The Kantian Philosophy Of Space:

The Kantian Philosophy of Space Christopher Browne Garnett, 1939 Presents an examination of Kant's views of space as he developed them between 1747 and 1787 Considers his views in relation to the theories on space from Newton and Leibniz and also his contemporaries S Alexander Whitehead and C D Broad The Kantian Philosophy of Space Christopher Browne Garnett (jr.), 1965 The Kantian Philosophy of Space Christopher Browne Garnett (jr.), 1965 The Kantian Philosophy of Space Christopher Browne Garnett Jr, 2015-09-06 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant The Kantian Philosophy of Space Christopher Browne Garnett, 1939 Presents an examination of Kant's views of space as he developed them between 1747 and 1787 Considers his views in relation to the theories on space from Newton and Leibniz and also his contemporaries S Alexander Whitehead and C D Broad The Philosophy of Space and Time Hans Reichenbach, 2012-03-13 A clear penetrating exposition of developments in physical science and mathematics brought about by non Euclidean geometries including in depth coverage of the foundations of geometry theory of time other topics Space, Geometry, and Kant's Transcendental Deduction of the Categories Thomas C. Vinci, 2015 Thomas C Vinci aims to reveal and assess the structure of Kant's argument in the Critique of Pure Reason called the Transcendental Deduction of the Categories At the end of the first part of the Deduction in the B edition Kant states that his purpose is achieved to show that all intuitions in general are subject to the categories On the standard reading this means that all of our mental representations including those originating in sense experience are structured by conceptualization But this reading encounters an exegetical problem Kant states in the second part of the Deduction that a major part of what remains to be shown is that empirical intuitions are subject to the categories How can this be if it has already been shown that intuitions in general are subject to the categories Vinci calls this the Triviality Problem and he argues that solving it requires denying the standard reading In its place he proposes that intuitions in general and empirical intuitions constitute disjoint classes and that while all intuitions for Kant are unified there are two kinds of unification logical unification vs aesthetic unification Only the former is due to the categories A second major theme of the book is that Kant's

Idealism comes in two versions for laws of nature and for objects of empirical intuition and that demonstrating these versions is the ultimate goal of the Deduction of the Categories and the similarly structured Deduction of the Concepts of Space respectively Vinci shows that the Deductions have the argument structure of an inference to the best explanation for correlated domains of explananda each arrived at by independent applications of Kantian epistemic and geometrical methods

Colonial Space J.K. Noyes, 2012-10-12 First Published in 1992 This book is about space of a colony and how it was produced It began as a study of the literature of the German colony of South West Africa between the years 1884 and 1915 The author's aim is to demonstrate the active role which literature had played in structuring the experience of the colony If it could be shown that literature not only describes but also helps to structure the forms of experience then it would follow that it also plays an important role in structuring the experience of colonization and hence the form of the colony itself From the outset therefore the study was concerned with a number of issues centering around colonization representation experience and social form where spatiality is the concept which allows us to understand how these various aspects of colonialism interrelate

The Architectonic of Philosophy Leslie Jaye Kavanaugh, 2007 Whereas the history of philosophy defines metaphysics as asking the question What is Being here is asked Where is Being What is to be analyzed is indeed part of the tradition of metaphysics to inquire about Being qua being but here the inquiry is into its structure its position within the ontological whole The concept of the architectonic is borrowed from Kant In this work three philosophical structures are chosen for a more extensive examination the three architectonics are that of Plato's Chora Aristoteles continuum and finally Leibniz's labyrinth Back cover

The Deep Metaphysics of Space Edward Slowik, 2016-10-12 This volume explores the inadequacies of the two standard conceptions of space or spacetime substantivalism and relationism and in the process proposes a new historical interpretation of these physical theories This book also examines and develops alternative ontological conceptions of space and explores additional historical elements of seventeenth century theories and other metaphysical themes The author first discusses the two main opposing theories of the ontology of space One known as substantivalism proposes space to be an entity that can exist independently of material things The other relationism contends that space is a relation among material things Readers will learn about specific problems with this dichotomy First Newton and Leibniz are often upheld as the retrospective forerunners of substantivalism and relationism But their work often contradicts the central tenets of these views Second these theories have proven problematic when transferred to a modern setting especially with regards to general relativity and the recent quantum gravity hypotheses The author details an alternative set of concepts that address these problems The author also develops a new classificational system that provides a more accurate taxonomy for the elements of all spatial ontologies This classification obtains successful analogies between Newton Leibniz and other natural philosophers with contemporary physical theories
