About to Die Barbie Zelizer, 2010-12-01 Due to its ability to freeze a moment in time the photo is a uniquely powerful device for ordering and understanding the world But when an image depicts complex ambiguous or controversial events terrorist attacks wars political assassinations its ability to influence perception can prove deeply unsettling Are we really seeing the world as it is or is the image a fabrication or projection How do a photo's content and form shape a viewer's impressions What do such images contribute to historical memory About to Die focuses on one emotionally charged category of news photograph depictions of individuals who are facing imminent death as a prism for addressing such vital questions Tracking events as wide ranging as the 1906 San Francisco Earthquake the Holocaust the Vietnam War and 9/11 Barbie Zelizer demonstrates that modes of journalistic depiction and the power of the image are immense cultural forces that are still far from understood Through a survey of a century of photojournalism including close analysis of over sixty photos About to Die provides a framework and vocabulary for understanding the news imagery that so profoundly shapes our view of the world One Girl's Struggle to Grow Up Shirley Anne Carpenter,2021-05-09 Story of a girl growing up despite several problems and insecurities but a very exciting life nevertheless Unbroken Angela Sterritt,2023-05-30 A remarkable life story Angela Sterritt is a formidable storyteller and a passionate advocate Cherie Dimaline author of The Marrow Thieves Sterritt's story is living proof of how courageous Indigenous women are Tanya Talaga author of Seven Fallen Feathers and All Our Relations Unbroken is an extraordinary work of memoir and investigative journalism focusing on missing and murdered Indigenous women and girls written by an award winning Gitksan journalist who survived life on the streets against all odds As a Gitksan teenager navigating life on the streets Angela Sterritt wrote in her journal to help her survive and find her place in the world Now an acclaimed journalist she writes for major news outlets to push for justice and to light a path for Indigenous women girls and survivors In her brilliant debut Sterritt shares her memoir alongside investigative reporting into cases of missing and murdered Indigenous women in Canada showing how colonialism and racism led to a society where Sterritt struggled to survive as a young person and where the lives of Indigenous women and girls are ignored and devalued Growing up Sterritt was steeped in the stories of her ancestors grandparents who carried bentwood boxes of berries hunted and trapped and later fought for rights and title to that land But as a vulnerable young woman kicked out of the family home and living on the street Sterritt inhabited places that today are infamous for being communities where women have gone missing or been murdered Vancouver's Downtown Eastside and later on Northern BC's Highway of Tears Sterritt faced darkness she experienced violence from partners and strangers and saw friends and community members die or go missing But she navigated the street group homes and SROs to finally find her place in journalism and academic excellence at university relying entirely on her own strength resilience and creativity along with the support of her ancestors and community to find her way She could have been me Sterritt acknowledges today and her empathy for victims survivors and families drives her present day investigations into the lives of missing and murdered Indigenous women In the end Sterritt steps into a place of power demanding accountability from the media and the public exposing racism and showing that there is much work to do on the path towards understanding the truth But most importantly she proves that the strength and brilliance of Indigenous women is unbroken and that together they can build lives of joy and abundance Death, Loss, and Grief in Literature for Youth Alice Crosetto,Rajinder Garcha,2012-11-21 All human beings encounter loss and death as well as the grief associated with these experiences It is therefore important for children and adolescents to understand that such events are inevitable and to learn how to accept loss and cope with their emotions In order to help children through their pain parents and caregivers need access to the proper resources that will help them discuss these topics and educational professionals need reliable resources for creating courses of study on these subjects In Death Loss and Grief in
