John C. Fredriksen

The K File The Royal Air Force Of The 1930s:

A Flying Life: An Enthusiast's Photographic Record of British Aviation in the 1930s Richard Riding, 2014-03-27 A Flying Life An Enthusiast's Photographic Record of British Aviation in the 1930s consists of photographs that were taken by E J Riding the author's father who spent his working life in the aviation industry He was apprenticed to A V Roe Company and employed as an aircraft engineer up to the war During the war Riding became an AID inspector and was seconded to Fairey Aviation London Aircraft Production and the de Havilland Aircraft Company latterly signing out Halifax bombers and Mosquitoes as airworthy and ready for test flying Sadly Riding was killed in a flying accident in 1950 During his short life he gained a lasting reputation as an engineer professional photographer draughtsman and aero modeller Riding began taking photographs of aircraft in 1931 aged fifteen Fortunately he kept copious notes recording the locations and dates of when and where aircraft were photographed More importantly he noted aircraft colour schemes details rarely recorded by the press at the time The aircraft types photographed by Riding ranged from the Tiger Moth RAF fighters ultra lights to airliners the whole giving a good cross section of flying in Britain up to the outbreak of the Second World War The book's photographs are of excellent quality and do not all consist of sterile bog standard side views Many depict aircraft being stripped for maintenance and servicing others show aircraft dumped or after having crashed Although approached in a generally light hearted manner the book features in depth and informative captions International Warbirds John C.

Fredriksen, 2001-08-01 In depth descriptions and photographs of the aircraft of 21 nations presented with a unique human dimension that goes behind the machines to the people involved Invaluable for specialists accessible to enthusiasts International Warbirds An Illustrated Guide to World Military Aircraft 1914 2000 puts the most legendary fighter aircraft of the 20th century developed outside the United States on vivid display It offers 336 illustrated biographies of the most significant warplanes used in squadron service from World War I to the Balkan conflict including numerous models from Great Britain France Russia and Japan as well as notable machines from Israel Canada China India Brazil and other nations Entries span the history and scope of military aircraft from bombers and fighters to transports trainers reconnaissance craft sea planes and helicopters with each capsule history combining nuts and bolts technical data with the story of that model's evolution and use Together these portraits offer an exciting well researched tribute to visionary designers and builders as well as courageous pilots and crews across the globe and tell a vivid tale of how air power became such a decisive factor in modern warfare RAF Fighters Before the Storm Martin Derry, Neil Robinson, 2024-07-30 When the First World War ended the then recently established Royal Air Force was awash with aircraft of all descriptions More surprising perhaps was the fact that despite an ongoing cull of obsolescing types on the last day of 1919 the RAF still possessed 9 122 non obsolete aircraft with a further 1 100 more assigned to the Fleet Air Arm while the famous SE 5A and Sopwith Camel had by this time largely been consigned to history the RAF possessed no less than 1 860 Sopwith Snipes which from 1920 would become the RAF's standard single seat fighter for years to come. Other core types on charge on 31 December 1919 included some 1 650 Bristol F 2B fighters and 1 250 de Havilland DH 9As which together with the Snipe accounted for over fifty per cent of the RAF's inventory at that time. Avro 504 training aircraft accounted for a further 2 700 airframes. In this Flight Craft Special the authors provide a detailed and informative pictorial history of those scout fighter aircraft that served in an operational capacity with the RAF from January 1920 until the last day of 1939, a period in which Britain once again moved from an era of peace to war with an old enemy, albeit this time Hitler's totalitarian National Socialist Germany as opposed to the Imperial Germany of old. As well as covering each of the fighter types used during the inter-war period and featuring most of the squadrons, the photographs themselves convey the sense of the technical advances that rapidly took root within Britain's aero industries from the mid 1930s onwards, moving from the brightly marked overall silver wood and linen biplanes to the dull camouflaged metal skinned monoplanes. The progression of machine gun development from the Lewis and Vickers of the First World War to the later Browning is covered, spanning the days of the biplanes' two fixed synchronised Lewis or Vickers 303 inch machine guns mounted in the forward fuselage to eight wing mounted 303 inch Browning machine guns in the new monoplane fighters. There is also a small but fascinating section on the monoplane also runs the monoplane fighters that were designed and had prototypes built but failed to reach the finishing post.

A Quiet Country Town David Gibbings, 2015-04-06 an excellent read. AEROSPACE magazine. In 1915 Westland Aircraft Works was established in the country town of Yeovil. Since then aircraft have been designed, manufactured and tested at Westland, including the Lysander which was used to transport British agents to Europe during the Second World War. In 1948 the company focused solely on helicopters and its aircraft have been sent all over the world since then, used in life saving with Air Ambulance and Search and Rescue and deployed in warfare such as Balkans, Iraq and Afghanistan. In this new and updated edition of A Quiet Country Town David Gibbings celebrates over 100 years of Westland through an anthology of writings that retell the company's history and its special relationship with Yeovil, which has rarely been quiet since the first aircraft took off from the airfield that now lies at its heart.

Royal Air Force Fighter Command Losses of the Second World War Norman L. R. Franks, 1997. This volume sees the tide turning in the Allies' favour with more strikes into the Reich being undertaken with Fighter Command escorting medium bombers.

Heroes All Steve Bond, 2010-10-19. This WWII history shares the personal stories of frontline airmen from all sides of the conflict, gathered through original interviews. Aviation historian Steve Bond has spent years interviewing veterans of World War II. He recorded the stories of former airmen and crewmembers who shared the same pieces of sky at the same time. The project brought together British and German, German and Russian, British and Italian, American and German, sometimes literally. In Heroes All Bond presents the stories of these veterans, some of whom are household names, with annotations and overviews providing historical context. This is not a book about the rights and wrongs of war nor the strategies of the military commanders. It is about the experiences and feelings of those on the front line. This volume includes stories and recollections from veterans of the Air Transport Auxiliary British Army Fleet Air Arm Italian air force Luftwaffe Royal Air Force Royal Canadian Air Force and Navy Soviet air force US Army US Army Air Force US Navy and other groupings The Royal Air Force: Rearmament 1930-1939 Ian M. Philpott, 2005 The K File James J. Halley, 1995

Encyclopedia of Flight: Stabilizers - Ferdinand von Zeppelin Tracy Irons-Georges, 2002 The Encyclopedia of Flight bridges the gap between theoretical concepts and practical applications between scientific information and historical issues This three volume work provides information about animal and human made flight in a way that is accessible to high school and undergraduate students general readers and aviation enthusiasts It examines a wide range of topics from birds and balloons to jets and spacecraft Aviation News , 2008
