Site Sculpture The Collaborative Design Process:

Site + Sculpture Kay Wagenknecht-Harte, 1989 Public Art Cher Krause Knight, 2011-09-23 This book takes a bold look at public art and its populist appeal offering a more inclusive guide to America's creative tastes and shared culture. It examines the history of American public art from FDR's New Deal to Christo's The Gates and challenges preconceived notions of public art, expanding its definition to include a broader scope of works and concepts. Expands the definition of public art to include sites such as Boston's Big Dig, Las Vegas Treasure Island and Disney World. Offers a refreshing alternative to the traditional rhetoric and criticism surrounding public art. Includes insightful analysis of the museum and its role in relation to public art.

The Fran and Ray Stark Collection of 20th-century Sculpture at the J. Paul Getty Museum Christopher Bedford, Penelope Curtis, John Dixon Hunt, 2008 This catalogue celebrates the recently installed collection of twentieth-century sculpture donated to the J. Paul Getty Trust by the Fran and Ray Stark Trust in 2005. The book takes the reader on a visual tour of the J. Paul Getty Museum's new sculpture gardens and installations, which features twenty-eight works by artists such as Alexander Calder, Alberto Giacometti, Ferdinand Leger, Roy Lichtenstein, Ren Magritte, Aristide Maillol, Joan Miró, Henry Moore and Isamu Noguchi. The book offers essays on the curatorial decisions involved in establishing harmonious groupings, a history of European and American sculpture within built outdoor environments and gardens, and catalogue entries that discuss individual pieces within their broader art historical contexts.

Thinking the Sculpture Garden Penny Florence, 2020-02-20 This innovative book poses two deceptively simple questions: what is a sculpture garden and what happens when you give equal weight to the main elements of landscape, planting and artwork? Its wide-ranging frame of reference, including the USA, Europe and Japan, is brought into focus through Tremenhoe Sculpture Garden, Cornwall, with which the book begins and ends. Effectively less than 15 years old and largely the work of one man, Tremenhoe affords an opportunity to examine as work in progress the creation of a new kind of sculpture garden. Including a historical overview, the book traverses multiple ways of seeing and experiencing sculpture gardens, culminating in an exploration of their relevance as cultural ecology in the context of globalisation, urbanisation and climate change. The thinking here is non-dualist and broadly aligned with New Materialisms and Material Feminisms to explore our place as humans in the non-human world on which we depend. Eminent contributors including John Dixon Hunt, George Descombes, Bernard Lassus and David Leatherbarrow approach these issues through practices and theories of landscape architecture, garden and art making, history and writing, and philosophy. Richly illustrated with over 100 images, including a colour plate section, the book will primarily appeal to those engaged in professional or academic research, along with sculpture garden visitors who will find new and surprising ways of experiencing plants and art in natural and urban settings.

Interactive Learning Through Visualization Steve Cunningham, Roger J. Hubbard, 2012-12-06 This book contains a selection of papers presented at the Computer Graphics and Education 91 Conference held from 4th to 6th April 1991 in Begur, Spain. The conference was organised under the auspices of the International Federation for Information Processing IPIP Working Group 5.10 on Computer Graphics. The goal of the organisers was to take a forward look at the impact on education of anticipated developments in graphics and related technologies such as multimedia in the next five years. We felt that at a time when many educational establishments are facing financial stringency and when major changes are taking place in patterns of education and training this could be valuable for both educators and companies developing the technology for educators because they are often too bogged down in day to day problems to undertake adequate forward planning and for companies to see some of the problems faced by educators and to see what their future requirements might be. Digital Humanities in precarious times Mirna Nel, Phil van Schalkwyk, Abiodun Salawu, Gustav Butler, Gilbert Motsaathebe, 2024-07-31. In a modern and fast evolving technological world precarity has become more notable. Digital transformation has ushered in an era of datafication profoundly impacting societies and individuals in such a way that there are emerging complexities and potential vulnerabilities in our interactions with technology. Thus it is crucial that the Humanities subjects focus on human beings, their culture and values. This book focuses on the challenges and opportunities experienced in the Digital Humanities. The main thesis of this book is on Digital Humanities in precarious times while also reporting on topics and research methods in a variety of Humanities subject fields. Digital Humanities is a dynamic multidisciplinary interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary field that encompasses a wide array of disciplines, methodologies and approaches. It represents a fusion of computational methods with humanistic inquiry leveraging technology to explore and analyse various facets of human culture, society and history. At its core, this field's nature allows scholars from diverse backgrounds including literature, history, linguistics, cultural studies and more to collaborate and engage in innovative research projects that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries. All the chapters in this book represent a scholarly discourse and provide original research; they are based on different methodologies ranging from an interdisciplinary approach, a philosophical desk study, case studies, qualitative studies and a semi structured survey.

Designing Relationships: The Art of Collaboration in Architecture Andrew Pressman, 2014-01-03. In today's dynamic practice environment, collaboration and teamwork skills are increasingly critical to the successful completion of building projects. Indeed, it is the careful nurturing of comradeship among complementary but distinctive egos that drives creativity underlying the hi-tech algorithms that help shape complex projects. Designing Relationships: The Art of Collaboration in Architecture focuses on the skill set necessary to facilitate effective teamwork and collaboration among all stakeholders no matter what project delivery mode or technology is deployed. This book provides valuable guidance on how to design and construct buildings in a team context from inception to completion. It is the less tangible elements of collaboration and teamwork that provide the magic that transforms the most challenging projects into great works of architecture and it is these more nuanced and subtle skills which the book brings to the fore. Showing examples of best and worst practice to illustrate the principles with real life situations, this book presents the reader redefine their role not just from sage on the stage to guide on the side but as more and more voices insist as designers for learning The call for such a repositioning of educators is heard from leaders in the field of technology enhanced learning TEL and resonates well with the growing culture of design based research in Education However it is still struggling to find a foothold in educational practice We contend that the root causes of this discrepancy are the lack of articulation of design practices and methods along with a shortage of tools and representations to support such practices a lack of a culture of teacher as designer among practitioners and insufficient theoretical development The Art and Science of Learning Design ASLD explores the frameworks methods and tools available for teachers technologists and researchers interested in designing for learning Learning Design theories arising from findings of research are explored drawing upon research and practitioner experiences It then surveys current trends in the practices methods and methodologies of Learning Design Highlighting the translation of theory into practice this book showcases some of the latest tools that support the learning design process itself
