Migration and Literature S. Frank, 2008-09-29 Migration and Literature offers a thought provoking analysis of the thematic and formal role of migration in four contemporary and canonized novelists

Günter Grass and His Critics Siegfried Mews, 2008 A comprehensive narrative overview and analysis of the criticism of the controversial German author s works When the Swedish Academy announced that G nter Grass had been awarded the 1999 Nobel Prize for Literature it singled out his first novel The Tin Drum 1959 English translation 1963 as a seminal work that had signaled the postwar rebirth of German letters auguring a new beginning after decades of linguistic and moral destruction Nearly fifty years after its publication the novel s significance has been generally acknowledged it is the uncontested favorite among Grass s works of fiction on the part of reading public and critics alike yet its canonical status tends to obscure the decidedly mixed and even hostile reactions it initially elicited Along with The Tin Drum Grass's impressive body of literary work since the 1950s has spawned a cottage industry of Grass criticism making a reliable guide through the thicket of sometimes contradictory readings a definite desideratum Siegfried Mews fills this lacuna in Grass scholarship by way of a detailed but succinct descriptive as well as analytical and evaluative overview of the scholarship from 1959 to 2005 Grass's politically motivated interventions in public discourse have kept him highly visible blurring the boundaries between politics and aesthetics Mews therefore examines not only academic criticism but also the daily and weekly press and other news media providing additional insight into the reception of Grass's works Siegfried Mews is Professor of German at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Literature of Europe and America in the 1960s Spencer Pearce, Don Piper, 1989

L. Styan, 1983-06-09 Modern drama in theory and J L Styan v 3 Günter Grass Ronald Hayman, 2024-11-01 Günter Grass is one of the writers who grew up in a Germany already in the grip of Nazism None of them has found better ways than his of translating the sordid history of the movement into fiction none has looked more critically at the denazification and reconstruction of Germany In this important study originally published in 1985 Ronald Hayman scrutinizes Grass's development and assesses his achievement He finds that Grass's more recent work does not fulfil the promise of the The Tin Drum and his other early novels While this study focuses mainly on the fiction it also takes into account the poetry plays political writing criticism and graphic work Grass is important not only as an exemplar of the guilt laden German conscience but as one of the most ambitious and accomplished living fabulists "The Fisherman and His Wife" Siegfried Mews, 1983 Grass said The Flounder is about women and food but it is also about women and war including what women have done against war unfortunately mostly silence Regarding his view on the human sexes and its influence on the novel Grass said Most women who read the book all the way through like it Those in the women's liberation movement who say there is no difference between men and women don't like it I like the difference I hate those who don't like the difference between men and women Semiotics Semiotic Society of America. Meeting, 1993 Art, Nation and Gender Síghle Bhreathnach-Lynch, 2018-01-18 This title was first published in 2003 The essay collection explores the conjunctions of nation gender and visual representation in a number of countries including Ireland Scotland Britain Canada Finland Russia and Germany during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The contributors show visual imagery to be a particularly productive focus for analysing the intersections of nation and gender since the nation and nationalism as abstract concepts have to be embodied in ways that make them imaginable especially through the means of art They explore how allegorical female figures personify the nation across a wide range of visual media from sculpture to political cartoons and how national architectures may also be gendered They show how through such representations art reveals the ethno cultural bases of nationalisms Through the study of such images the essays in this volume cast new light on the significance of gender in the construction of nationalist ideology and the constitution of the nation state In tackling the conjunctions of nation gender and visual representation the case studies presented in this publication can be seen to provide exciting new perspectives on the study of nations of gender and the history of art The range of countries chosen and the variety of images scrutinised create a broad arena for further debate
