of the History Department at Rutgers University Camden      The Heimat Abroad K. Molly O'Donnell, Renate Bridenthal, Nancy Reagan, 2010-02-22 Germans have been one of the most mobile and dispersed populations on earth. Communities of German speakers scattered around the globe have long believed they could recreate their Heimat homeland wherever they moved and that their enclaves could remain truly German. Furthermore, the history of Germany is inextricably tied to Germans outside the homeland who formed new communities that often retained their Germanness. Emigrants including political, economic, and religious exiles such as Jewish Germans fostered a nostalgia for home which, along with longstanding mutual ties of family, trade, and culture, bound them to Germany. The Heimat Abroad is the first book to examine the problem of Germany's long and complex relationship to ethnic Germans outside its national borders. Beyond defining who is German and what makes them so, the book reconceives German identity and history in global terms and challenges the nation-state and its borders as the sole basis of German nationalism. Krista O'Donnell is Associate Professor of History, William Paterson University; Nancy Reagan is Professor of History, Pace University; Renate Bridenthal is Emerita Professor of History, Brooklyn College of the City University of New York.

East German Cinema S. Heiduschke, 2013-10-10 East Germany's film monopoly, Deutsche Film Aktiengesellschaft, produced films ranging beyond simple propaganda to westerns, musicals, and children's films, among others. This book equips scholars with the historical background to understand East German cinema and guides the readers through the DEFA archive via examinations of twelve films.      Historical Dictionary of German Cinema Robert C. Reimer, Carol J. Reimer, 2019-07-15 The history of German film is diverse and multifaceted. This volume can only suggest the richness of a film tradition that includes five distinct German governments: Wilhelmine Germany, the Weimar Republic, the Third Reich, the Federal Republic of Germany, West Germany, and the German Democratic Republic, East Germany, as well as a reunited Germany. Two national industries, Germany and Austria, and a myriad of styles and production methods. Paradoxically, the political disruptions that have produced these distinct film eras, as well as the natural inclination of artists to rebel and create new styles, allow for the construction of a narrative of German film. Disjuncture generates distinct points of separation and yet also highlights continuities between the ruptures. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of German Cinema contains a chronology, an introduction, appendixes, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 200 cross-referenced entries on directors, actors, films, cinematographers, composers, producers, and major historical events that greatly affected the direction and development of German cinema. This book is an excellent resource for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about German cinema.

Cinema of Collaboration Mariana Ivanova, 2019-10-03 From their very inception, European cinemas undertook collaborative ventures in an attempt to cultivate a transnational Film Europe. In the postwar era, it was DEFA, the state cinema of East Germany, that emerged as a key site for cooperative practices. Despite the significant challenges that the Cold War created for collaboration, DEFA sought international prestige through various initiatives. These ranged from film exchange in occupied Germany to partnerships with Western producers and from coproductions with Eastern European studios to strategies for film co authorship Uniquely positioned between East and West DEFA proved a crucial mediator among European cinemas during a period of profound political division

The to Z of German Cinema Robert C. Reimer, Carol J. Reimer, 2010-04 Outlining the richness of German film The A to Z of German Cinema covers mainstream alternative and experimental film from 1895 to the present through a chronology introductory essay appendix of the 100 most significant German films a bibliography and hundreds of cross

Post-Wall German Cinema and National History Mary-Elizabeth O'Brien, 2014 German history films that focus on utopianism and political dissent and their effect on German identity since 1989 Since unification a radical shift has taken place in Germans view of their country s immediate past with 1989 replacing 1945 as the primary caesura The cold war division the failed socialist state the 68 student movement and the Red Army Faction historical flashpoints involving political oppression civil disobedience and the longing for utopian solutions to social injustice have come to be seen as decisive moments in a collective history that unites East and West even as it divides them Telling stories about a shared past establishing foundational myths and finding commonalities of experience are pivotal steps in the construction of national identity Such nation building is always incomplete but the cinema provides an important forum in which notions of German history and national identity can be consumed negotiated and contested This book looks at history films made since 1989 exploring how utopianism and political dissent have shaped German identity It studies the genre including popular successes critical successes and perceived failures as a set of texts and a discursive network gauging which conventions and storylines are resilient At issue is the overriding question to what extent do these films contribute to a narrative that legitimizes the German nation state Mary Elizabeth O'Brien is Professor of German and The Courtney and Steven Ross Chair in Interdisciplinary Studies at Skidmore College

Work and Play David D. Hamlin, 2007 Publisher description The Cosmopolitan Screen Lutz Peter Koepnick, 2007 Explores German cinema s enthusiasm for and anxiety about the blurring of postwar cultural boundaries

European Cinema after the Wall Leen Engelen, Kris Van Heuckelom, 2013-11-21 Since the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 transnational European cinema has risen not only in terms of production but also in terms of a growing focus on multiethnic themes within the European context This shift from national to trans European filmmaking has been profoundly influenced by such historical developments as the collapse of the Iron Curtain and the subsequent ongoing enlargement of the European Union In European Cinema after the Wall Screening East West Mobility Leen Engelen and Kris Van Heuckelom have brought together essays that critically examine representations of post 1989 migration from the former Eastern Bloc to Western Europe uncovering an array of common tropes and narrative devices that characterize the influences and portrayals of immigration Featuring essays by contributors from backgrounds as divergent as film studies Slavic and Russian studies comparative literature sociology contemporary history and communication and media studies this volume will appeal to scholars of film European history and those interested in the impact of migration diaspora and the global flow of cinematic culture      Germans on Drugs Robert P. Stephens, 2007 The first history of German drug culture in the psychedelic age      Divided Subjects, Invisible Borders Ben Gook, 2015-09-21 What do Germany's memorials, films, artworks, memory debates and national commemorations tell us about the lives of Germans today? How did the Wall in the Head come to replace the Wall that fell in 1989? The old identities of East and West, which all but dissolved in joyous embraces as the Berlin Wall fell, emerged once more after formal reunification a year later. In 1990, 2015 marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of that German reunification. Yet Germany remains divided; a mutual distrust lingers and national history remains contentious. The material, social, cultural and psychic effects of reunification on the lives of eastern and western Germans since 1989 all demand again asking fundamental questions about history, social change and ideology. Divided Subjects, Invisible Borders puts affective life at the centre of these questions, both in the role affect played in mobilizing East Germans to overthrow their regime and as a sign of disappointment after formal reunification. Using contemporary Germany as a lens, the book explores broader debates about borders, memory and subjectivity.      Postcommunist Film - Russia, Eastern Europe and World Culture Lars Kristensen, 2013-02-28 A post-communist condition has arisen from the fall of the Berlin Wall and later the Soviet Empire; this book looks at how this condition has manifested itself globally in the production of post-communist film. It argues post-communism is a shared experience on a geopolitical level, unlimited by national state borders, and examines post-communist cross-culturalism and global totalitarianism within film. The book examines different national cinemas and dissimilar cinematic modes, from Russian blockbuster cinema to Chinese independent cinema, from Serbian city films to revolutionary films of Mozambique, all formulated as within the postcommunist condition. It considers the postcommunist film in terms of transnational and World cinema. It covers a wide range of films, from small and independent filmmaking to mainstream popular cinema, and explains post-communist signifiers as manifested in visual culture both inside and outside former and current communist countries.
