Special Women The Experience Of Women:

Women's Sexual Experience Martha Kirkpatrick, 2012-12-06 This book like its companion volume Women's Sexual Development is a potpourri of ideas not campaign literature to promote a particular point of view The editor agrees with some of her authors and strongly disagrees with others The facts are few the questions many The intent of both books is to evoke questions delay convictions invite controversy and plead for opening minds The examination and explanation of women's sexual experience has long been the province of men The is and the oughts have been hopelessly confused by the investigators or exhorters biases and limited experience as well as by the use of the male sexual experience as the model for all human sexual experience Women at long last are talking not only to each other in personal journals and letters but also in the more formal worlds of academic and scientific publications The papers in this book come from many sources Some are academic some are experiential journalistic or personal Several emphasize the lack of adequate research and data but address an issue that is just appearing on the surface of contemporary controversy and concern Many topics and sources of information are missing

Violence Against Women Holly Johnson, Natalia Ollus, Sami Nevala, 2007-11-23 In December 2006 the United Nations General Assembly adopted a resolution on intensification of efforts to eliminate all forms of violence against women A/RES/61/143 This resolution followed the launch of the Secretary General's in-depth study on violence against women in October 2006 A/61/122/Add.1 and Corr.1 and is the first ever comprehensive action by the General Assembly on this persistent scourge that potentially affects one woman in three in the course of her lifetime The resolution urges Member States to exercise leadership and devise systematic comprehensive multi sectoral and sustained approaches adequately supported and facilitated by strong institutional mechanisms and financing to eliminate all forms of violence against women In particular it calls upon Member States to establish national plans of action on the elimination of violence against women undertake legislative capacity building and awareness raising measures provide services for women and ensure the systematic collection and analysis of data The resolution calls upon the entities of the United Nations system to support national efforts especially with respect to data collection and the development of national plans of action It urges them to enhance coordination and intensify their efforts to eliminate all forms of violence against women and girls It also notes the need to provide adequate resources to efforts throughout the United Nations system to eliminate violence against women and girls

Women's Oral History Susan Hodge Armitage, Patricia Hart, Karen Weathermon, 2002-01-01 Women's Oral History The Frontiers Reader is an essential guide to the practice of gathering and interpreting women's oral accounts of their lives During the 1970s when women's history was just developing the lack of historical information about women's lives was glaring Oral history quickly emerged as a vital and necessary tool for documenting the lives and experiences of women who rarely recorded it for themselves much less for posterity Standard models of practicing oral history however were inadequate to the job of organizing and interpreting women's lives and new models that addressed the distinctiveness of the lives of women in all of their diversity were needed As one of the earliest journals devoted to feminist scholarship in the United States Frontiers A Journal of Women Studies was in the vanguard of the emerging field of women's oral history when it published its first landmark issue on the subject in 1977 Three subsequent issues exploring the evolving field has secured Frontiers reputation at the forefront of women's oral history Women's Oral History includes nineteen essays each addressing the particularity of women's lives and experience The collection provides both how to interview guides and examples of current research in sections covering basic methodology and rationale the myriad uses of women's oral history and discoveries and insights gained from oral history applications The essays raise thought provoking questions glean original insights about the lives of women and the practice of history and call for women to write and record their own histories

National Women's Health Survey for Trinidad and Tobago Cecile Pemberton, Joel Joseph, 2018-03-06 This report presents the first nationally representative estimates of the prevalence of intimate partner violence IPV and non partner sexual violence NPSV against women in Trinidad and Tobago The data come from the 2017 Trinidad and Tobago Women's Health Survey WHS a national quantitative cross sectional survey of 1 079 women ages 15 64 The report finds that 30 percent of ever partnered women experienced physical and or sexual violence by an intimate partner in their lifetime and 6 percent in the 12 months prior to data collection Seven percent of all respondents reported having been forced into sexual intercourse by a non partner in their lifetime 1 percent in the last 12 months Significant risk factors associated with IPV identified using Chi square tests included lower education female and partner cohabitation without marriage rural residency younger age non consensual marriage having been pregnant having experienced or witnessed violence in childhood substance abuse by the partner and the partner being unemployed and having been in prior relationships The report documents the negative consequences of IPV for women and their children as well as the most common responses and coping mechanisms One in three women who experienced IPV remained quiet about their experience and most survivors did not seek or receive assistance for their situation Women most often sought help from their personal contacts mostly their mothers rather than police social services or other entities adequately resourced to address IPV Several factors precluded women from accessing help these included fear shame and the normalcy associated with violence Based on these findings recommendations for policy and further research are presented

Feminist Criticism and Social Change (RLE Feminist Theory) Deborah Rosenfelt, Judith Newton, 2013-05-20 This lively and controversial collection of essays sets out to theorize and practice a materialist feminist criticism of literature and culture Such a criticism is based on the view that the material conditions in which men and women live are central to an understanding of culture and society It emphasises the relation of gender to other categories of analysis such as class and race and considers the connection between ideology and cultural practice and the ways in which all relations of power change with changing social and economic conditions By presenting a wide range of work by major feminist scholars this anthology in effect defines as well as illustrates the materialist feminist tendency in current literary criticism The essays in the first part of the book examine race ideology and the literary canon and explore the ways in which other critical discourse such as those of deconstruction and French feminism might be useful to a feminist and materialist criticism The second part of the book contains examples of such criticism in practice with studies of individual works writers and ideas An introduction by the editors situates the collected essays in relation both to one another and to a shared materialist feminist project Feminist Criticism and Social Change demonstrates the important contribution of materialist feminist criticism to our understanding of literature and society and fulfils a crucial need among those concerned with gender and its relation to criticism Exile and Nomadism in French and Hispanic Women's Writing Kate Averis, 2017-07-05 Women in exile disrupt assumptions about exile belonging home and identity For many women exiles home represents less a place of belonging and more a point of departure and exile becomes a creative site of becoming rather than an unsettling state of errancy Exile may be a propitious circumstance for women to renegotiate identities far from the strictures of home appropriating a new freedom in mobility Through a feminist politics of place displacement and subjectivity this comparative study analyses the novels of key contemporary Francophone and Latin American writers Nancy Huston Linda Le Malika Mokeddem Cristina Peri Rossi Laura Restrepo and Cristina Siscar to identify a new nomadic subjectivity in the lives and works of transnational women today
