Texts Ideas And The Classics:

Texts, Ideas, and the Classics S. J. Harrison, 2001 This book aims to promote a simple idea that in the contemporary context of the study and interpretation of classical literature at universities traditional classical scholarship and modern theoretical ideas need to work with each other in the common task of the interpretation of texts Such dialogue and co operation is not merely desirable it is essential to ensure the survival and relevance of the study of classical literature in the twenty first century The purpose of this book is protreptic to speak both to the sceptical and non sceptical and to suggest to both the importance of the topic The topics selected were chosen by a panel of distinguished practitioners as traditional areas of classical literary studies where the importance of co operation of theory and scholarship could be shown in different ways by scholars who ranged widely in their views literary language narrative genre historicism and reception and history of scholarship

Victorian Women Writers and the Classics Isobel Hurst, 2006-09-14 In this study Isobel Hurst brings together two lines of enquiry in recent criticism the Romantic and Victorian reception of ancient Greece and Rome and women as writers and readers in the nineteenth century

BOOK JACKET Classics and Interpretations Ching-I Tu, 2017-11-30 In recent years in the West scholars have attempted to unravel old constructs of interpretation and understanding using the discipline of hermeneutics or the scientific study of textual interpretation Borrowed from students of the ever growing body of biblical interpretive literature that originated in the early Christian era theoretical hermeneutics has given many contemporary scholars potent tools of textual interpretation Classics and Interpretations applies this method to Chinese culture Several essays focus on hermeneutic traditions of Neo Confucianism Others move outside of these traditions to attempt an understanding of the role of hermeneutics in Taoist and Buddhist textual interpretation in Chinese poetics and painting and in contemporary Chinese culture This volume makes a concerted effort to remedy our ignorance of the Chinese hermeneutical tradition

Part 1 The Great Learning and Hermeneutics demonstrates the use of commentary to define how the individual creates his social self and discusses differing interpretations of the Ta hsueh text and its treatment as either canonical or heterodox

Part 2 Canonicity and Orthodoxy considers the philosophical touchstones employed by Neo Confucian canonical exegetes and polemicists and discusses the Han canonization of the scriptural Five Classics while illuminating a double standard that existed in the hermeneutical regime of late imperial China

Part 3 Hermeneutics as Politics discusses the transformation of both the classics and scholars and explores the dominant hermeneutic tradition in Chinese historiography the scriptural tradition and reinterpretation of the Ch un ch iu and reveals the pragmatism of Chinese hermeneutics through comparison of the Sung debates over the Mencius

The concluding sections include essays on Chu Hsi and Interpretation of Chinese Classics Hermeneutic Traditions in Chinese Poetics and Non Confucian Contexts Reinterpretation of Confucian Texts in the Ming Ch ing Period and Contemporary Interpretations of Confucian Culture

