The Global Factory Analysis And Action For A New Economic Era:

The Global Factory Rachael Kamel,1990 The Global Factory Rachel Kamel,1990 Race in the Global Era Clarence Lusane,1997 This is a provocative accessible collection that examines U S racial barriers boundaries and identities through critiques of constructed marketed and consumed images Global Production Edna Bonacich,1994-06 Pacific Rim scholars look at globalization s impact on international economics Global Village Or Global Pillage Jeremy Brecher,Tim Costello,1998 In clear accessible language Brecher and Costello describe how people around the world have started challenging the New World Economy From the Zapatistas of Chiapas to students in France to the broad based anti NAFTA and anti GATT coalitions in the United States opposition to economic globalization Brecher and Costello argue is becoming a worldwide revolt The Global Resistance Reader Louise Amoore,2005 The Global Resistance Reader provides the first comprehensive collection of work on the phenomenal rise of transnational social movements and resistance politics from the visible struggles against the financial economic and political authority of large international organizations such as the World Trade Organization World Bank and International Monetary Fund to the much less visible acts of resistance in everyday life The conceptual debates substantive themes and case studies have been selected to open up the idea of global resistance to interrogation and discussion by students and to provide a one stop orientation for researchers journalists policymakers and activists Management Consultancy and Banking in an Era of Globalization A. Jones,2003-11-03 Management consultancy and investment banking have been held up as industries at the forefront of contemporary globalization Using an inter disciplinary approach ranging across economics economic geography sociology and management studies Andrew Jones analyzes the nature of globalization within business service transnational corporations in these sectors Using qualitative research with leading business managers he focuses on the social and cultural nature of doing global service business in an era of increasing integration of the world economy Creating a New World Economy Gerald Epstein,2009-01-30 Twenty five economists set out the challenges posed by a global economy

Global/Local Rob Wilson,Wimal Dissanayake,1996-05-27 This groundbreaking collection focuses on what may be for cultural studies the most intriguing aspect of contemporary globalization the ways in which the postnational restructuring of the world in an era of transnational capitalism has altered how we must think about cultural production Mapping a new world space that is simultaneously more globalized and localized than before these essays examine the dynamic between the movement of capital images and technologies without regard to national borders and the tendency toward fragmentation of the world into increasingly contentious enclaves of difference ethnicity and resistance Ranging across issues involving film literature and theory as well as history politics economics sociology and anthropology these deeply interdisciplinary essays explore the interwoven forces of globalism and localism in a variety of cultural settings with a particular emphasis on the Asia Pacific region Powerful readings of the new image culture transnational film genre and the politics of spectacle are offered as is a critique of globalization as the latest guise of colonization Articles that unravel the complex links between the global and local in terms of the unfolding narrative of capital are joined by work that illuminates phenomena as diverse as yellow cab interracial sex in Japan machinic desire in Robocop movies and the Pacific Rim city An interview with Fredric Jameson by Paik Nak Chung on globalization and Pacific Rim responses is also featured as is a critical afterword by Paul Bov

Positioned at the crossroads of an altered global terrain this volume the first of its kind analyzes the evolving transnational imaginary the full scope of contemporary cultural production by which national identities of political allegiance and economic regulation are being undone and in which imagined communities are being reshaped at both the global and local levels of everyday existence

Anthropology and the Global Factory Frances Rothstein, Michael L. Blim, 1992 The world is fast becoming a global factory in which workers entrepreneurs and multinational corporations find themselves producing for the world capitalist market This collection of original essays explores in concrete anthropological detail the ways that people throughout the world have been drawn into this new international labor web Broad in scope and far reaching in their analyses the chapters in this book offer numerous examples of this new world order The case studies focus on industrialization in small scale workshops and informal work at home situations as well as multinational corporations Undertaken in every continent in core as well as peripheral regions the studies cover the perspectives of the workers the entrepreneurs and the corporations In this systematic view of the capitalization of the world economy the contributors demonstrate how new economic linkages are being formed between world markets and small scale entrepreneurs and home based local producers and how late developing regions attempt to gain economic sovereignty through the marketing of local product specialties At the same time the contributors investigations provide concrete evidence of local efforts to create culturally distinct and socially equitable lives showing how the spread of the world capitalist economy changes the everyday lives of people They point to ways in which people use their local traditions of kinship culture and community to resist and shape economic change to more satisfying local ends
