The Macmillan Companion To Scottish Li:

Joanna Baillie, Romantic Dramatist Thomas C. Crochunis, 2004-02-24 This superb collection of new essays offers a unique insight into the work of a leading women dramatist of the Romantic era Contributors offer contextual material for those new to Baillie s work examinations of the relationships between her plays and the philosophical and scientific writing of the era discussion of Baillie s theatrical methods extended interpretations of individual plays Ending years of neglect of Baillie s crucial work this volume is essential reading for those working on Romanticism women s writing or drama of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries

The Routledge Companion to Accounting History John Richard Edwards, Stephen Walker, 2020-04-15 The Routledge Companion to Accounting History presents a single volume synthesis of research in this expanding field exploring and analysing accounting from ancient civilisations to the modern day No longer perceived as the narrow study of how a mysterious technique was used in past the scope of accounting history has widened substantially This revised and updated volume moves beyond the history of accounting technologies accounting theories and practices and the accountants who applied them Expert contributors from around the world explore the interfaces between accounting and the economy society culture and the polity Accounting history is shown to offer important insights into such disparate phenomena as the evolution of capitalism control of labour gender and family relationships racial exploitation the operation of religious organisations and the functioning of the state Illuminating the foundation and development of accounting systems this updated classic book opens the field to a new generation of accounting scholars and historians around the world

The Poetics of Empire James Grainger, 2000-03-01 First published in 1764 The Sugar Cane is a major work in the history of Anglophone Caribbean literature It is the only poem written in the Caribbean before the Twentieth Century to achieve a place in the Western canon Grainger sought to interpret his personal experience of the Caribbean through his wide and deep reading in literature from the Greeks to Milton Grainger wrote a West India Georgic challenging assumptions about poetic diction and the proper subject matter of poetry and boldly asserting the importance of the Caribbean to the Eighteenth Century British empire This is the first reliable text and critical study of the poem setting it within the context of Grainger s life and work

