Sex and Evolution George Christopher Williams, 2020-03-31 This book explores the relationship between various types of reproduction and the evolutionary process Starting with the concept of meiosis George C Williams states the conditions under which an organism with both sexual and asexual reproductive capacities will employ each mode He argues that in low fecundity higher organisms sexual reproduction is generally maladaptive and persists because there is no ready means of developing an asexual alternative The book then considers the evolutionary development of diverse forms of sexuality such as anisogamy hermaphroditism and the evolution of differences between males and females in reproductive strategy The final two chapters examine the effect of genetic recombination on the evolutionary process itself

Fears and Hopes for European Urbanization T. Malmberg, M. Tvrdý, 2012-12-06 Urbanization is a process taking place in our society which is changing from a predominantly rural and agrarian society into a predominantly urban and industrial one This is a transformation which is not just taking place in certain areas it is not merely a concentration of houses and of people and of activities but what is perhaps much more important it is also a change in the way of life Although there are regional differences which exist within every nation and between the nations of Europe the process is a general one it is omnipresent Whether the country is rich or poor it still spends between 15% and 25% of all invested capital on the formation of physical assets housing for example It uses another 15% to 20% on various urban services roads utilities Including domestic power this means that everywhere about half of the investment resources available are spent on the process of urbanization Much more significant than this financial way of indicating the importance of urban society and of the urbanization process but much less clearly expressed in figures is the fact that it is in the cities that the great evolutions are taking place from the society of the present towards the society of the future The big cities and conurbations are the breeding grounds of technological innovation of new forms of organization of the creation of new activities of new social relations and of new forms of culture

Leks Jacob Höglund, Rauno V. Alatalo, 2014-07-14

The evolution of leks clusters of small territories where males congregate and display in order to attract mates is of central issue in behavioral ecology because of the insights it offers into female mate choice sexual selection and the evolution of mating systems In the first book on the subject Jacob Höglund and Rauno Alatalo draw together existing knowledge on two main aspects of lekking Why do

leks evolve in some species and not in others Why do females of certain lekking species select their mates even though such behavior reaps few or no material benefits for them In each case they emphasize the importance of understanding the selective forces that act on individuals in natural populations H glund and Alatalo synthesize the available information on lekking in all animal groups and suggest new areas of research Originally published in 1995 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
