Challenges at the Bank for International Settlements Elmar B. Koch, 2007-10-20

For a number of reasons I am pleased that Elmar has asked me to write a foreword to this volume which assembles together a number of pieces that he wrote over the course of the decade between 1997 and 2007. The first reason is that it gives me the opportunity to thank him for the work he has carried out so conscientiously and ably in his role as an economist working for the BIS. I would however be remiss if I did not also thank him for his earlier efforts contributing in particular to the statistical output of the MED and also the broader contribution he made as president of the Sports Club from 2004 to 2007. A second reason for being pleased is that the research contained in this volume was drawn from the period when I was chief of the MED and very much involved in discussions of the portant issues to which these papers are directed. Time goes fast when one is busy and it is all too easy to forget what was yesterday s central ques on. This volume constitutes a kind of reintroduction to old friends and that is always a pleasure. The papers in this volume are grouped into four time periods during each of which Elmar had been given different responsibilities. The in resting point is that taken together they imply an interest in essentially all the important topics of interest to the BIS.

Supervision in Clinical Practice Joyce

Scaife, 2013-12-19 Since the publication of the first edition of this book supervision has become of even greater significance in health education and social care settings with continuing pace in the trend towards mandatory registration, managed care and clinical governance. This fully updated and expanded edition includes new chapters on issues of diversity and the managerial role of the supervisor in context. Packed with practical examples in the key areas of personal and professional development, Joyce Scaife and her contributors draw on three decades of clinical experience to explore frequently encountered dilemmas including how supervisors facilitate learning, the ethical bases of supervision, creating and maintaining a good working alliance, how supervisors can balance management and supervision roles, working equitably in an increasingly diverse and pluralistic world. Supervision in Clinical Practice offers a range of suggestions for providing supervision that are stimulating, creative and fun, using methods that ensure safe and open practice. It is an indispensable text for supervisors and supervisees who practice clinically in a range of professions including applied psychology, counselling, psychotherapy, psychiatry, nursing and social work.

Trauma-Informed Supervision Carolyn Knight, L. DiAnne Borders, 2020-07-29

Survivors of trauma are disproportionately represented in agencies providing a broad range of behavioral, social and mental health services. Practitioners in these settings must understand and be able to respond to survivors of trauma in ways that are empowering, normalize and validate their experiences and reactions, and minimize the risk of retraumatization. Practitioners also will be indirectly traumatized as a result of their work with trauma survivors. Practitioners ability to help clients with histories of trauma depends upon clinical supervision that is trauma informed. The trauma informed supervisor has the dual responsibility of enhancing supervisees skills as trauma informed practitioners and helping them manage the impact their work has on them. Nevertheless many clinical supervisors only have limited knowledge and training in trauma and may not recognize either the needs of those whom they supervise or the clients their supervisees serve. This book
