Speaking Chinese In China:

On Not Speaking Chinese Ien Ang, 2005-07-08 In this major new book leading cultural thinker Ien Ang engages with urgent questions of identity in an age of globalisation and diaspora The starting point for Ang's discussion is the experience of visiting Taiwan Ang a person of Chinese descent born in Indonesia and raised in the Netherlands found herself faced with an almost insurmountable difficulty surrounded by people who expected her to speak to them in Chinese She writes It was the beginning of an almost decade long engagement with the predicaments of Chineseness in diaspora In Taiwan I was different because I couldn't speak Chinese in the West I was different because I looked Chinese From this autobiographical beginning Ang goes on to reflect upon tensions between Asia and the West at a national and global level and to consider the disparate meanings of Chineseness in the contemporary world She offers a critique of the increasingly aggressive construction of a global Chineseness and challenges Western tendencies to equate Chinese with Asian identity Ang then turns to the West exploring the paradox of Australia's identity as a Western country in the Asian region and tracing Australia's uneasy relationship with its Asian neighbours from the White Australia policy to contemporary multicultural society Finally Ang draws together her discussion of Asia and the West to consider the social and intellectual space of the in between arguing for a theorising not of difference but of togetherness in contemporary societies

The Orientation of Chinese Newspapers in Indonesia as China Rises Leo Suryadinata, 2023-04-26 This paper examines the impact of globalization and a rising China among other factors on the political orientation of Chinese language newspapers in Indonesia Chinese newspapers in Indonesia have had a long trajectory moving from a China oriented focus to an Indonesia oriented one over the course of Indonesian history Their content has grown beyond the local to become regional in its outlook The recent rise of China has been having a profound impact on Chinese newspapers in Indonesia Many of their articles are pro China while attempting to maintain the delicate balance and being Indonesia oriented at the same time With the community of Chinese speaking Indonesian Chinese shrinking due to age the Chinese language dailies face challenges in circulation The older generation that frequents them possesses significantly strong economic power however and while new migrants from China and ethnic Chinese from other Southeast Asian countries also read these dailies their numbers are relatively small As more and more newspaper editors journalists and writers are now foreigners instead of being local born the Chinese language newspapers in Indonesia may become newspapers for the overseas Chinese

Speaking Chinese About China Helen T. Lin, 2002 Chinese English

Zhichang Xu, 2022-09-15 This book offers a distinct exploration of Chinese English which has the largest rising population of speakers in the World Englishes WE family Xu focuses on the fundamental issues of names and norms that are closely related to Chinese English and the narratives of the speakers of Chinese English In addition to current approaches to WE research this book proposes a novel theoretical and analytical framework based on classical Chinese and Western philosophies The volume has an empirical basis drawing upon interview and questionnaire survey data from proficient speakers of Chinese English It is also based on an extensive review of the relevant literature on both WE and Chinese English and it draws upon the author's research experience of over two decades on the subject This is the third research book on Chinese English that the author has contributed to WE literature and it will be a valuable read for students and scholars alike

