Staging the Promises Deana Jovanović, 2025-01-15 Staging the Promises reveals how inhabitants of Bor a Serbian copper processing and mining town that lived through prosperous Yugoslav times and a post socialist decline were the audience theatrically performed promises of aspirational futures Deana Jovanović chronicles the efforts of the copper processing company and the town's authorities to theatrically perform promises of better economic urban environmental infrastructural and post industrial futures Her book asks What impact did the staging of promises have on the residents What temporal material and political effects did these performances generate How did they shape the citizens futures and their present Jovanović offers many ethnographic examples of ambivalence in people's orientation to their futures while residents balanced hope with despair disillusionment and dismay Staging the Promises highlights how the performances shaped the present and how in a Gramscian twist they sustained hope alongside power dynamics that residents often criticized Staging the Promises assesses the performative ways through which contemporary capitalist futures are remade For Jovanović Bor represents a site that reflects a current global trend staging the promises of enhanced futures today play a significant role in contemporary populist politics Through them she argues distant futures become gradually withdrawn from people's horizons

Intercultural Variation in Family Research and Theory Roma S Hanks, Marvin B Sussman, 2014-05-12 Intercultural Variation in Family Research and Theory sets forth 23 critical reviews in a 2 volume set that document the development of family research and theory in various societies around the world Focusing on modern research while drawing on the historical roots of theoretical and methodological approaches employed in the study of family this collection not only increases your knowledge about the status of family research in various countries but also inspires cross national research among researchers and scholars The societies being studied have been grouped by region Volume I contains the set's Introduction and contributions from the Far East the Baltic region Australia and South Africa Volume II covers the Middle East Western Europe Scandinavia and also includes the Index The materials in these two volumes are the result of the charge given to scholars of 23 societies to review the development of family theory and research in their homelands Their obligation was to provide an analytic report telling a story from their perspective of reality The book's editors now present some of the commonality of experiences and trends of the researchers and interpret country differences and similarities from their writings Intercultural Variation in Family Research and Theory holds numerous suggestions for your investigations into the family field You'll find that the set adds to the body of knowledge on comparative family analysis and raises concerns and issues for future research The questions addressed in this book include how gender of the investigator influences choice of research topics how funding sources shape the research agenda what influence a researcher's career trajectory has on research topics methods and procedures why psychological and sociological frameworks and methodologies are commonly used in family research how political policy influences and dictates theory development and research what to do about the multitude of new questions that inevitably arise from such intercultural research     The Risk of War Vasiliki P. Neofotistos, 2012-03-14 The Risk of War focuses on practices and performances of everyday life across ethnonational borders during the six month armed conflict in 2001 between Macedonian government forces and the Albanian National Liberation Army NLA a conflict initiated by the NLA with the proclaimed purpose of securing greater rights for the Albanian community in Macedonia and terminated by the internationally brokered Ohrid Framework Agreement Anthropologist Vasiliki P. Neofotistos provides an ethnographic account of the ways middle and working class Albanian and Macedonian noncombatants in Macedonia's capital city Skopje went about their daily lives during the conflict when fear and uncertainty regarding their existence and the viability of the state were intense and widespread Neofotistos finds that rather than passively observing the international community's efforts to manage the political crisis members of the Macedonian and Albanian communities responded with resilience and wit to disruptive and threatening changes in social structure intensely negotiated relationships of power and promoted indeterminacy on the level of the everyday as a sense of impending war enfolded the capital More broadly The Risk of War helps us better understand how postindependence Macedonia has managed to escape civil bloodshed despite high political volatility acute ethno nationalist rivalries and unrelenting external pressures exerted by neighboring countries
