The Making Of Linguistics:

The Making and Breaking of Classification Models in Linguistics Jane Klavan, 2024-06-04 The book provides a methodological blueprint for the study of constructional alternations using corpus linguistic methods in combination with different types of experimental data The book looks at a case study from Estonian This morphologically rich language is typologically different from Indo European languages such as English Corpus based studies allow us to detect patterns in the data and determine what is typical in the language Experiments are needed to determine the upper and lower limits of human classification behaviour They give us an idea of what is possible in a language and show how human classification behaviour is susceptible to more variation than corpus based models lead us to believe Corpora and forced choice data tell us that when we produce language we prefer one construction Acceptability judgement data tell us that when we comprehend language we judge both constructions as acceptable The book makes a theoretical contribution to the what why and how of constructional alternations

The Making of the Humanities Rens Bod, Jaap Maat, Thijs Weststeijn, 2025-10-01 This much awaited second volume investigates the changes in subject method and institutional context of the humanistic disciplines around 1800 offering a wealth of insights for specialists and students alike Point of departure is the pivotal question whether there was a paradigm shift in the humanities around 1800 or whether these changes were part of a much longer process The authors provide an overarching perspective including philology musicology art history linguistics historiography philosophy and literary theory They also make clear that the influence from the East from the Ottoman Empire to China was crucial for the development of the European humanistic disciplines

Rethinking Linguistics Hayley G. Davis, Talbot J. Taylor, 2003-09-02 Rethinks the aims and methods of contemporary linguistics Uses integrationist theory to exemplify how language users become language makers

The Making of Indigeneity, Curriculum History, and the Limits of Diversity Ligia (Licho) López López, 2017-10-06 Conceptually rich and grounded in cutting edge research this book addresses the often overlooked roles and implications of diversity and indigeneity in curriculum Taking a multidisciplinary approach to the development of teacher education in Guatemala Lopez provides a historical and transnational understanding of how indigenous has been negotiated as a subject object of scientific inquiry in education Moving beyond the generally accepted common sense markers of diversity such as race gender and ethnicity Lopez focuses on the often ignored histories behind the development of these markers and the crucial implications these histories have in education in Guatemala and beyond today

Syntax in the Making Marja-Liisa Helasvuo, 2001 Research on the interplay between language structure and language use has shown that grammar is shaped maintained and modified by language use In this view then grammar is not seen as existing apart from language use but rather as a set of recurrent grammaticized patterns of discourse This book focuses on syntactic structuring in Finnish from the viewpoint of language use The author sets out to study syntactic structures in their local contexts in order to discover the more global patterns and constraints on the use of these structures The coding strategies point to the clause core as the locus of syntactic structuring this is where syntactic relations emerge most clearly It is shown that the key to understanding the coding of the core syntactic relations is the category of person The clause core also shows strong intonational unity as it is most often presented in one intonation unit Furthermore analysis of spoken discourse shows the robustness of the category of noun phrase both as a clausal constituent and as a free syntactic unit the free NP

Making a Difference Honglin Chen, Ken Cruickshank, 2009-01-23 The rapid worldwide growth in migration asylum seekers and refugees and reactions to this the expansion of media and technology political and economic changes at international and local levels are both challenges and opportunities for research in applied linguistics This book presents 23 articles by key researchers exploring the ways in which applied linguistics can play a role making a difference in people's lives It is a timely publication when access to powerful discourses is increasingly an issue for many of the world's populations The book showcases the contribution of applied linguists working in such areas as language teaching and learning policy development discourse analysis language assessment language development and bilingualism in the UK Asia and Australasia The book is aimed at teachers teacher educators undergraduate and postgraduate students who are working in the areas of the applied linguistics and language education but also to anyone with an interest in language and the impact that it has on our lives The whole idea is that so many of us live our lives applying linguistics and yet we don't even think about it Shirley Brice Heath in Heath and Kramsch 2004 82 Individuals Institutions and the Uses of Literacy Shirley Brice Heath and Claire Kramsch in Conversation Journal of Applied Linguistics 1 1 75 94

Integrational Linguistics and Philosophy of Language in the Global South Sifre B. Makoni, Deryn P. Verity, Anna Kaiper-Marquez, 2021-05-26 Exploring the nature of possible relationships between Integrational Linguistics and Southern Epistemologies this volume examines various ways in which Integrational Linguistics can be used to support the decolonizing interests of Southern Epistemologies particularly the lay oriented nature of Integrational Linguistics that Southern Epistemologies find productive as a positive counter discourse As both an anti elitist and anti establishment way of thinking these chapters consider how Integrational Linguistics can be consistent with the decolonial aspirations of Southern Epistemologies They argue that the relationship between Southern Epistemologies and Integrational Linguistics is complicated by the fact that while Integrational Linguistics is critical of what it calls a segregationist view of language i.e the language myth Southern Epistemologies in language policy and planning and minority language movements find the language myth helpful in order to facilitate social transformation And yet both Integrational Linguistics and Southern Epistemologies are critical of approaches to multilingualism that are founded on notions of named languages They are also both critical of linguistics as a decontextualized and institutionalized extension of ordinary metalinguistic practices which at times influence the prejudices preconceptions and ideologies of dominant western cultures This book will prove to be an essential resource for scholars and students not only within the field of integrational linguistics but also in other language and communication fields in particular the dialogic distributed and ecological enactive approaches wherein integrational linguistics has been subjected to scrutiny and criticism Undoing

This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 International license. It is free to read at Oxford Academic and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations. Decolonizing Linguistics, the companion volume to Inclusion in Linguistics, is designed to uncover and intervene in the history and ongoing legacy of colonization and colonial thinking in linguistics and related fields. Taken together, the two volumes are the first comprehensive action-oriented book-length discussions of how to advance social justice in all aspects of the discipline. The introduction to Decolonizing Linguistics theorizes decolonization as the process of centering Black Native and Indigenous perspectives; describes the extensive dialogic and collaborative process through which the volume was developed; and lays out key principles for decolonizing linguistic research and teaching. The twenty chapters cover a wide range of languages and linguistic contexts, e.g., Bantu languages, Creoles, Dominican Spanish, Francophone Africa, Zapotec, as well as various disciplines and subfields: applied linguistics, communication, historical linguistics, language documentation and revitalization, reclamation, psycholinguistics, sociolinguistics, syntax. Contributors address such topics as refusing settler colonial practices and centering community goals in research on Indigenous languages; decolonizing research partnerships between the Global South and the Global North; and prioritizing Black Diasporic perspectives in linguistics. The volume's conclusion lays out specific actions that linguists can take through research, teaching, and institutional structures to refuse coloniality in linguistics and to move the field toward a decolonized future.
