The Lyrical Novel ; Studies in Hermann Hesse, Andre Gide, and Virginia Woolf Ralph Freedman, 1971 The Lyrical Novel Katherine Blood Hoffman, 1963 Novels of Virginia Woolf Randhir Pratap Singh, 2004-12 The Lyrical Vision of María Luisa Bombal Celeste Kostopulos-Cooperman, 1988 This volume contains an examination of what are described as the most poetic examples of Chilean prose written in the 20th century By adopting Ralph Freedman s conceptual definition of lyrical narrative and using it as her point of departure Professor Kostopulos Cooperman argues that the protean and magical nature of Bombal s lyrical prose transcends the causal temporal and spatial movement that characterizes conventional fiction In her view Bombal s work is rather a narrative that arises in the poetic imagination of a narrator who creates a tapestry of expanding musical and pictorial patterns frequently reflecting the inner lives of her protagonists alienated heroines who withdraw into an illusory world of dreams fantasies and idealized realities where the conflict between self and other is rendered through a suggestive and contemplative network of subjective associations Hermann Hesse Harold Bloom, 2003 Hermann Hesse s introspective lyrical writing won him praise from the literary world while his sense of estrangement from industrialized civilization and endorsement of pacifism brought him wide popular approval Winner of the Nobel Prize for The Glass Bead Game Hesse renders life s callings in a way that has called readers to a renewed sense of purpose and possibility Virginia Woolf and the Poetry of Fiction Stella McNichol, 2018-02-21 Originally published in 1990 Virginia Woolf and the Poetry of Fiction provides a stylistic study of the fiction of Virginia Woolf The book examines what is generally described as a traditional novel examining such works as Jacob s Room and the way in which meaning is nonetheless conveyed poetically The book argues that her early novels are shown to contain writing of considerable sophistication and maturity and how her major works of fiction are approached in a more specific way Mrs Dalloway through its poetic rhythms

To the Lighthouse as a multi perspectival exploration of a reality embodied in a single image and The Waves as a play poem

Virginia Woolf and Poetry Emily Kopley, 2021 Offers a thorough reinterpretation of the motivations and aims of Woolf's canonical work and provides a major case study of genre rivalry It is written in clear and lively language and maintains a narrative drive as it traces Woolf's reading and writing over her lifetime Literary Aesthetics of Trauma Reina Van der Wiel, 2014-04-08 Literary Aesthetics of Trauma Virginia Woolf and Jeanette Winterson investigates a fundamental shift from the 1920s to the present day in the way that trauma is aesthetically expressed Modernism's emphasis on impersonality and narrative abstraction has been replaced by the contemporary trauma memoir and an ethical imperative to bear witness

Blending and the Study of Narrative Ralf Schneider, Marcus Hartner, 2012-10-30 The theory of Blending or Conceptual Integration proposed by Gilles Fauconnier and Marc Turner is one of most promising cognitive theories of meaning production It has been successfully applied to the analysis of poetic discourse and micro textual elements such as metaphor Prose narrative has so far received significantly less attention The present volume aims to remedy this situation Following an introductory discussion of the connections between narrative and the processes of blending the contributions demonstrate the range of applications of the theory to the study of narrative They cover issues such as time and space literary character and perspective genre story levels and fictional minds some chapters show how such phenomena as metalepsis counterfactual narration intermediality extended metaphors and suspense can be fruitfully studied from the vantage point of Conceptual Integration Working within a theoretical framework situated at the intersection of narratology and the cognitive sciences the book provides both fresh readings for individual literary and film narratives and new impulses for post classical narratology Plot Elizabeth Dipple, 2017-07-06 First published in 1970 this work examines Plot as a literary term It traces the two and contrary ways of considering the word the Aristotelian and the neo classic interpretations It then goes on to examine the methods by which the idea of plot has been expanded in modern criticism through a proliferation of critical terms clustering around a vital idea of poesis and through the development of time theories both literary and philosophical which describe the action of creation In doing so the book leads the reader from the standard definition of plot as a hackneyed mechanical term to its enormous possibilities as both a definition and an action Lyric Generations G. Gabrielle Starr, 2015-11 Eighteenth century British literary history was long characterized by two central and seemingly discrete movements the emergence of the novel and the development of Romantic lyric poetry In fact recent scholarship reveals that these genres are inextricably bound constructions of interiority developed in novels changed ideas about what literature could mean and do encouraging the new focus on private experience and self perception developed in lyric poetry In Lyric Generations Gabrielle Starr rejects the genealogy of lyric poetry in which Romantic poets are thought to have built solely and directly upon the works of Chaucer Spenser Shakespeare and Milton She argues instead that novelists such as Richardson Haywood Behn and others while drawing upon earlier lyric conventions ushered in a new language of self expression and community which profoundly affected the aesthetic goals of lyric poets Examining the works of Cowper Smith Wordsworth Coleridge and Keats in light of their competitive dialogue with the novel Starr advances a literary history that considers formal characteristics as products of historical change In a world increasingly defined by prose poets adapted the new forms characters and moral themes of the novel in order to reinvigorate poetic practice Refreshingly this impressive study of poetic form does not read the eighteenth century as a slow road to Romanticism but fleshes out the period with surprising and important new detail Times Literary Supplement G Gabrielle Starr is the Seryl Kushner Dean of the College of Arts and Science and a professor of English at New York University She is the author of Feeling Beauty The Neuroscience of Aesthetic Experience
