

TEXTUAL ANALYSIS

Textual analysis is a method used to interpret and understand written or spoken language to gain an understanding of meanings produced through text.

OVERVIEW

Textual analysis involves examining the structure, content, and context of a text to uncover its underlying meanings, themes, and patterns. This process typically involves identifying key ideas, analyzing the rhetorical strategies employed, and considering the cultural, historical, and social factors that may have influenced the text's creation.

EXAMPLE

- Analysis of policy documents: A scholar could analyze the policy documents of public companies to determine the evolving ways in which they approach, define, and prioritize Environmental and Social Responsibility as a key value of the companies. This could involve methods like thematic coding and word frequency analysis.

Textual Criticism And Literary Interpretation:

Textual Criticism and Literary Interpretation Jerome J. McGann, 1985 Devils and Angels Philip G. Cohen, 1991
Literary theory and textual criticism have much to teach each other writes Philip Cohen who has collected this anthology of essays that seeks to bridge what he sees as a wide rift between textual and literary critics While most Anglo American textual scholars now stress the importance of authorial intention and its key role in editorial and interpretative work many literary theorists still tend to ostracize the author and his intentions from any serious literary discussion The contributors to this collection many of whom are well known for both their practical and theoretical work in editorial fields look to recast in different ways the assumptions and working methods of Anglo American editorial scholarship Texts and Textuality Philip G. Cohen, 1997 First Published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informal company A Critique of Modern Textual Criticism Jerome J. McGann, 1983 This small but powerful book initiated a major shift in literary theory and method when it was first published in 1983 Starting from a critical inquiry into certain specialized issues in the practice of editing McGann gradually unfolds an argument for a general revaluation of the grounds of literary study as a whole A Critique of Modern Textual Criticism, Foreword by David C Greetham McGann, 2014-07-22 This small but powerful book initiated a major shift in literary theory and method when it was first published in 1983 Starting from a critical inquiry into certain specialized issues in the practice of editing McGann gradually unfolds an argument for a general revaluation of the grounds of literary study as a whole A Rationale of Textual Criticism G. Thomas Tanselle, 2010-11-24 Textual criticism the traditional term for the task of evaluating the authority of the words and punctuation of a text is often considered an undertaking preliminary to literary criticism many people believe that the job of textual critics is to provide reliable texts for literary critics to analyze G Thomas Tanselle argues on the contrary that the two activities cannot be separated The textual critic in choosing among textual variants and correcting what appear to be textual errors inevitably exercises critical judgment and reflects a particular point of view toward the nature of literature And the literary critic in interpreting the meaning of a work or passage needs to be though rarely is critical of the makeup of every text of it including those produced by scholarly editors Historical Criticism and the Meaning of Texts J. R. de J. Jackson, 2016-08-19 In this original and significant contribution to literary controversy first published in 1989 Professor Jackson argues on semantic grounds that historical criticism which he defines as the attempt to read works of literature and criticism as they were read when they were new is a necessary preliminary to other ways of approaching the literature of the past He distinguishes between the difficulties inherent in the practice of historical critics and the problems encountered by historians Historical criticism as he describes it is an ideal that has yet to be attained and he explores strategies for coming closer to it This title will be of interest to students of literature Crux and Controversy in Middle English Textual Criticism Alastair J. Minnis, Charlotte Brewer, 1992 New essays exploring the complex issues involved in editing Middle English texts Textual

Transgressions David Greetham, 2013-10-28 Both an intellectual autobiography and a chronicle of the ideological and methodological upheaval in textual studies during the last two decades this book presents provocative essays by one of the foremost textual scholars of our day As founder and executive director of the interdisciplinary Society for Textual Scholarship Professor Greetham has had the opportunity to observe and engage with the main players of the textual revolution during its most turbulent years and enlivens his account with revealing character sketches Reading Sumerian Poetry Jeremy Black, 2000-12-01 An analysis of the oldest form of poetry Sumer in the southern part of Iraq created the first literary culture in history as early as 2500BC The account is structured around a complete English translation of the fragmentary Lugalbanda poems narrating the adventures of the eponymous hero The study reveals a work of a rich and sophisticated poetic imagination and technique which far from being in any sense primitive are so complex as to resist much modern literary analysis Textual and Literary Criticism Fredson Bowers, 1966-01-02 The literary critic tends to think that the textual scholar or bibliographer has not much to say that he would care to hear so there is a gulf between them Reading Sumerian Poetry Jeremy A. Black, 1998 An authority on ancient Mesopotamian culture Jeremy Black here provides an introduction to the world's oldest poetry Sumer in southern Iraq was the first literate civilization with writing dating back as far as 3100 B C Its extensive poetic literature was lost for nearly two millennia rediscovery and decipherment of the ancient writings began in the nineteenth century Black is fully aware of the difficulties of applying modern literary methods to the study of ancient literature emphasizing theoretical problems that arise from contemporary expectations of a unitary text Looking closely at the imagery in the Lugalbanda poems Black perceives in them a rich and sophisticated poetic imagination and technique which far from being in any sense primitive are so complex as to resist modern literary analysis The Textual History of the Bible from the Dead Sea Scrolls to the Biblical Manuscripts of the Vienna Papyrus Collection Ruth A. Clements, Russell Fuller, Armin Lange, Paul D. Mandel, 2023-03-20 Biblical manuscripts from the Dead Sea and the Cairo Genizah have added immeasurably to our knowledge of the textual history of the Hebrew Bible The papers collected in this volume compare the evidence of the biblical DSS with manuscripts from the Vienna Papyrus Collection connected with the Cairo Genizah as well as late ancient evidence from diverse contexts The resulting picture is one of a dialectic between textual plurality and fixity the eventual dominance of the consonantal Masoretic Text over the textual plurality of the Second Temple period and the secondary diversification of that standardized text through scribal activity Interpreting the Text K. M. Newton, 1990 Literary Theory's Future(s) Joseph P. Natoli, 1989 Textual Criticism and the Ontology of Literature in Early Judaism James Nati, 2021-11-01 The Dead Sea Scrolls have demonstrated the fluidity of biblical and early Jewish texts in antiquity How did early Jewish scribes understand the nature of their pluriform literature How should modern textual critics deal with these fluid texts Centered on the Serekh ha Ya'ad or Community Rule from Qumran as a test case this volume tracks the development of its textual tradition in multiple trajectories and suggests that it was not understood as a single unified composition even in antiquity Attending to material textual and literary factors the book argues that ancient claims for textual identity ought to be given priority in discussions among textual critics about the ontology of biblical books Textual Scholarship David C. Greetham,2015-10-28 First published in 1994 This fully revised and updated edition of the bestselling Textual Scholarship covers all aspects of textual theory and scholarly editing for students and scholars As the definitive introduction to the skills of textual scholarship the new edition addresses the revolutionary shift from print to digital textuality and subsequent dramatic changes in the emphasis and direction of textual enquiry Cultural Criticism, Literary Theory, Poststructuralism Vincent B.
