The Organ in Manitoba James B. Hartman, 1997-12-15 Pipe organs were once a central and sometimes hotly debated part of Manitoba s cultural life The Organ in Manitoba portrays that history the instruments builders players and critics from the date of the earliest known installations to the 1990s and includes information on musical organizations such as the Royal Canadian College of Organists It documents over a century of evolution and changes from concepts of tonal design to styles of musical commentary and tastes and includes an inventory of installations and specifications for over 100 organs Well illustrated with photographs and excerpts from historical reviews and other documents it will be of interest to musicians teachers and music church and cultural historians Organ Construction John William Hinton, 1900 Musical Opinion and Music Trade Review, 1894 Raymond Cazallis Davis, 1836-1919 William Warner Bishop, 1920 Certain Tariff and Trade Bills United States. Congress. House. Committee on Ways and Means. Subcommittee on Trade, 1981 A Provincial Organ Builder in Victorian England Gordon D.W. Curtis, 2016-03-16 William Sweetland was a Bath organ builder who flourished from c 1847 to 1902 during which time he built about 300 organs mostly for churches and chapels in Somerset Gloucestershire and Wiltshire but also for locations scattered south of a line from the Wirral to the Wash Gordon Curtis places this work of a provincial organ builder in the wider context of English musical life in the latter half of the nineteenth century An introductory chapter reviews the provincial musical scene and sets the organ in the context of religious worship public concerts and domestic music making The book relates the biographical details of Sweetland s family and business history using material obtained from public and family records Curtis surveys Sweetland s organ building work in general and some of his most important organs in detail with patents and other inventions explored The musical repertoire of the provinces particularly with regard to organ recitals is discussed as well as noting Sweetland s acquaintances other organ builders architects and artists Part II of the book consists of a Gazetteer of all known organs by Sweetland organized by counties Each entry contains a short history of the instrument and its present condition Since there is no definitive published list of his work and as all the office records were lost in a fire many years ago this will be the nearest approach to a comprehensive list for this builder