Through these literate and brilliantly written essays the reader witnesses not merely the great breadth and depth of Chinese hermeneutics but also its continuity and evolutionary vigor This volume will excite scholars of the Confucian Buddhist and Taoist systems of thought and belief as well as students of history and hermeneutics      Structures of Epic Poetry Christiane Reitz, Simone Finkmann, 2019-12-16 This compendium 4 vols studies the continuity flexibility and variation of structural elements in epic narratives It provides an overview of the structural patterns of epic poetry by means of a standardized stringent terminology Both diachronic developments and changes within individual epics are scrutinized in order to provide a comprehensive structural approach and a key to intra and intertextual characteristics of ancient epic poetry      Mobilising Classics Fiona Dukelow, Orla O'Donovan, 2013-01-18 The terms patriarchy institutional racism sustainable development and alienation may be familiar but this familiarity is often removed from the analytical contexts in which these ideas emerged This book provides a series of rich reflections on the interaction between the radical ideas associated with these and other authors and political action in Ireland The classic texts that comprise the focal point for each chapter were selected by the contributors many of whom straddle the boundaries of academia and activism Each essay provides an account of the contributor's personal encounters with the text opens up the key mobilising ideas and considers how the text has the potential invigorate the political imagination of contemporary oppositional politics This book will be of interest to students in the social sciences especially sociology and Irish studies and will appeal to those interested or involved in political activism of any variety      Reception and the Classics William Brockliss, Pramit Chaudhuri, Ayelet Haimson Lushkov, Katherine Wasdin, 2011-12-08 This collection brings together leading experts in a number of fields of the humanities to offer a new perspective on the classical tradition Drawing on reception studies philology and early modern studies the essays explore the interaction between literary criticism and the multiple cultural contexts in which texts were produced discovered appropriated and translated The intersection of Realpolitik and textual criticism poetic and musical aesthetics and authority and self fashioning all come under scrutiny The canonical Latin writers and their subsequent reception form the backbone of the volume with a focus on the European Renaissance It thus marks a reconnection between classical and early modern studies and the concomitant rapprochement of philological and cultural historical approaches to texts and other works of art This book will be of interest to scholars in classics Renaissance studies comparative literature English Italian and art history which the arts culture and thought of Greece and Rome have been transmitted interpreted adapted and used A Companion to Classical Reception explores the impact of this phenomenon on both ancient and later societies Provides a comprehensive introduction and overview of classical reception the interpretation of classical art culture and thought in later centuries and the fastest growing area in classics Brings together 34 essays by an international group of contributors focused on ancient and modern reception concepts and practices Combines close readings of key receptions with wider contextualization and discussion Explores the impact of Greek and Roman culture worldwide including crucial new areas in Arabic literature South African drama the history of photography and contemporary ethics      The Status and Appraisal of Classic Texts Conal Condren,2014-07-14 Conal Condren examines the criteria for judging both works of political theory and texts associated with related academic genres He discusses the rhetoric surrounding terms like originality influence and coherence the value of these terms as criteria of textual assessment and their use in charting the history of texts Originally published in 1985 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905      Classical Enrichment Antony Augoustakis,Stavros Frangoulidis,Thea S. Thorsen,2024-11-04 This collection brings together twenty eight chapters written by Stephen Harrison s colleagues and former students from around the globe to celebrate both his distinguished teaching and research career as a classicist and his outstanding and admirable service to the international classical community The wide variety of original contributions on topics ranging from Greek to Latin and ancient literature s reception in opera and contemporary writing is divided into five parts Each corresponds to the staggering publication record of the honoree encompassing as it does a broad literary spectrum starting from the literature of the end of the Roman Republic and coming down to Neo Latin and the reception of Classics in Irish in English poetry and in European literature and culture in general This corpus of compelling chapters is hoped to match Stephen Harrison s rich research output in an illuminating dialogue with it      Classical Literature Richard Rutherford,2008-04-15 This accessible one volume survey of the literature of Greece and Rome covers the period between Homer around 700 BC and Augustine around AD 410 Highlights what is important historically and of continuing interest and value in classical literature An introduction by the editor presents essential information in a concise accessible way Each chapter focuses on a particular genre or area of literature This structure allows readers to see continuities between different periods and to move easily between the Greek and Roman worlds Includes extensive quotations in English A timeline and an index of authors help to make the material as accessible as possible      Teaching Literature to Adolescents Alan B. Howes,1972      A People's History of Classics Edith Hall,Henry Stead,2020-02-26 A People s History of Classics explores the influence of the classical past on the lives of working class people whose voices have been almost completely excluded from previous histories of classical scholarship and pedagogy in Britain and Ireland from the late 17th to the early 20th century This volume challenges the prevailing scholarly and public assumption that the intimate link between the exclusive intellectual culture of British elites and the study of the ancient Greeks and Romans and their languages meant that working class culture was a Classics Free Zone Making use of diverse sources of information both published and unpublished in archives museums and libraries across the United Kingdom and Ireland Hall and Stead examine the working class experience of classical culture from the Bill of Rights in 1689 to the outbreak of World War II They analyse a huge volume of data from individuals groups regions and activities in a huge range of sources including memoirs autobiographies Trade Union collections poetry factory archives artefacts and documents in regional museums This allows a deeper understanding not only of the many examples of interaction with the Classics but also what these cultural interactions signified to the working poor from the promise of social advancement to propaganda exploited by the elites to covert and overt class war A People's History of Classics offers a fascinating and insightful exploration of the many and varied engagements with Greece and Rome among the working classes in Britain and Ireland and is a must read not only for classicists but also for students of British and Irish social intellectual and political history in this period Further it brings new historical depth and perspectives to public debates around the future of classical education and should be read by anyone with an interest in educational policy in Britain today