Localising Chinese Michael Singh, Thị Hồng Nhung Nguyễn, 2018-03-13 This book presents innovative strategies for teaching the Chinese language to English speaking students around the world using in depth research arising from a long running and successful Chinese language teaching programme in Sydney Throughout the book its authors emphasise the importance of teaching methods which explore the relevance of Chinese to all aspects of students everyday lives Localising Chinese by folding it into students everyday sociolinguistic activities performed in English The research presented here demonstrates how through school driven research oriented service learning university graduates from China learnt to use student centred learning focused language education as a basis for professional learning In the context of China s growing influence in the global academic community this book addresses the urgent need to promote effective communication and partnerships It provides a valuable resource for language teachers and teacher educators as well as education researchers in the areas of international education linguistics the sociology of education and knowledge exchange Teaching Chinese as an International Language Yeng-Seng Goh, Yingcheng Wu, 2017-08-17 A lively and accessible account which explores the teaching of Chinese as an international language from a Singapore perspective Chinese Foreign Policy Thomas W. Robinson, David L. Shambaugh, 1995 This study of Chinese foreign policy is intended for academics and graduates of Chinese studies and of international relations international economics and those interested in decision making theory Overseas Chinese in Southeast Asia and China's Foreign Policy Leo Suryadinata, With the recent Sino Vietnamese conflict over the Overseas Chinese the problem of ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia once again attracted the attention of the world Questions are raised as to whether or not Peking has introduced a new policy to act as the protector of the interests of the Overseas Chinese This examines the position of the Overseas Chinese in the People republic of China s foreign policy from 1949 to the present time and conventional notion of the linkages between China and the Overseas Chinese Moreover it discusses the ethnic Chinese scene in Southeast Asia and ASEAN countries reactions to China s recent foreign relations Discourses in Traffic Hui Dai, 2021-08-16 In recent decades China has transitioned from an inherently agricultural country to an emerging economic titan with a vast transportation network that befits its newly globalized status Through this fast paced economic development the country soon became a nation of drivers By 2019 the country had 260 million automobiles and 397 million drivers most of whom were only years from being a novice In 2019 alone another 26 million new drivers joined the Chinese roadways At the same time China encountered many traffic related problems overcrowded urban areas a deteriorating environment the chaos of traffic signs the building boom due to urbanization and the pressure of traffic management among others Historically China was never a country adept at traffic and transportation Despite this it has been trying to catch up with the world s pace and to welcome its guests from across the globe This book zeroes in on the authentic discourses in Chinese traffic by demonstrating the interaction between traffic signs and their users specifically the new drivers who are unfamiliar with traffic contexts driving or the Chinese language Guangzhou Canton a prosperous first tier city with over 20 million residents was chosen as the sampling area for this study The book scrutinizes the city s traffic signage its drivers experiences and its traffic authorities comments in order to provide a true picture of China shifting from a country with big traffic to one with modern traffic Speaking Chinese Du Rong, Language Ideology and Order in Rising China

Minglang Zhou, 2018-12-18 This text considers contemporary China's language ideology and how it supports China as a rising global power player. It examines the materialization of this ideology as China's language order unfolds on two fronts: promoting Putonghua domestically and globally alongside its economic growth and military expansion. Within the conceptual framework of language ideology and language order and using PRC policy documents, education annals, and fieldwork, this book explores how China's language ideology is related to its growing global power as well as its domestic and global outreaches. It also addresses how this ideology has been materialized as a language order in terms of institutional development and support and what impact these choices are having on China and the world. Focusing on the relationship between language ideology and language order, the book highlights a closer and coherent linguistic association between China's domestic drive and global outreach since the turn of the century. Learning Chinese Patricia Duff, Tim

Anderson, Roma Il'nyckij, Ella VanGaya, Rachel Wang, Elliott Yates, 2013-03-01 The acquisition of Mandarin Chinese, one of the most important and widely spoken languages in the world today, is the focus of this innovative study. It describes the rise of Chinese as a global language and the many challenges and opportunities associated with learning it. The collaborative multiple case study and cross case analysis is presented from three distinct but complementary theoretical and analytic perspectives: linguistic, sociocultural, and narrative. The book reveals fascinating dimensions of Chinese language learning based on vivid first person accounts with autobiographical narratives included in the book of adults negotiating not only their own and others' language and literacy learning but also their identities, communities, and trajectories as users of Chinese.

Sound and Script in Chinese Diaspora Jing Tsu, 2011-01-15 What happens when language wars are not about hurling insults or quibbling over meanings but are waged in the physical sounds and shapes of language itself? Native and foreign speakers' mother tongues and national languages have jostled for distinction throughout the modern period. The fight for global dominance between the English and Chinese languages opens into historical battles over the control of the medium through standardization, technology, bilingualism, pronunciation, and literature in the Sinophone world. Encounters between global languages as well as the internal tensions between Mandarin and other Chinese dialects present a dynamic, interconnected picture of languages on the move. In Sound and Script in Chinese Diaspora, Jing Tsu explores the new global language trade, arguing that it aims at more sophisticated ways of exerting influence besides simply wielding knuckles of power. Through an analysis of the different relationships between language standardization, technologies of writing, and modern Chinese literature around the world from the nineteenth century to the present, this study transforms how we understand the power of language in migration and how that is changing the terms of cultural dominance. Drawing from an unusual array of archival sources, this study cuts across the usual China-West divide and puts its finger on the pulse of a pending supranational world under literary governance.
