Alvis,2013-11-18 Using the works of Nathaniel Hawthorne as a case study John E Alvis shows that a novelist can be a political philosopher He demonstrates that much of Hawthorne s works are rooted in the American political tradition Once we view his writings in connection with the principles expressed in the Declaration of Independence we grasp that what Thomas Jefferson and John Adams had stated explicitly Hawthorne s fiction conveys dramatically With examples drawn from Hawthorne s shorter works as well as acknowledged classics such as The Scarlet Letter John E Alvis shows that Hawthorne s characters bear something sacred in their generic humanity yet are subject to moral judgment He conveys reciprocity between obligations regulating individual relations and the responsibilities of individuals to their community From America s founding proclamations in the Declaration of Independence we take a sense of national aspirations for a political order that conforms to laws of nature and nature s God From this higher law emerge the principles enumerated in that revolutionary document Are these principles confined to the political or do they reach into the experience of citizens to inform conduct Do they include family local community and individual face to face relations with neighbors and strangers Can one make a distinct way of life by fidelity to such standards as higher law equality liberty natural rights and consent This study is distinguished from other writings on Hawthorne in its largely positive focus on America Alvis characterizes Hawthorne as a rational patriot who endorses America s new terms for human association This fascinating study provides new insights into the mind of one of the greatest American writers
