Teaching EFL Learners Shadowing for Listening Yo Hamada, 2016-07-01 Shadowing an active and highly cognitive technique for EFL listening skill development in which learners track heard speech and vocalize it simultaneously is gradually becoming recognized However there remain a lot of mysteries and misunderstandings about it This book uncovers shadowing in terms of theory and practice This book cements shadowing as a separate technique from other similar techniques such as Elicited Imitation Mirroring and simple repetition and provides ample empirical data to explain the function of Shadowing It also elaborates on how Shadowing should be used in terms of materials procedure and learners psychology which would aid in instructors use of Shadowing in teaching A guide on a method effective in improving learners bottom up listening skills this book will certainly prove useful to English Language learners and instructors in their linguistic pursuits

English as a Lingua Franca: Perspectives and Prospects Marie-Luise Pitzl, Ruth Osimk-Teasdale, 2016-07-11 In the past 15 years English as a lingua franca ELF has evolved from a niche topic of a relatively small group of specialists to a highly productive research area that now has a firm place on the map of linguistics Looking back as well as forward this edited volume addresses perspectives and prospects of ELF in connection with other areas of linguistics It is the first volume that brings together ELF scholars with experts from a wide range of areas in linguistics such as corpus linguistics sociolinguistics historical linguistics language pedagogy language policy intercultural communication Adopting an inter transdisciplinary approach the book traces the impact that discussions about ELF have had or may have beyond the study of ELF as such for the conceptualization description methodology pedagogy and politics of English As the book combines external perspectives on ELF provided by well known scholars in diverse fields with a smaller number of internal perspectives provided by prominent ELF scholars it will be of interest not only to students and researchers interested in ELF but also to students and scholars in Applied Linguistics Sociolinguistics and Intercultural Communication

Fluency in Native and Nonnative English Speech Sandra Götz, 2013-03-20 This book takes a new and holistic approach to fluency in English speech and differentiates between productive perceptive and nonverbal fluency The in depth corpus based description of productive fluency points out major differences of how fluency is established in native and nonnative speech. It also reveals areas in which even highly advanced learners of English still deviate strongly from the native target norm and in which they have already approximated to it. Based on these findings, selected learners are subjected to native speakers' ratings of seven perceptive fluency variables in order to test which variables are most responsible for a perception of oral proficiency on the sides of the listeners. Finally, language pedagogical implications derived from these findings for the improvement of fluency in learner language are presented. This book is conceptually and methodologically relevant for corpus linguistics, learner corpus research and foreign language teaching and learning.

English in the Netherlands Alison Edwards, 2016-03-18. This volume provides the first comprehensive investigation of the Netherlands in the World Englishes paradigm. It explores the history of English contact, the present spread of English and attitudes towards English in the Netherlands. It describes the development and analysis of the Corpus of Dutch English, the first Expanding Circle corpus based on the design of the International Corpus of English. In addition, it investigates the applicability of Schneider's 2003 2007 Dynamic Model, concluding that this and other such models need to move away from a colonisation-driven approach and towards a globalisation-driven one to explain the continued spread and evolution of English today. The volume will be highly relevant to researchers interested in the status and use of English in the Netherlands. More broadly, it provides a timely contribution to the debate on the relevance of the World Englishes framework for non-native, non-postcolonial settings such as Continental Europe.

Studying Second Language Acquisition from a Qualitative Perspective Danuta Gabryś-Barker, Adam Wojtaszek, 2014-09-18. This book presents a selection of empirical papers dealing with second and multiple language acquisition in which qualitative research methodology is employed. Each of the studies reported in individual chapters is based on a solid theoretical background and an overview of studies in a given area. Although the main focus is on qualitative methods, some of the papers demonstrate the complementarity of quantitative and qualitative approaches in studying language acquisition.
