The Golden Hordes International Tourism And The Pleasure Periphery:

The Golden Hordes Louis Turner, John Ash, 1976-01-01 Tourism and the Less Developed World David Harrison, 2001 Many less developed countries are expanding their tourism industries and these are seen to be crucial to their economic development Yet such activities can also create social cultural and environmental problems This book provides a review of many of the key issues involved in tourism in developing countries and presents a range of case studies These are interpreted from a perspective of the sociology and anthropology of development Case study chapters are presented from Africa Asia the Caribbean Latin America and Oceania The book provides essential reading for advanced students and researchers in tourism and development studies Time and Commodity Culture John Frow, 1997 Time and Commodity Culture is a set of four linked essays on the cultural systems of postmodernity Rather than taking modernity and postmodernity as real historical epochs however it understands them as strategies for organizing time and social order by means of a nostalgic division within them Each essay explores a particular dimension of this organization of time especially in relation to the anxieties and the possibilities created by the commodification of culture The central essay Gift and Commodity studies two areas in which the speed of commodification has increased markedly in recent years That of the person and that of information Using a mix of anthropological legal economic and historical materials it investigates the privatization of the commons in information by way of such things as the development of markets in human DNA the trade in human organs and the creation of property rights in personality What Was Postmodernism analyses the structured anxiety about the commodification of culture that is called postmodern theory A further essay explores tourism as a figure of modernity and a final essay on memory explores the phenomena of recovered memory and of Holocaust remembrance as ways of constructing temporally ordered forms of the real Tourism in Peripheries Dieter K. Müller, Bruno Jansson, 2006-11-30 Using case studies from North America Scandinavia Scotland New Zealand and the Polar Regions this book explores the use of tourism as a vehicle for regional development in peripheral areas It identifies the core obstacles facing tourism in peripheral regions and highlights that tourism development in peripheries is not any easy task Topophilia and Topophobia Xing Ruan, Paul Hogben, 2020-10-28 This book is about the love and hate relations that humans establish with their habitat which have been coined by discerning modern thinkers as topophilia and topophobia Whilst such affiliations with the topos our manmade as well as natural habitat have been traced back to antiquity a wide range of twentieth century cases are studied here and reflected upon by dwelling on this framework The book provides a timely reminder that the qualitative aspects of the topos sensual as well as intellectual should not be disregarded in the face of rapid technological development and the mass of building that has occurred since the turn of the millennium Topophilia and Topophobia offers speculative and historical reflections on the human habitat of the century that has just passed authored by some of the world's leading scholars and architects including Joseph Rykwert Yi Fu Tuan Vittorio Gregotti and Jean Louis Cohen Human habitats ranging broadly from the cities of the twentieth century highbrow modern architecture both in Western countries and in Asia to non architect planner designed vernacular settlements and landscapes are reviewed under the themes of topophilia and topophobia across the disciplines of architecture landscape studies philosophy human geography and urban planning Shores, Surfaces and Depths Felicity Picken, Emma Waterton, 2024-11-26 This book examines the oceanic presence in life on Earth and the ways that we engage with the oceanic worlds for play pleasure adventure and the pursuit of leisure and escape through tourism and travel The oceanic turn across the social sciences and humanities has produced a still proliferating opus of work that seeks to discover and emphasize oceanic presence in life on Earth This literal and figurative unearthing of blue spaces has encouraged scholars to gaze beyond the lands that have supported much of our experience and knowledge towards the gathering up of a more holistic appreciation of blue planetary life This widening of scholarly attention from land to sea is occurring simultaneously across a range of disciplines and fields including history archaeology anthropology comparative literature public policy cultural studies and geography With an explicit focus on leisure and tourism this edited collection follows a growing appreciation that it is our seemingly inconsequential encounters at play for pleasure and on holidays that are increasingly present and influential in our oceanic relations This volume will be of value to scholars and students interested in social and cultural history and environmental history and humanities

Stories of Practice: Tourism Policy and Planning Dianne Dredge, John Jenkins, 2016-04-01 Analyses of contemporary tourism planning and policymaking practice at local to global scales is lacking and there is an urgent need for research that informs theory and practice Illustrated with a set of cohesive theoretically informed international case studies constructed through storytelling this volume expands readers knowledge about how tourism planning and policymaking takes place Challenging traditional notions of tourism planning and policy processes this book also provides critical insights into how theoretical concepts and frameworks are applied in tourism planning and policy making practice at different spatial scales The book engages readers in the intellectual political moral and ethical issues that often surround tourism policymaking and planning highlighting the great value of reflective learning grounded in the social sciences and revealing the complexity of tourism planning and policy

The Management of Tourism Lesley Pender, Richard Sharpley, 2005 This text provides detailed coverage of the breadth of issues involved in the management of tourism businesses It explains and supports fundamental business management aspects whilst examining specific techniques required for the successful management of a variety of tourism businesses

Tourism in the Caribbean David Timothy Duval, 2004 This book brings together a high calibre team of international researchers to provide an up to date assessment of the scope of tourism and the nature of tourism development in the Caribbean past present and future Global Perspectives on Religious Tourism and Pilgrimage El-Gohary, Hatem, Edwards, David John, Eid, Riyadh, 2017-12-01 Religious studies and research has gained a lot of interest and considerable attention from researchers policy makers and practitioners during the last few years Though interest has increased religious tourism is vastly underrepresented in modern research and not much is known on the subject's presence in most countries. Global Perspectives on Religious Tourism and Pilgrimage provides emerging research on religious tourism, the cultural impact of religion and religiosity's impact on new market products. Highlighting the prevalence of religiosity, readers will learn tourism's impact on the world economy and the growing research in religious tourism. This book is an important resource for academic societies, entrepreneurs, policy makers, researchers, and educators.
