Transnational Feminist Rhetorics and Gendered Leadership in Global Politics Rebecca S. Richards,2014-10-28

Transnational Feminist Rhetorics and Gendered Leadership in Global Politics examines the rhetoric surrounding women who hold or have held the highest office of a nation state Heads of state such as Golda Meir Margaret Thatcher Benazir Bhutto Ellen Johnson Sirleaf and Michelle Bachelet have navigated their ascent to executive government in vastly different ways while contending with gendered expectations of leadership especially since most of them are the first woman to occupy their country s highest governmental position This book analyzes how these women rhetorically perform their positions of power discursively visually and physically in a traditionally male leadership role Specifically this project examines how certain rhetorical acts open up and close down the potential to confront the gendered expectations surrounding political leadership When people analyze campaign for or critique a female prime minister or a woman president they are not just talking about one woman but also referencing a collective neoliberal logic that interrupts and reaffirms the belief that the nation state is an eternal inevitable structure Diverse political figures such as Angela Merkel Julia Gillard and Indira Gandhi are continually put in conversation with one another through popular media representations academic scholarship and political analyses This book examines the effect of such comparisons and connections ultimately arguing that many of these gestures reduce or oversimplify women s contributions to world politics In order to show this effect this book manifests the transnational connections found in autobiographies organizations political commentaries biographical films and other sources that focus on women who have been heads of state Congressional Record United States. Congress,1994

Homer B. Pettey, R. Barton Palmer, 2018-10-01 Assesses how cinematic biographies of key figures reflect and shape what it means to be British Rule Britannia surveys the British biopic a genre crucial to understanding how national cinema engages with the collective experience and values of its intended audience Offering a provocative take on an aspect of filmmaking with profound cultural significance the volume focuses on how screen biographies of prominent figures in British history and culture can be understood as involved if unofficially in the shaping and promotion of an ever protean national identity The contributors engage with the vexed concept of British nationality especially as this sense of collective belonging is problematized by the ethnically oriented alternatives of English Scottish Welsh and Irish nations They explore the critical and historiographical issues raised by the biopic demonstrating that celebration of conventional virtue is not the genre's only natural subject Filmic depictions of such personalities as Elizabeth I Victoria George VI Elizabeth II Margaret Thatcher Iris Murdoch and Jack the Ripper are covered This exceptional collection offers new ways of looking at these films as films as well as a fresh approach to British history as a cultural whole Wheeler Winston Dixon Henry VIII Frank Dwyer, 1988 A biography of the sixteenth century English monarch who effected the separation of England from the Church of Rome Yesterday Tobias Becker, 2023-12-05 Nostalgia supposedly is the sphere of the sentimentalist But also and most definitely it is a force in the creation of the present and future and thus worth careful thought Yesterday argues that nostalgia's critics defend an idea of progress as naive as the longing they denounce while conflating nostalgia itself with historical whitewashing
