The 95th (The Derbyshire) Regiment in Central India Sir Julius Raines,1900 Voices from the Kavango Kletus Likuwa,2020-07-27 Voices from the Kavango explores the contribution that the life histories and the voices of the contract labourers make to our understanding of the contract labour system in Namibia In particular it asks is it possible to view the migration of the Kavango labourers as a progressive step or does the paradigm of exploitation and suppression remain the dominant one The study highlights contract labourers engaging in a defeating activity and their disappointment with the little rewards which were non lasting solutions to their problems The realization of their entrapment under the contract system and the eventual frustrations led to the political mobilization for independence by SWAPO

Developmentalism, Dependency, and the State Christopher Hope, 2020-08-17 Why does Namibia s economy look the way it does today Was the reliance on raw materials for exports and on the service sector for employment an inevitability And for what reasons has the manufacturing sector the vehicle for economic development for many now high income countries throughout the 19th and 20th centuries seen its growth held back With these questions in mind this book offers an extensive analysis of industrial development and economic change in Namibia since 1900 exploring their causes trajectory vicissitudes context and politics Its focus is particularly on the motivations behind the economic decisions of the state arguing that power relations both internationally and domestically have held firm a status quo that has resisted efforts towards profound economic change This work is the first in depth economic study covering both the colonial and independence eras of Namibia s history and provides the first history of the country s manufacturing sector
