The Making Of Kew:

Palace of Palms Kate Teltscher,2020-07-14 Teltscher is a remarkable new historian wholly original William Dalrymple Daringly innovative when it opened in 1848 the Palm House in Kew Gardens remains one of the most beautiful glass buildings in the world today Seemingly weightless vast and yet light the Palm House floats free from architectural convention at once monumental and ethereal From a distance the crowns of the palms within are silhouetted in the central dome close to banana leaves thrust themselves against the glass To enter it is to enter a tropical fantasy The body is assaulted by heat light and the smell of damp vegetation In Palace of Palms Kate Teltscher tells the extraordinary story of its creation and of the Victorians obsession with the palms that filled it It is a story of breathtaking ambition of scientific discovery and crucially of the remarkable men whose vision it was The Palm House was commissioned by the charismatic first Director of Kew Sir William Hooker designed by the audacious Irish engineer Richard Turner and managed by Kew's forthright curator John Smith who battled with boilers and floods to ensure the survival of the rare and wondrous plants it housed     The Making of Kew Madeleine Bingham (Baroness Clanmorris.),1975-01-01     The Parliamentary Debates Great Britain. February 20 April 1997     From the Frontline Richard Evans,2013-06-14 Sir Basil Clarke was a courageous and intrepid First World War newspaper correspondent In late 1914 he defied a ban on reporters by living as an outlaw in Dunkirk and by the time he was forced to leave was one of only two remaining journalists near the Front Later in the war he reported from the Battle of the Somme and caused a global scandal by accusing the government of effectively feeding the Germans by failing to properly enforce its naval blockade Closer to home he was the first to publish reports from the Easter Rising Clarke became the UK s first public relations officer in 1917 and established the first PR firm in 1924 His public relations career included leading British propaganda during the Irish War of Independence and his official response to Bloody Sunday in 1920 is still controversial today In this the first biography of Clarke Richard Evans expertly portrays the life and character of this extraordinary man a man who risked his life so that the public had independent news from the war and who became the father of the UK s public relations industry

The Allotment Plot Nicole Tonkovich,2022-04 Named the 2013 Caroline Bancroft History Prize Honor Book by the Denver Public Library The Allotment Plot reexamines the history of allotment on the Nez Perce Reservation from 1889 to 1892 to account for and emphasize the Nez Perce side of the story By including Nez Perce responses to allotment Nicole Tonkovich argues that the assimilationist aims of allotment ultimately failed due in large part to the agency of the Nez Perce people themselves throughout the allotment process The Nez Perce were actively involved in negotiating the terms under which allotment would proceed and were simultaneously engaged in ongoing efforts to protect their stories and other cultural properties from institutional appropriation by the allotment agent Alice C Fletcher a respected anthropologist and her photographer and assistant E Jane Gay The Nez Perce engagement in this process laid a foundation for the long term survival of the tribe and its culture Making use of previously unexamined archival sources Fletcher s letters Gay s photographs and journalistic accounts oral tribal histories and analyses of performances such as parades and verbal negotiations Tonkovich assembles a masterful portrait of Nez Perce efforts to control their own future and provides a vital counternarrative of the allotment period which is often portrayed as disastrous to Native polities
