The Making Of Ada:

The Making of Ada C. O. C. Amate, 1999 Little has been written about the Adali Ada clan of Ghana and much of this is scattered among various publications on Ghana and official documents of the British colonial administration The author has drawn on this information to produce the first coherent and readable study of the Ada He covers in detail the history of the clan their political and social institutions economic activities wars with neighbours reaction to British colonialism disputes over the Songor region and disputes over leadership

Ada's Legacy Robin Hammerman, Andrew L. Russell, 2015-10-01 Ada's Legacy illustrates the depth and diversity of writers thinkers and makers who have been inspired by Ada Lovelace the English mathematician and writer The volume which commemorates the bicentennial of Ada's birth in December 1815 celebrates Lovelace's many achievements as well as the impact of her life and work which reverberated widely since the late nineteenth century In the 21st century we have seen a resurgence in Lovelace scholarship thanks to the growth of interdisciplinary thinking and the expanding influence of women in science technology engineering and mathematics Ada's Legacy is a unique contribution to this scholarship thanks to its combination of papers on Ada's collaboration with Charles Babbage Ada's position in the Victorian and Steampunk literary genres Ada's representation in and inspiration of contemporary art and comics and Ada's continued relevance in discussions around gender and technology in the digital age With the 200th anniversary of Ada Lovelace's birth on December 10 2015 we believe that the timing is perfect to publish this collection of papers Because of its broad focus on subjects that reach far beyond the life and work of Ada herself Ada's Legacy will appeal to readers who are curious about Ada's enduring importance in computing and the wider world

Unsettling Sights The Fourth World on Film examines the politics of representing Aboriginality in the process bringing frequently marginalized voices and visions issues and debates into the limelight Corinn Columpar uses film theory postcolonial theory and Indigenous theory to frame her discussion of the cinematic construction and transnational circulation of Aboriginality The result is a broad interdisciplinary analysis of how Indigeneity is represented in cinema supported by more than twenty rigorous and theoretically informed case studies of contemporary feature films by both First and Fourth World filmmakers in the United States Canada New Zealand and Australia Columpar relies heavily on textual analysis of the films but also explores contextual issues in filmmaking such as funding personnel modes of production and means of distribution Part one of Unsettling Sights focuses on contact narratives in which the Aboriginal subject is constructed in reactive response to a colonizing or invading presence Films such as The Piano and The Proposition wherein a white man goes native and The New World and Map of the Human Heart which approach contact from the perspective of an Aboriginal character serve as occasions to examine the ways in which Aboriginal identities are negotiated within dominant cinema Part two shifts the focus from contact narratives to films that seek to define Aboriginality on its own terms with reference to a lost homeland and or Indigenous practices of hi story telling while texts such as Once Were Warriors and Smoke Signals foster an engagement with issues of deterritorialization relocation and urbanization discussion of beDevil Atanarjuat and The Business of Fancydancing among others bring questions of voice translation and the relationship between cinema and oral tradition to the forefront Unsettling Sights is the first significant scholarly examination of Aboriginality and cinema in an international context and will be invaluable to scholars and students in many fields including cinema studies anthropology critical race studies cultural studies and postcolonial studies