Accenting the Classics Deborah Mawer, Barbara L. Kelly, Rachel Moore, Graham Sadler, 2023 Brings new insights to the music of well known European composers by telling a fascinating little known story about French music publishing specifically through the lens of Jacques Durand's edition Classique French composers performers and musicologists acted as editors of eighteenth and nineteenth century European classics primarily for piano Among these editors were Faur Saint Saëns Debussy Ravel and Dukas the objects of their enquiries included core works by Rameau Bach Mozart Beethoven Mendelssohn Schumann and Chopin Presenting six composer editor case studies the volume shows that the French accent both musical and cultural upon this predominantly Austro-German music was highly varied Editorial responses range from scholarly approaches to those directed by performance or compositional agendas and from pan-European to strongly patriotic stances Intriguing intersections are revealed between old and new and between French and cross-European canons Beyond editing the book explores the edition's role in pedagogy and performance including by pianists Robert Casadesu and Yvonne Loriod and in the reassertion of contemporary French composition especially regarding innovation around neoclassicism It will interest a wide readership including musicologists performers and concert goers cultural historians and other humanities scholars

one indication that as aesthetics begins to be reconceived which is starting to happen on many fronts it can play a more significant role both in philosophy and in religious reflection

Serialization, Commercialization and the Children's Classics Amy Webster, 2024-12-12 An exploration of the serialization of children's classics by contemporary publishers this book digs into the impact of the practice and provides new ways of reading the corpus of British children's literature from the 20th century Amy Webster demonstrates how publishers select texts for their series which texts they omit which outliers are sometimes included and how a core group of works from the golden age of children's literature emerged The text also examines how texts are abridged and transformed from publisher to publisher through close readings of The Wind in the Willows and Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and how the repackaging of works within a series highlight issues and choices tied to key paratextual elements Analysing data through distant reading and close reading of series from Ladybird Longman Puffin and Walker Illustrated editions this book sheds light on how modern classics series are marked by variation and instability but also a reductive homogeneity Through her use of quantitative and text focused research Webster reveals how commercial motivations have created a gulf between the canonical concepts of the classic and how the term functions as a marketing tool in British children's publishing With notions of what counts as a classic compromised and complicated this book leads the call for a critical approach towards both the term classic and to reading children's classics that acknowledges how they are tied to the commercial enterprises of the children's book business

Founders, Classics, Canons Peter R. Baehr, Three categories founders classics canons have been vitally important in helping to frame sociology's precarious identity defining the discipline's sense of its past and the implications for its current activity Today that identity is being challenged as never before Within the academy a number of positions feminist postmodernist poststructuralist postcolonial converge in questioning the status of the tradition These currents in turn reflect wider social questioning about the meaning and uses of knowledge in technologically advanced societies In Founders Classics Canons Peter Baehr scrutinizes the nature of this challenge He provides a model of the processes through which texts are elevated to classic status and defends the continuing importance of sociology's traditions for a university education in the social sciences The concept of classic is as Baehr notes a complex one Essentially it assumes a scale of judgment that deems certain texts as exemplary in eminence But what is the nature of this eminence Baehr analyzes various responses to this question Most notable are those that focus on the functions classics perform for the scholarly community that employs them the rhetorical force classics are said to possess and the processes of reception that result in classic status The concept of classic is often equated with two other notions founders and canon The former has a well established pedigree within the discipline but widespread usage of the latter in sociology is much more recent and polemical in tone Baehr offers arguments against these two ways of interpreting defending and attacking sociology's great texts and authors He demonstrates why in logical and historical terms discourses and traditions cannot actually be founded and why the term founder has little explanatory content Equally he takes issue with the notion of canon and argues that the analogy between the theological canon and sociological classic texts though seductive is mistaken. While questioning the uses to which the concepts of founder classic and canon have been put, Baehr's purpose is not dismissive. On the contrary, he seeks to understand the value and meaning they have for the people who employ them in the cultural battle to affirm or excoriate the liberal university tradition. In examining the tactics of this battle, this volume offers a model of how social theory can be critical rather than radical. Peter Baehr teaches in the department of politics and sociology, Lingnan University, Hong Kong. His previous book, Transaction: Caesar and the Fading of the Roman World, was designated an Outstanding Academic Book by Choice.
