections return once again to his public feud with M. A. Goldschmidt and his broken engagement to Regine Olsen Kierkegaard wrote his journals in a two column format one for his initial entries and the second for the extensive marginal comments that he added later This edition of the journals reproduces this format includes several photographs of original manuscript pages and contains extensive scholarly commentary on the various entries and on the history of the manuscripts being reproduced

Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks, Volume 8 Søren Kierkegaard, 2015-08-18 For over a century the Danish thinker Søren Kierkegaard 1813-55 has been at the center of a number of important discussions concerning not only philosophy and theology but also more recently fields such as social thought psychology and contemporary aesthetics especially literary theory Despite his relatively short life Kierkegaard was an extraordinarily prolific writer as attested to by the 26 volume Princeton University Press edition of all of his published writings But Kierkegaard left behind nearly as much unpublished writing most of which consists of what are called his journals and notebooks Kierkegaard has long been recognized as one of history's great journal keepers but only rather small portions of his journals and notebooks are what we usually understand by the term diaries By far the greater part of Kierkegaard's journals and notebooks consists of reflections on a myriad of subjects philosophical religious political personal Studying his journals and notebooks takes us into his workshop where we can see his entire universe of thought We can witness the genesis of his published works to be sure but we can also see whole galaxies of concepts new insights and fragments large and small of partially or almost entirely completed but unpublished works Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks enables us to see the thinker in dialogue with his times and with himself Kierkegaard wrote his journals in a two column format one for his initial entries and the second for the extensive marginal comments that he added later This edition of the journals reproduces this format includes several photographs of original manuscript pages and contains extensive scholarly commentary on the various entries and on the history of the manuscripts being reproduced Volume 8 of this 11 volume series includes five of Kierkegaard's important NB journals Journals NB21 through NB25 which cover the period from September 1850 to June 1852 and which show Kierkegaard alternately in polemical and reflective postures The polemics emerge principally in Kierkegaard's opposition to the increasing infiltration of Christianity by worldly concerns a development that in his view had accelerated significantly in the aftermath of the political and social changes wrought by the Revolution of 1848 Kierkegaard understood the corrupting of Christianity to be in the interest of the powers that be and he directed his criticism at politicians the press and especially the Danish Church itself particularly church officials who claimed to be reformers On the reflective side Kierkegaard delves into a number of authors and religious figures some of them for the first time including Montaigne Pascal Seneca Savonarola Wesley and F W Newman These journals also contain Kierkegaard's thoughts on the decisions surrounding the publication of the Anti Climacus writings The Sickness unto Death and especially Practice in Christianity Kierkegaard's reader gets the sense both of a gathering storm by the close of the last journal in this volume the famous attack on Christendom is less than three years away and a certain hesitancy What needs reforming Kierkegaard insists is not the doctrine or the Church but existences i e lives

Volume 11 Part 1 and Volume 11 Part 2 present an exciting, enlightening and enormously varied treasure trove of papers that were found carefully sorted and stored by Kierkegaard himself in his apartment after his death. These papers, many of which have never before been published in English, provide a window into many different aspects of Kierkegaard's life and creativity. Volume 11 Part 1 includes items from his earliest formative years through his extensive studies at the university and up to the publication of Either/Or. These materials include Kierkegaard's studies in biblical exegesis, his reading of theologians such as Schleiermacher and Baader, his concern with aesthetic matters including a lengthy consideration of the Faust legend, his first trial sermon delivered at the Pastoral Seminary, his views on the burgeoning field of political journalism in the 1830s and a group of papers he titled The First Rudiments of Either/Or. The Green Book: Some Particulars that were not Used The Stolen Notebooks SUSAN AUDREY GRUNDY, 2019-09-29. Art Historian Susan Grundy delves into reasons biographers assume a Tuscan painter, Leonardo da Vinci, wrote the Notebooks. It was only in the nineteenth century that European scholars began to access these Notebooks in more depth, transcribing the arcane backwards Italian and translating them into English. Yet they discovered a man who did not seem to be Tuscan, Leonardo da Vinci, as he seemed to be a man from the East. Yet this reality was closed down by researchers who seemed determined to continue with the myth of the self-educated genius from a farm in Tuscany. Neither commonplace books nor diaries but something of both, they contain notes on literary, theological, philosophical, scientific, social and psychological matters, plans for and fragments of works and many other items of great interest. Shortly after World War II, Kathleen Coburn, formerly of Victoria College in Toronto, rediscovered this great collection of unpublished manuscripts.
