Jules Heller, Nancy G. Heller

The Gardiner Women:

The Gardiner Women Davidyne Mayleas, 1993 As screen star Millie Gardiner draws close to death her family gathers around her to pay homage to the Hollywood legend and to vie for a prominent position in her will By the author of Naked Call Original Sex, Power and the Folly of Marriage in Women's Novels of the 1920s Judy Cornes, 2015-10-02 The Americans experienced great social change in the decade following World War I They were restless often discontented searching for the good life the one promised to the generation who cheered on by patriotic slogans and propaganda enlisted to fight on European battlefields While young writers such as Hemingway and Fitzgerald romanticized the lives of Americans in postwar Europe and the U S a number of women authors in the 1920s looked through a darker lens The novels of Edith Wharton Willa Cather Margaret Wilson Edna Ferber Ellen Glasgow Dorothy Scarborough and Dawn Powell set mainly in the 19th century searched the past for the origins of postwar upheaval especially with respect to the status of women Today a few iconic male novelists of the 1920s are synonymous with the spirit and culture of the Jazz Age This book focuses on their female contemporaries largely neglected by both critics and readers who remain relevant for their exploration of timeless social and psychological themes the battle of the sexes and its tragic consequences Franconia Notch and the Women who Saved it Kimberly A. Jarvis, 2007 An early 20th century case study of evolving grassroots notions of preservation and the role of women in the American conservation movement Women of the Republic Linda K. Kerber, 2000-11-09 Women of the Republic views the American Revolution through women's eyes Previous histories have rarely recognized that the battle for independence was also a woman's war The women of the army toiled in army hospitals kitchens and laundries Civilian women were spies fund raisers innkeepers suppliers of food and clothing Recruiters whether patriot or tory found men more willing to join the army when their wives and daughters could be counted on to keep the farms in operation and to resist encroachment from squatters I have Done as much to Carrey on the war as many that Sett Now at the helm of government wrote one impoverished woman and she was right Women of the Republic is the result of a seven year search for women's diaries letters and legal records Achieving a remarkable comprehensiveness it describes women's participation in the war evaluates changes in their education in the late eighteenth century describes the novels and histories women read and wrote and analyzes their status in law and society The rhetoric of the Revolution full of insistence on rights and freedom in opposition to dictatorial masters posed questions about the position of women in marriage as well as in the polity but few of the implications of this rhetoric were recognized How much liberty and equality for women How much pursuit of happiness How much justice When American political theory failed to define a program for the participation of women in the public arena women themselves had to develop an ideology of female patriotism They promoted the notion that women could guarantee the continuing health of the republic by nurturing public spirited sons and husbands This limited ideology of Republican Motherhood is a measure of the political and social conservatism of the Revolution The subsequent history of women in America is the story of women s efforts to accomplish for themselves what the Revolution did not New Catholic Women Mary Jo Weaver,1995-12-22 Weaver fills an important gap in women s studies through her investigation of the intersection of the women s movement with the lives of contemporary Roman Catholic women Iris Mary Jo Weaver has charted the course of this new consciousness among Roman Catholic women Rosemary Radford Ruether This is the first full scale study of how the U S women s movement has intersected with the lives and aspirations of American Roman Catholic women Elizabeth Johnson Religious Studies Review North American Women Artists of the Twentieth Century Jules Heller,Nancy G. Greiner,1993 Donald J Greiner s provocative new study evaluates the fiction of ten contemporary female novelists to ask questions about gender relations in American fiction Looking closely at the reaction of female writers to what Greiner describes as a central paradigm of American literature men bonding in the wilderness in an attempt to escape women and the social restrictions they represent Greiner contends that female novelists have not only adopted the venerable model but also adapted it so that women venture into the wilderness while excluding men from the quest Greiner first shows how such contemporary white male novelists as Frederick Busch John Irving and Larry Woiwode modify the literary model established by Cooper Melville and Twain to include women in the bonding process He then argues that recent female novelists are not so eager to allow males into the wilderness or to bond with them Rather than facilitate a closing of the gender gap many contemporary female writers insist on separating the sexes Greiner frames his analysis with discussions of prominent feminist literary theorists and feminist psychologists including Carolyn Heilbrun Rachel Brownstein Nancy Chodorow Janice Raymond and Judith Kegan Gardiner From close readings of recent novels by Gloria Naylor Marianne Wiggins Joan Didion Diane Johnson Marilynne Robinson Mona Simpson Hilma Wolitzer Meg Wolitzer Joan Chase and Lisa Alther Greiner finds three significant differences in the way contemporary female novelists employ the quest plot the patriarchal text is not repudiated but revised to accommodate female characters who readily accept the traditional masculine call to the quest once outside the bounds of society female bonds do not always hold males are excluded from the bonding process To contrast the gender exclusivity favored by contemporary female writers Greiner ends his study with a discussion of bonding as portrayed by contemporary male novelist Douglas Ungar
