Manuals Combined: U.S. Marine Corps Basic Reconnaissance Course (BRC) References, Over 5300 total pages. MARINE RECON Reconnaissance units are the commander's eyes and ears on the battlefield. They are task organized as a highly trained six-man team capable of conducting specific missions behind enemy lines. Employed as part of the Marine Air Ground Task Force, reconnaissance teams provide timely information to the supported commander to shape and influence the battlefield. The varying types of missions a Reconnaissance team conducts depend on how deep in the battle space they are operating. Division Reconnaissance units support the close and distant battlespace, while Force Reconnaissance units conduct deep reconnaissance in support of a landing force. Common missions include, but are not limited to: Plan, coordinate, and conduct amphibious ground reconnaissance and surveillance to observe, identify, and report enemy activity and collect other information of military significance; Conduct specialized surveying to include underwater reconnaissance and/or demolitions, beach permeability, and topography; routes, bridges, structures, urban/rural areas, helicopter landing zones (LZ), parachute drop zones (DZ), aircraft forward operating sites, and mechanized reconnaissance missions. When properly task organized with other forces, equipment, or personnel, assist in specialized engineer, radio, and other special reconnaissance missions. Infiltrate mission areas by necessary means to include surface, subsurface, and airborne operations. Conduct Initial Terminal Guidance (ITG) for helicopters, landing craft, parachutists, air delivery, and resupply. Designate and engage selected targets with organic weapons and force fires to support battlespace shaping. This includes designation and terminal guidance of precision-guided munitions. Conduct post-strike reconnaissance to determine and report battle damage assessment on a specified target or area. Conduct limited scale raids and ambushes. Hubbard, 2015-11-06 Special Forces forward operational bases FOB are essential for mission and contingency planning as well as for the preparation infiltration and exfiltration of Operational Detachment Alphas ODA Therefore the defense of this command and control headquarters is critical for preserving combat power and synchronizing military actions in a theater of operations Because the enemy has the capability of projecting forces with the objective of disrupting US military operations FOBs have become likely targets According to SF doctrine FOBs should be located in secure areas with MP or host nation personnel providing the bulk of the security force Although this situation is preferable it is by no means assured FOBs should be able to provide their own security in the event other forces are not available or when rapid deployment restricts the flow of conventional forces into a theater of operations After action review results from the Joint Readiness Training Center demonstrate that many SF battalions are not prepared to execute base defense tasks without the assistance of other forces Many SF commanders do not consider base defense a mission essential task and the result is a lack of training by many of their personnel This study analyzes joint and SF doctrine observations from the field and the effects of the contemporary operating environment to identify weaknesses in the readiness of SF battalions Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on Government Operations United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Government Operations,1969 A Bibliography of Military Geography Eugene J. James Jr.,2015-11-06 This study investigates what effect the evolution of urban combat from World War II to the present has had on current urban combat doctrine Urban combat operations have played a pivotal role in the conflicts of the twentieth century and will continue to be a crucial part of future U S power projection operations It is imperative that lessons learned from previous urban combat operations be studied for applicability to current urban combat doctrine The study analyzes the urban battles of Aachen Manila Seoul Hue JUST CAUSE and Mogadishu to identify salient lessons for conducting successful offensive urban combat operations then reviews current U S Army urban combat doctrine The study then evaluates current doctrine using identified salient lessons to determine their effect The study finds that the primary impacts of previous urban combat operations on current doctrine are that doctrine now embraces the idea of varied conditions for urban combat and validates the concept of fighting as a combined arms team in a built up area The study further finds that FM 90 10 Military Operations on Urban Terrain is obsolete and that key procurement decisions have left U S forces without critical weapons that have proven decisive in urban combat
