have a cuddly doll to hold I taught the little girls next door how to sew doll clothes a skill they can take into adulthood I hope I have written my childhood memories many times I still like to go back in time in my mind I can't get around as fast as I used to even if I walk often for exercise I can still read and pray and think of the dear friends I left behind that met in my home most Sundays for fellowship I always brought my sweet rolls to the potlucks we shared We had good visits and laughter I love remembering the ministers who I had in my home through the years What a privilege it was The spirit they showed by their life encouraged me in my faith I have had a good long life The sad times I can't forget and it makes me almost cry I will never forget when my baby died waking up and finding her cold Or the terrible time my son got run over and died There was much horror and sorrow when my daughter and her family were burned in a plane crash I lost my three grandchildren and dear Ginna was burned so badly It has been 30 years since my husband died suddenly Ruth lived with me for eight years but her heart gave out and she died LeRoy's body could no longer work because of the ravages of myotonic muscular dystrophy and he is gone Only three of my children left I can't face losing another one I still remember what my Grandpa told me He said whenever you are sad or have the blues just get busy and do nice things for others It will take your thoughts off of yourself I read books that take me to the places that I can only travel to in my mind Once while staying with my granddaughter I was so engrossed in a book and right when it got to a scary part she gave out a big sneeze and it made me jump Lesson One:

School Reform, Corporate Style Dorothy Shipp,2006 Like other big city school systems Chicago s has been repeatedly reformed over the last century Yet its schools have fallen far short of citizens expectations and left a gap between the performances of white and minority students Many blame the educational establishment for resisting change Other critics argue that reform occurs too often still others claim it comes not often enough Dorothy Shipp reappraises the tumultuous history of educational progress in Chicago revealing that the persistent lack of improvement is due not to the extent but rather the type of reform Throughout the twentieth century managerial reorganizations initiated by the business community repeatedly altered the governance structure of schools as well as the relationships of teachers to children and parents but brought little improvement while other more promising reform models were either resisted or crowded out Shipp chronicles how Chicago s corporate actors led abetted or restrained nearly every attempt to transform the city s school system then asks whether schools might be better reformed by others To show why city schools have failed urban children so badly she traces Chicago s reform history over four political eras revealing how corporate power was instrumental in designing and revamping the system Her narrative encompasses the formative era of 1880 1930 when teachers unions moderated business plans previously unexplored business activism from 1930 to 1980 when civil rights dominated school reform and the decentralization of the 1980s She also covers the uneasy cooperation among business associations in the 1990s to install the mayor as head of the school system a governing regime now challenged by privatization advocates Business people may be too wedded to a stunted view of educators to forge a productive partnership for change Unionized teachers bridle at the second class status accorded them by managers If reform is to reach deeply into classrooms Shipps concludes it might well require a new coalition of teachers unions and parents to create a fresh agenda that supersedes corporate interests This study clearly shows that in Chicago as elsewhere urban schooling is intertwined with politics and power By reviewing more than a century of corporate efforts to make education work Shipps makes a strong case that it s high time to look elsewhere perhaps to educators themselves for new leadership
