Special Kind Of Nightmare:

The Terror That Comes in the Night David J. Hufford, 2015-05-05 David Hufford's work exploring the experiential basis for belief in the supernatural focusing here on the so called Old Hag experience a psychologically disturbing event in which a victim claims to have encountered some form of malign entity while dreaming or awake Sufferers report feeling suffocated held down by some force paralyzed and extremely afraid The experience is surprisingly common the author estimates that approximately 15 percent of people undergo this event at some point in their lives Various cultures have their own name for the phenomenon and have constructed their own mythology around it the supernatural tenor of many Old Hag stories is unavoidable Hufford as a folklorist is well placed to investigate this puzzling occurrence Borges at Eighty Jorge Luis Borges, 2013-11-30 A collection of interviews now available from New Directions for the first time The words of a genius Borges at Eighty transcends our expectations of ordinary conversation In these interviews with Barnstone Dick Cavett and Alastair Reid Borges touches on favorite writers Whitman Poe Emerson and familiar themes labyrinths mystic experiences and death and always with great throw away humor For example discussing nightmares he concludes When I wake up I wake to something worse It's the astonishment of being myself Dream Time with Children Brenda Mallon, 2002 Children may not understand where their dreams come from especially when they experience terrifying nightmares that stop them being able to sleep and frighten them when they are awake Accessible and fun to use this guide gives a step by step account of how to understand and interpret children's dreams Destiny of Souls Carl Bayley, 2025-03-28 The story of souls bound together by love hate fear and destiny across all human history past present and future Destiny of Souls breaks the barrier of time to show what happens when normal people can recall their past lives and what this means for the world's future Text and Text Processing G. Denhiere, J.P. Rossi, 1991-06-17 The book presents the state of the art in major aspects of text analysis and cognitive text processing by some of the most well known European and American researchers in the field of text linguistics and cognitive psychology Comprehensive views and new perspectives are proposed in the following topics cognitive and metacognitive aspects of text processing structures and processes involved in the construction of multi level semantic representations in relation with text and reader characteristics achievement of local and global coherence of meaning during reading and comprehension assessment of knowledge knowledge acquisition of concepts and complex systems by text and cognitive and metacognitive aspects of text production Justified Lives Michael Bliss, 1993 In the first book to critically examine each of the fourteen feature films Sam Peckinpah directed during his career Michael Bliss stresses the persistent moral and structural elements that permeate Peckinpah's work By examining the films in great detail Bliss makes clear the moral framework of temptation and redemption with which Peckinpah was concerned while revealing the director's attention to narrative Bliss shows that each of Peckinpah's protagonists is involved with attempting in the words of Ride the High Country's Steve Judd to enter my house justified The validity of this systematic method is clearly demonstrated in the chapter devoted to The Wild Bunch. By enumerating the doublings and triplings of action and dialogue found in the film, Bliss underscores its symbolic and structural complexity. Beginning the chapters treating Junior Bonner and The Getaway with analyses of their important title sequences, Bliss shows how these frequently disregarded pieces present in miniature the major moral and narrative concerns of the films. In his chapter on The Osterman Weekend, Bliss makes apparent Peckinpah's awareness of and concern with the self-reflexive nature of filmmaking itself. Bliss shows that like John Ford, Peckinpah moved from optimism to pessimism. The films of the director's early period, from The Deadly Companions to Cable Hogue, support the romantic ideals of adventure and camaraderie and affirm a potential for goodness in America. In his second group of films, which begins with Straw Dogs and ends with Bring Me the Head of Alfredo Garcia, both heroes and hope have vanished. It is only in The Osterman Weekend that Peckinpah appears finally to have renewed his capacity for hope, allowing his career to close in a positive way. Mandela's Dark Years Sharon

Sliwinski, 2015-11-30. Inspired by one of Nelson Mandela's recurring nightmares, Mandela's Dark Years offers a political reading of dream life. Sharon Sliwinski guides the reader through the psychology of apartheid, recasting dreaming as a vital form of resistance to political violence away from a rational binary of thinking. This short provocative study blends political theory with clinical psychoanalysis, opening up a new space to consider the politics of reverie. Forerunners is a thought in process series of breakthrough digital works. Written between fresh ideas and finished books, Forerunners draws on scholarly work initiated in notable blogs, social media conference plenaries, journal articles, and the synergy of academic exchange. This is gray literature publishing where intense thinking, change, and speculation take place in scholarship. Dreaming in Dark

Times Sharon Sliwinski, 2017-03-28. What do dreams manage to say or indeed show about human experience that is not legible otherwise? Can the disclosure of our dream life be understood as a form of political avowal? To what does a dream attest? And to whom? Blending psychoanalytic theory with the work of such political thinkers as Hannah Arendt and Michel Foucault, Sharon Sliwinski explores how the disclosure of dream life represents a special kind of communicative gesture, a form of unconscious thinking that can serve as a potent brand of political intervention and a means for resisting sovereign power. Each chapter centers on a specific dream plucked from the historical record, slowly unwinding the significance of this extraordinary disclosure. From Wilfred Owen and Lee Miller to Frantz Fanon and Nelson Mandela, Sliwinski shows how each of these figures grappled with dream life as a means to conjure up the courage to speak about dark times. Here, dreaming is defined as an integral political exercise, a vehicle for otherwise unthinkable thoughts and a wellspring for the freedom of expression. Dreaming in Dark Times defends the idea that dream life matters, that attending to this thought landscape is vital to the life of the individual but also vital to our shared social and political worlds. A Different Kind of Texas Hold'em

The Ubuntu God Samuel A. Paul, 2009-01-01 In 1948 the Afrikaner Nationalist Government became the ruling party in South Africa and instituted the brutal system known as apartheid To maintain their power Afrikaners drew on Christian scripture and traditions to create self justifying religious narratives that supported their oppressive ideologies prohibiting inclusion and suppressing pluralism In time these Afrikaner Christian narratives began to unravel as counter narratives within the Christian tradition influenced the Black church to demand equality and democracy This socio political and cultural transformation is best understood and interpreted through the vision of ubuntu a mode of thought in African culture that places a value on humanity in community and shifts the focus from singularity to plurality in South African society In The Ubuntu God Samuel A Paul traces how the dismantling of apartheid led to recognition of the religious other the recovery of alternate narratives and the reappearance of ubuntu perspective and practice in the political and public sphere After the peaceful transition to a democratically elected government the Truth and Reconciliation Commission created a platform for multiple voices stories and religious narratives to be shared in a public political context This multiplicity of voices resulted ultimately in the formation of a new constitution for South Africa that sought to uphold African values of community and inclusion in its institutions While South Africa s apartheid system and the Truth and Reconciliation Commission are both rooted in the biblical narrative the former used its theology to enforce an iron rule while the latter combined Christian and African concepts to create a pluralistic and open society Such a society is characterized by a culture that emphasizes communality and interdependence
