Harper's Magazine , 1921      A Carpenter's Daughter Renny Christopher, 2009-01-01 A Carpenter s Daughter is the story of the difficulties and rewards of the educational system for one who was not meant to go through it The single most reliable predictor of whether someone will earn a BA is whether at least one of their parents has one yet today there are an increasing number of first generation college students A Carpenter's Daughter is both a memoir of the author's experiences growing up going to school and becoming an academic and a thoughtful commentary on the meaning of class in American culture By connecting her own story with ideas from scholarly works on class and identity Christopher shows how her individual experiences reflect common struggles that people of working class background face when their education profession income and lifestyles change This work reminds us forcefully that moving up isn't necessarily good and that changing one's class isn't as simple as going to class or even becoming the teacher of the class Sherry Linkon author of Teaching Working Class The work is stellar merging the tangled and complex webs of social mobility through education in ways that leave lots of loose ends dangling just the way it should No pretty bows adorning carefully wrapped packages here No straight and narrow trajectory toward a mainstream version of success Instead readers will be pulled along by nuanced narratives portraying the warped nature of society's construction of success and a careful crafting of the book in its entirety as a disjointed text presenting shards of a life that can never be visible in a tidied up tale Stephanie Jones University of Georgia

Going Home Again Howard Waldrop, 2014-10-28 The words inimitable and unique are bandied about too often in artistic circles so much so that critics seem to have forgotten those words were invented to describe Howard Waldrop's fiction Waldrop's mastery of arcane knowledge his transcendent wit and the way his stories explode like cheery bombs inside a reader's mind have all made Howard Waldrop one of the most beloved writers of the past two decades Readers who encounter his work never forget the experience and this new collection compiles nine such experiences heretofore uncollected including Flatfeet a madcap tour of this century's first decades courtesy of the Keystone Kops Ocean's Ducks an homage to those brave black actors of the 1930s Remember those Little Moron jokes in the schoolyard like Why did the Little Moron throw the clock out the window He wanted to see Time fly Now ask yourself again Why Did And beware the masked Mexican wrestlers of El Castillo de la Perseverancia Howard Waldrop's unique and inimitable talents are on full display here Read on marvel and rejoice
