LETTER I.

Chester, Sept. 2, 1710.

JOE * will give you an account of me till I got into the boat, after which the rogues made a new bargain, and forced me to give them two crowns, and talked as if we should not be able to overtake any ship; but in half an hour we got to the yacht; for the ships lay by to wait for my lord-lieutenant's

The Journal To Stella:

The Journal to Stella Jonathan Swift, 2016-09-01 The history of the publication of the Journal to Stella is somewhat curious On Swift's death twenty five of the letters forming the closing portion of the series fell into the hands of Dr Lyon a clergyman who had been in charge of Swift for some years The letters passed to a man named Wilkes who sold them for publication They accordingly appeared in 1766 in the tenth volume of Dr Hawkesworth's quarto edition of Swift's works but the editor made many changes in the text including a suppression of most of the little language The publishers however fortunately for us were public spirited enough to give the manuscripts with one exception to the British Museum where after many years they were examined by John Forster who printed in his unfinished Life of Swift numerous passages from the originals showing the manner in which the text had been tampered with by Hawkesworth Swift himself too in his later years obliterated many words and sentences in the letters and Forster was able to restore not a few of these omissions His zeal however sometimes led him to make guesses at words which are quite undecipherable Besides Forster's work I have had the benefit of the careful collation made by Mr Ryland for his edition of 1897 Where these authorities differ I have usually found myself in agreement with Mr Ryland but I have felt justified in accepting some of Forster's readings which previously were rejected by him as uncertain and the examination of the manuscripts has enabled me to make some additions and corrections of my own Swift's writing is extremely small and abounds in abbreviations The difficulty of arriving at the true reading is therefore considerable apart from the erasures

The Journal to Stella Jonathan Swift, 2004-06-01 O Lord here is but a trifle of my letter written yet what shall Presto do for prattle prattle to entertain MD The talk now grows fresher of the Duke of Ormond for Ireland though Mr Addison says he hears it will be in commission and Lord Galway 11 one These letters of mine are a sort of journal where matters open by degrees and as I tell true or false you will find by the event whether my intelligence be good but I do not care twopence whether it be or no At night To day I was all about St Paul's and up at the top like a fool with Sir Andrew Fountaine and two more and spent seven shillings for my dinner like a puppy this is the second time he has served me so but I will never do it again though all mankind should persuade me unconsidering puppies