Beside the Bard George S. Christian, 2020-03-13 Beside the Bard argues that Scottish poetry in the age of Burns reclaims not a single past dominated and overwritten by the unitary national language of an elite ruling class but a past that conceptualizes the Scottish nation in terms of local self identification linguistic multiplicity cultural and religious difference and transnational political and cultural affiliations This fluid conception of the nation may accommodate a post Union British self identification but it also recognizes the instrumental and historically contingent nature of Britishness Whether male or female loyalist or radical literati or autodidacts poets such as Alexander Wilson Carolina Olyphant Robert Tannahill and John Lapraik among others adamantly refuse to imagine a single nation British or otherwise instead preferring an open polyvocal field on which they can stage new national and personal formations and fight new revolutions In this sense Scotland is a revolutionary category always subject to creative destruction and reformation Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press A Companion to Medieval Poetry Corinne Saunders, 2010-02-12 A Companion to Medieval Poetry presents a series of original essays from leading literary scholars that explore English poetry from the Anglo Saxon period up to the 15th century Organised into three parts to echo the chronological and stylistic divisions between the Anglo Saxon Middle English and Post Chaucerian periods each section is introduced with contextual essays providing a valuable introduction to the society and culture of the time Combines a general discussion of genres of medieval poetry with specific consideration of texts and authors including Beowulf Sir Gawain and the Green Knight Chaucer Gower and Langland Features original essays by eminent scholars including Andy Orchard Carl Schmidt Douglas Gray and Barry Windeatt who present a range of theoretical historical and cultural approaches to reading medieval poetry as well as offering close analysis of individual texts and traditions Modern Irish and Scottish Literature Richard Alan Barlow, Richard Barlow, 2023 Modern Irish and Scottish Literature Connections Contrasts Celticisms explores the ways Irish and Scottish literatures have influenced each other from the 1760s onwards Although an early form of Celticism disappeared with the demise of the Celtic Revivals of Ireland and Scotland the Celtic world and the Celtic temperament remained key themes in central texts of Irish and Scottish literature well into the twentieth century Richard Barlow examines the emergence development and transformation of Celticism within Irish and Scottish writing and identifies key connections between modern Irish and Scottish authors and texts By reading works from figures such as James Macpherson Walter Scott Sydney Owenson Augusta Gregory W B Yeats Fiona Macleod James Joyce Samuel Beckett Hugh MacDiarmid Sorley MacLean and Seamus Heaney in their political and cultural contexts Barlow provides a new account of the characteristics and phases of literary Celticism within Romanticism Modernism and beyond Contract Before the Enlightenment Stephen Bogle, 2023-03-08 Contract Before the Enlightenment represents a fresh investigation of what was then a ground breaking approach to the law of contract written by James Dalrymple Viscount Stair 1619 1695 lauded by some as the founding father of Scots law As a judge and public figure Stair was at the forefront of both political and legal developments in Scotland from the 1640s until he died in 1695 This study explores the development and reception of his ideas relating to the law of contract on the eve of the Scottish Enlightenment It is here that Stair's legal legacy is most evident and where the imprint of Calvinism Aristotelianism and Protestant natural law can be found within Scottish legal thought In his legal treatise the Institutions of Law of Scotland you find a sophisticated innovative and novel synthesis of Roman law with Stair's own Calvinist variant of a Protestant natural law theory Yet it is also possible to find once the theistic premises of Stair's natural law theory are dropped the beginnings of a form of Scottish moral philosophy that rose to prominence in the eighteenth century Undoubtedly Stair is not only a key figure within Scottish legal history but also significant to how we understand the transition of Scottish intellectual life from the execution of Charles I to the emergence of the Scottish Enlightenment      The Oxford Handbook of Robert Burns Gerard Carruthers, 2024 Robert Burns 1759-96 was a producer of lyrical verse satirical poetry in English and Scots a song writer and song collector a writer of bawdy journals commonplace books and correspondence Sculpting his own image his untutored rusticity was a sincere persona as much as it was not entirely accurate Burns was an antiquarian national patriot pioneer of what today we would call folk culture and a man of the Enlightenment and Romanticism This handbook considers Burns's reception in his own time and beyond extending to his iconic status as a world writer      Haunted Spaces in Twenty-First Century British Nature Writing Anneke Lubkowitz, 2020-06-08 This study investigates the figure of haunting in the New Nature Writing It begins with a historical survey of nature writing and traces how it came to represent an ideal of natural space as empty of human history and social conflict Building on a theoretical framework which combines insights from ecocriticism and spatial theory the author explores the spatial dimensions of haunting and hauntology and shows how 21st century writers draw on a Gothic repertoire of seemingly supernatural occurrences and spectral imagery to portray natural space as disturbed uncanny and socially contested Iain Sinclair and Robert Macfarlane are revealed to apply psychogeography's interest in hidden histories and haunted places to spaces associated with wilderness and the countryside Kathleen Jamie's allusions to the Gothic are put in relation to her feminist re-writing of the outdoors and John Burnside's use of haunting is shown to dismantle fictions of the far north This book provides not only a discussion of a wide range of factual and fictional narratives of the present but also an analysis of the intertextual dialogue with the Romantic tradition which enfolds in these texts      Rewriting the Past in Scottish Literature, 1350-1550 Kate Ash-Irisarri, 2025-04 Considers how Anglo-Scottish conflict was memorialised reimagined and embedded by later writers The Anglo-Scottish Wars of Independence are often treated in historical and poetical works produced in Scotland between the fourteenth and sixteenth century from chronicles and hagiographical romances to advisory and commemorative poems Through an examination of such texts this book explores how late medieval writers drew on the memory of the wars to articulate a collective identity and how literary and historical frameworks were deeply influenced by shifting Anglo-Scottish relations It covers a range of topics how borders textual geographic and cultural became a focus for articulations of national memory the utilisation of origin myths and royal genealogy anxieties around failures of memory or deliberate acts of forgetting and the impact of the Battle of Flodden 1513 on writing about Scottish nationhood Dealing in particular with Bower's Scotichronicon Hary's Wallace The Complaynt of Scotland and Lyndsay's Dreme this study argues that these writers drew on understandings of the arts of memory to shape selective and collective recollections of the past as a response to contemporary concerns providing an emotive memorialisation of Scotland's history and Lyndsay's Dreme this study argues that these writers drew on understandings of the arts of memory to shape selective and collective recollections of the past as a response to contemporary concerns providing an emotive memorialisation of Scotland's history and Lyndsay's Dreme this study argues that these writers drew on understandings of the arts of memory to shape selective and collective recollections of the past as a response to contemporary concerns providing an emotive memorialisation of Scotland's history and Lyndsay's Dreme this study argues that these writers drew on understandings of the arts of memory to shape selective and collective recollections of the past as a response to contemporary concerns providing an emotive memorialisation of Scotland's history

The Lily and the Thistle William Calin, 2014-01-01 In The Lily and the Thistle William Calin argues for a reconsideration of the French impact on medieval and renaissance Scottish literature Calin proposes that much of traditional medieval and early modern Scottish culture thought to be native to Scotland or primarily from England is in fact strikingly international and European By situating Scottish works in a broad intertextual context Calin reveals which French genres and modes were most popular in Scotland and why The Lily and the Thistle provides appraisals of medieval narrative texts in the high courtly mode equivalent to the French amoureux comic didactic and satirical texts and Scots romance Special attention is accorded to texts composed originally in French such as the Arthurian Roman de Fergus as well as to the lyrics of Mary Queen of Scots and little known writers from the French and Scottish canons By considering both medieval and renaissance works Calin is able to observe shifts in taste and French influence over the centuries
